PAYROLL 'JUGGLING' ADMITTED

Repeal Demand Growing in G.O.P.

Today

Cheerful Tombstones. Coolidge On Those Debts. Money Irrigation. Socialists Try Banking.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

IN THAT DISMAL canyon called Wall street stocks fell again yesterday. United States Steel to a new low price, 24.

The neat little white gravestones scattered around Trinity Church, that looks down Wall street, were the most cheerful things in that neighborhood. With green grass and flowers around them, and the beautiful windows of the church in the background they looked quite cheerful, as who should say:

"We were not alive in 1929, we are not long or short of anything, and we are so happy."

IN THEIR surviving limousines, brokers go home through South street and the fish market along the edge of the East River. Passing the James Slip Gospel Mission they read one sign, "Make sure your sin will find you out," and another sign, even bigger, "Where will you spend eternity?"

Some are wondering where they will spend next year.

READ CALVIN COOLIDGE'S article "Settling the War Debts" published in the July number of COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE.

The picture, Coolidge photograph, published with his article looks exactly as the article sounds, the quintessence of fair, cold, concentrated, New England common sense.

When England signed the agreement to pay what she owed that was, Mr. Coolidge says:

"A recommitment of the English-speaking world to the validity of the contract."

REMINDING YOU that this country, which took Europe's notes payable on demand at 5 per cent interest, now gives Europe 62 years in which to pay at a low rate of interest, Calvin Coolidge opines that if this country in three years could send $10,000,000,000 to European friends, they should be able to return half that amount in 62 years.

Those inclined to be sentimental about Europe's debts to us should read Calvin Coolidge's article.

IF ANYTHING breaks loose in this country which kind Heaven forbid, gentlemen whose motto is "billions for high finance, but not a dollar for soldiers," may do some mournful regretting.

Since it is not possible to supply the men with jobs, with the national intelligence temporarily paralyzed, how can anybody deny that the next best thing would be to give the soldiers their bonus, which will have to be paid to them anyhow? What the country needs is not money in hundreds of millions put away in bank vaults, but money scattered all over the country as water is scattered in irrigating a ranch. The country needs money that will be SPENT, not accumulated.

ANYWAY, IS it necessary for the government first to sell bonds to bankers, pay interest on the bonds, then take the money and give it to the soldiers? Why not print the money and give it to them direct? The only value that the money has is the name of the government on the bills.

Only a fool would talk about inflation, since this money would be spent in every corner of every state in the Union, absorbed like water applied to the roots of trees, grass and bushes, spent in retail stores everywhere.

WE NEED to start business moving.

Would not the spending of $2,000,000,000 by 3,000,000 men, all over the country, start everything moving? Wouldn't they buy shoes, hats and overcoats, pay their bills at grocery stores, pay something on account to keep from losing their homes, wouldn't they order many new automobiles?

This country is starving for money spent, just as a farm with no rainfall starves for water. But foolish minds that represent Uncle Sam think the way to end a drought is to put water in reservoirs, and keep it there. They are wrong. The way to attend to a drought is to scatter water.

THE WAY TO ATTEND TO A DEPRESSION IS TO SCATTER MONEY. We recently found a couple of billions of it for financial institutions, and, as Mr. Coolidge points out, we found ten billions of it quickly for foreign countries. Why would it wreck this country if now we found two billion, four hundred million for the soldiers to whom that money must be paid eventually anyhow?

CHILE'S SOCIALISTS have taken over the Central Bank of Santiago, established according to plans by Prof. Kemmerer, of Princeton University. The Socialists dismissed the board of directors, and took charge of the bank themselves. You may well exclaim, "OY!"

Then they ordered taxes suspended in rural regions and instructed all school teachers to "direct education toward Socialism, in order to form a public conscience."

HERE AT HOME, Bernarr Macfadden, who owns an evening newspaper, and feels that union wages are too high, gives his workers a chance to buy the paper by cutting their wages 25 per cent and having them take stock in the paper to the amount of the 25 per cent cut. In 12 years, this will give the workers control of the stock and the paper, with the right to do exactly as they please with it.

That experiment will be as interesting as the experiment in

ROADHOUSE REPAIRED BY COUNTY, QUIZ TOLD

Highways Clerk Admits Use Of Salary Account for Purchase of Materials

Today's developments in the county probe:

County labor was used to repair a roadhouse near Bridgeville which was subsequently raided by prohibition agents, a witness related.

Three county road employes admitted receiving extra pay, but said the excess was used to pay bills for materials, an established custom.

The taxpayers footed the bill for repairing and painting a roadhouse in Morgan, near Bridgeville, which shortly afterward was raided by prohibition agents, a witness before the county investigators declared today.

He related that county laborers and materials were used in destroying weeds, improving the lawn, cleaning and papering the rooms and painting the building, which he said was owned by a man named Donnelli and several partners.

OLD STRUCTURE

An inspection of the property showed it to be an old brick structure, with no grass in the yard, and no outward indication of extensive repairs.

Another witness said he worked several days grading and soding the property of Dan Houlahen, of West Etna, former superintendent of Division No. 3, County Road Department, and brother of former county commissioner James Houlahen. He also helped erect a stone wall on the private property of a relative of Dan Houlahen, at Undercliff, whose name he did not know, he said.

Other statements made by witnesses, present or former county

3 DEAD, 5 HURT IN TRUCK DASH

JOHNSTOWN, June 10.—Three men were killed and five persons injured when a heavy truck plunged down steep Frankstown road, crashed through a meat market and a barber shop and against two houses today.

The gas tank exploded as the truck crashed into the homes of John Hemmerie and Clyde Cuppett.

Michael Hudak, 63, of Johnstown, who was walking along the road, was crushed beneath the truck. He died a few hours later in Memorial Hospital.

Harry Kessler, 57, proprietor of the Kessler Transfer Company, of Philadelphia, and the truck driver, Norman Ballard, 22, Negro, of Philadelphia, also were killed.

As it hurtled from the road, the truck crashed through Weisher's meat market and the Becker barber shop.

John Hemmerle and his mother were eating breakfast, and four Hemmerle children were in bed when the truck plowed into the house.

The injured, clad in night clothes, were rescued by firemen. Besides occupants of the Hemmerle home, Margaret Maschgat, 22, was carried from the debris.

Stevens Carrying Invitation to Wales

WARSAW, N. C., June 10.—(AP.)—Henry L. Stevens, Jr., commander of the American Legion, left his home here for New York today and will sail for England tomorrow to invite the Prince of Wales to attend the Legion's convention at Portland, Ore.

Sarazen British Champ

GENE SARAZEN

Gene Breaks Record In Overseas Golf Test With 283

SANDWICH, England, June 10.—(AP.)—Gene Sarazen, long-hitting American golf star, today won the British Open golf championship with a record score of 283 to carry on an American golfing sweep in the event unbroken since 1923.

The 1922 American Open champion scored his 283, two strokes under Bobby Jones' winning total of 1927, early in the afternoon and then watched those who had a chance to catch him, fade away under the pressure of having to shoot sub-par golf.

Sarazen has been well up in the British Open field for several years, finishing second to Walter Hagen in 1928 at the neighboring Royal St. George's course for his best effort up to today.

HAVERS UNEQUAL TO TASK

It was the eleventh American victory in 12 successive years of the blue ribbon event of golf, the only break being Arthur Havers' victory in 1923, when Hagen finished second.

It was Havers who was the threat to Sarazen as he shot a 68 on his third round to pull up within four strokes of the flying American. The British pro faltered on his final nine, however, made the turn in 37 to lose two more strokes to Gene and when he started home 4-4-4-5 his last chance was gone. He finished with a 76 and a 72-hole total of 289, leaving MacDonald Smith,

Foil Bomb Plot Aimed at Machado

HAVANA, June 10.—(AP.)—Just a few minutes before President Machado passed in his automobile today, police discovered a considerable quantity of dynamite at the corner of Miramar and Tercera streets, wired to be exploded from a distance of 500 yards.

They arrested three men, one of them the son of Senora Mariana Delatorre, a prominent feminist member of the political opposition.

SENATE BEGINS DEBATE UPON RELIEF BILL

Both Parties Pledge Aid To Wagner Measure Giving $300,000,000 to Aid Needy

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—With both administration leaders and Democrats pledging support, the Senate today took up the $300,000,000 Wagner bill for relief of hunger and distress throughout the country.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, Republican floor leader, announced he had no objection when request for unanimous consent to consider the bill was made by Senator Wagner (Dem.), of New York, its sponsor.

The bill would appropriate $300,000,000 for five-year loans to states through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The loans would be made solely for relief of distress upon certification by the governor that his state had exhausted its own funds.

REPAYMENT PROVIDED

Repayment of the loans would commence in 1935. If the state failed to meet its obligation, the money would be deducted from federal road grants.

Senator Wagner declared:

"I take it there is no need for further debate on this bill. At the time the LaFollette-Costigan bill was before the Senate, lengthy debate was had. Since then conditions have become even more tragic and serious. Those who opposed federal aid for the hungry and distressed are now convinced that the federal government should assume its share of the burden."

Wagner explained he will add an amendment to the bill authorizing the R. F. C. to issue $300,-

PHILA. BANDITS GET $200,000

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—(INS.)—More than $200,000 in securities and bonds was stolen from the Girard Trust Company by a daring telephone ruse this afternoon.

The certificates were snatched from a desk from which, a few seconds previously, a clerk had been summoned by a fake telephone message.

The bonds had just been delivered by messenger from the Pennsylvania Company, for insurance on lives and granting annuities.

Detectives, summoned to the bank, said the robbery bore all the earmarks of the job of a New York gang which has systematically mulcted metropolitan financial houses of more than $1,000,000 in the past year.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(INS.)—Bandits today entered a branch of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank, ordered the employes and about a half dozen customers to the floor, and scooped up $30,000 in the teller's cage.

Capone, Gang Face Dry Attack

CHICAGO, June 10.—(INS.)—The federal government is planning a new blow at Al Capone, imprisoned gang chief, and 80 members of his underworld organization.

New indictments charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws will be sought within five or six weeks against "Scarface Al" and virtually all of his important henchmen, it was learned today.

Mussolini, Amelia Discuss Her Flight

ROME, June 10.—(AP.)—Amelia Earhart Putnam told Premier Mussolini about her flight across the Atlantic today. She said he was "very gracious."

Coughlin Food Fund Barring Communism, Police Herd Radicals Away From Camp

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP.)—Police moved today to segregate all Communists from the bonus marchers' army whose treasury was swelled by a contribution of $5,000.

Separation of the Communists from more conservative elements in the regular encampments was designed to protect the radicals from possible bodily harm. Last night between 150 and 200 outspoken radicals were driven from the Anacostia Flats Camp and were saved from bodily harm only by timely arrival of police.

An offer to coneribute $5,000 to the veterans' food fund on the condition that all inflammatory propaganda be kept out of the camps was accepted today by the police. The sum was offered by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Detroit leader of the Radio League of the Little Flower.

SEEK NEW QUARTERS

Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, who will administer the fund, said that the Communists who could produce discharge certificates would be treated equally with other veterans. He said that for "purposes of law and order" they would be kept out of reach of the anti-Communist majority.

Anticipating an order from Dr. William C. Fowler, District of Columbia health officer, closing the Anacostia Flats camp to prevent an outbreak of disease, Glassford sought new billets for the groups.

Representative Connery (Dem.), of Massachusetts, told newspapermen today that James K. McClintock, vice chairman of the Red Cross, had advised him that if any local charity makes the request government wheat will be provided for feeding the bonus marchers.

COX PRESENTS PLEA

Representative Rainey, House Democratic leader, today blocked an effort to obtain an immediate vote on the Patman bill to cash veterans' compensation certificates.

Just after the House met, Representative Andrews (Rep.), of New York, asked unanimous consent for consideration of the measure. The Illinois Democrat objected. Unless unanimous consent is obtained before then, the House, on Monday, will decide whether to give formal consideration to the Patman bill.

The veterans yesterday, through Father James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, and a committee, left petitions for payment of the bonus with President Hoover, Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner. Curtis was the only one of the three they saw, but their plea was read in both chambers of Congress and was inserted in today's Congressional Record.

THE PROBLEM

THE housing committee of Community Councils here states: "Eviction is not only degrading and demoralizing to the families involved, but is demoralizing to the neigborhoods in which evicition occurs."

THE REMEDY

A $5,000,000,000 bond issue by the United States to build great public works, employ several million men, start the nation back to prosperity.

Fewer Congressmen, Less Waste in Mail, Urged by Mr. Hearst

The following correspondence between William Randolph Hearst and Clarence R. Lindner, of the San Francisco Examiner, is reprinted from the Examiner of June 10:

SAN SIMEON, Cal., June 4, 1932.

Mr. Clarence R. Lindner,
General Manager, The Examiner,
San Francisco, Calif.

My Dear Mr. Lindner:

I HAVE YOUR TELEGRAM. I agree with you. I think that in the interest of economy the loading up of the mails with thousands of pounds of congressional printed matter and padded Congressional Record promotion and all waste of that kind with which Congress extravagantly pampers itself, should be eliminated.

I think too that we should save money in actual congressmen. There is no greater waste of public money than hiring incompetent congressmen with it.

There should be fewer and better congressmen.

One congressman to every 500,000 inhabitants is enough.

THIS PROPORTION would have many advantages. It would not only save the people's money, but it would reduce the number of irresponsibles in the House of Representatives.

It would make the congressmen who were sent to Washington of more importance and of more consequence. Each one would represent a larger district and a district with more varied interests. Therefore he would probably not be so narrow in his views.

Furthermore, the greater importance of the district, resulting in the greater importance of the position of congressman, would lead a better class of people to contest for the position, and Heaven knows we need a better class.

On the whole the advantage would be great and a resolution to secure this benefit of fewer and better congressmen should be introduced promptly into Congress by some congressman who thinks more of his country than he does of petty politics.

A THIRD improvement, though perhaps not an economy, would be to allow the populous states more senators. Still we need not deprive the less populous states—even the least populous ones—of their present representation of two senators.

The advantage of this modification of the Constitution would be greater representation in the Senate from the more important states,—from states which are more important not merely in population but in industry and in both producing and consuming power.

This would give the country a better balanced representation in the Senate. It would bring more intelligence to the support of the legitimate business of the country, and this is a business country.

It would diminish the proportion and relative influence of the Populists and the Communists and would prevent them from destroying the prosperity of the country by visionary and ill-considered schemes based on ignorance of business conditions and of the industrial, financial and commercial development which creates prosperity,—and which in consequence largely creates, or at least extends the consumption of the products of the farms and the mines.

NARROW AND prejudiced views in Congress, vicious and vindictive measures tend to injure the welfare of the whole country, and so of course to injure, indirectly and directly too, the best interests of the very farming states which some of these visionary radicals represent.

The government of this country should be built on true democracy and not on the principles of either plutocracy or populism.

The one thing to be avoided is the division of our country into narrow Communistic groups, on

DELEGATES OPPOSED TO 'STRADDLE'

Hoover Aides Rebuffed in Pleas for Resubmission Plank; Dry States Bolt

BULLETIN.

CHICAGO, June 10.—(INS.)—A Republican prohibition plank, understood to have been personally approved by President Hoover, was privately circulated among Republican leaders here today by administration leaders, and found little favor among them.

After stating in the preamble that the party is staunchly for enforcement of existing law and declaring against any return of the saloon, by whatever method, the proposed plank concludes with this sentence:

"WE FAVOR THE PROMPT SUBMISSION BY CONGRESS OF THIS QUESTION TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATES."

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Demand for a clear-cut repeal plank in the Republican national platform attained snowball momentum today as incoming delegates swelled the rising tide of revolt against prohibition.

A fortnight ago it was debatable whether the administration would approve, or the convention next week adopt a tepid resubmission plank. Today it is debatable whether the convention next week will be satisfied with anything less than a straight-out repeal plank irrespective of the administration's wishes.

INDIANA REBELS

Indiana Republicans went anti-dry with a bang yesterday, and few things could have made a greater impression upon the Republican leaders gathering here for next week's show. Not only has Indiana been dry since 1916, but it still has on its statute books the most drastic of all state enforcement laws. The fact that the Indiana convention yesterday would not be satisfied with any equivocal submission plank, but adopted a straight-out repeal plank, coupled with a recommendation for repeal of the fanatical Wright act, made a deep impression upon the national leaders gathering in Chicago.

By formal party action, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are now added to the anti-dry Republican states of the East in a demand

City Pool Openings Delayed

Unexpected coolness of the weather today resulted in the city postponing opening of its swimming pools, scheduled for Monday.

Director of Public Safety James M. Clark announced this afternoon that the pools would not be put in use until Monday, June 20.

He also delayed appointment of 15 life guards for the river pools until he returns from the Republican convention at Chicago, for which he leaves tomorrow. He said he expected to be back by a week from tomorrow.

MAYOR CURLEY URGES CONGRESS PASS PROSPERITY LOAN

ASSERTS OTHER RELIEF PLANS FUTILE

Bostonian Cites Revolt Talk, Vet Bonus March in Plea For 5 Billion Work Bonds

By KENNETH CLARK
Universal Service

WASHINGTON, June 10—Congress should stay in session until it authorizes the $5,000,000,000 federal prosperity loan for public works, Mayor James M. Curley of Boston declared today.

The plan, the mayor declared, is the best yet devised to revive business and end unemployment. He has the overwhelming support of the American people, Mayor Curley said in an interview with Universal Service.

Public works would open doors to war veterans, thousands of whom, in desperate straits, have trooped to Washington in the bonus army to demand assistance from Congress.

CITES VETS' DEMANDS

Speaking of the veterans, Curley declared:

"When you find sane and intelligent men discussing revolt and considering it in the National Capital, it is time the government acted. The sooner the government acts, the better for the country—and the action must come quickly.

"If the government doesn't do something for the boys who are here, Congress will have starving women and children here at the next session."

All other relief programs pending in Congress are mere drops in the bucket, and be added, real, permanent improvement can be speeded only if Congress courageously launches a colossal building program extending throughout the land.

Curley had no patience with the oft-expressed Washington fears about depressing the bond market or with the specter of America being forced off the gold standard if the government floated a loan to put people to work.

SCORES BANKERS' FEARS

He said:

"We seem to be obsessed with the fear of going off the gold standard.

"There is something far more important today than the gold standard.

"It is the American people. We must no longer tolerate misery and suffering because millions of our people, though begging for work, can't find jobs."

Curley said the effect of the bond issue would be just the opposite of the result so frequently pictured in high places in the administration in Congress and in financial circles.

Business wouldn't be further depressed, for the construction work would give business to business and that, Curley said, is what the country needs.

URGES JOB LOAN

He said:

"In this emergency, the federal government must set the example on a colossal scale and fire the imagination of the people. It must convince the people that prosperity has not forsaken us. It must provide work. That's the only way the psychology of fear can be banished.

"The $5,000,000,000 prosperity loan would enable the government to undertake major building projects all over the country. Commerce, industry, business would respond at once. People now idle would go back to work.

"There would be a great demand for materials—steel, lumber, machinery, all the basic commodities. Factories would reopen to turn out these materials.

"Starting up the wheels of industry would stimulate trade for retail and wholesale establishments.

"It is inconceivable that Congress could adjourn without providing this essential relief."

Curley was here for two days with the delegation of mayors which urged Congress and President Hoover to approve the prosperity loan.

Irresistible demands from the people may force Congress to pass the prosperity loan, he said, explaining:

"The reason is obvious. The solution of our present trouble is work and wages."

DIGGIN' FOR 'PAY DIRT' -:- -:- By Quin Hall

PAY 'JUGGLING' ADMITTED

employes mostly in the road department included.

The counts kept a laborer constantly at the home of W. H. Zorfel, former chief clerk to the Commissioners, to take care of the lawn and garden. Mt. Lebanon Township was given 10 truckloads of a composition of crushed stone and tar to repair township roads; county employes spent two weeks putting in a tennis court at Johnson School, South Hills, from 30 to 50 county men were used repairing the main street of Neville Island.

GASOLINE TAKEN

One witness, a caretaker and former road foreman, admitted he had taken gasoline for his own car from the county truck despite the fact that he had an expense account of $1 a day.

Two county laborers told of receiving extra pay, but said the excess was used to pay bills a common practice, they said.

While some of the alleged payroll irregularities occurred about the time the county was engaged in improvements for unemployment relief, no evidence has developed up to this time that such relief funds were misused, according to Assistant County Solicitor Ralph H. Frank and investigator Leo Riordan, who are conducting the probe for the present County Commissioners.

William Kauffeld of 244 South Highland avenue, Oakdale, divisional chief clerk in the county highways department, accused of payroll juggling in the investigation of graft in the department today told a newspaperman he used payroll money for extra materials and supplies.

Declaring that buckets and ropes were needed, Kauffeld told of juggling pay checks so that the material could be purchased immediately without the necessity of waiting several weeks until they could be supplied by department headquarters.

COUNTY MATERIAL USED

Kauffeld told an interviewer county material and labor was used in completion of a garage in the rear of his home. He said:

"I added to pay checks to obtain money to buy extra materials needed on the particular job we were doing. Often we ran out of buckets and rope and lumber and other supplies. It would take too long to get the material through headquarters.

"I was doing nothing new in adding to the payrolls. We always did that to take care of extra bills that occurred on the job. When a man received too much money on payday, I told him either to pay bills with the extra money, or to give it to me and I paid the bills.

"I admit, too, that I used county laborers to build my garage, although I bought the lumber that the garage is made of. The four concrete blocks the garage sits on were taken from the county supplies at the Carnegie warehouse.

FOLLOWED 'CUSTOM'

"I'm not trying to hide anything, because I never tried to cheat anybody. Everything I did was along lines that had always been followed in the department. The superintendent O. K.'d all payrolls and all purchases and I never tried to pull anything on him.

"There never was any attempt to collect money from men for getting them jobs, nor were there any 'strangers' paid in our division. Mr. Cooper (the superintendent) never played politics and he wouldn't stand for anything like that."

Arthur Reeves, of 109 Fifth avenue, Carnegie, and Joseph Vogel, of 410 Chartiers avenue, Carnegie, named in the investigation as having received $40 more than they should have on one occasion, admitted receiving more than they had coming, but said it was never more than $10 or $20.

Vogel said:

"I received extra money in my pay check several times. Reeves and I worked together and often when material had to be bought in a hurry, we bought it and it was paid for out of extra money we got on payday.

"I never paid any bills myself. I always turned the extra money over to Kauffeld."

Women, Children Hurt in Rush From Bus

Had a dozen women and children been nursing bruises today as a result of crowding from a bus last night on Evergreen road when a short circuited wire flashed and smoked.

The driver said driver Thomas A. Johnston had stopped the bus when the lights went out. As the wiring began to emit sparks, a number of the occupants made hurried exits and at least one mother, it was reported, lowered a child through an open window.

The bus was en route from a kindergarten picnic in Schenley Park to the Troy Hill district.

DeValera Leaves, Oath Parley Fails

LONDON, June 10.—(AP.)—An official announcement at No. 10 Downing street this evening said there had been no agreement at the conference between representatives of the governments of Great Britain and the Irish Free State.

President DeValera and the three members of his cabinet who came here with him from Dublin left for home.

SHELL LINKED TO KILLING OF DONOHOE

State Trooper Identifies One Taken From Pistol Taken From Monongahela

By AL GOUGH
Staff Correspondent

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 10.—The state scored today in the trial of R. C. Bledsoe and Cosmo Stengoni for the murder of Constable Jack Donohoe, when State Trooper David Drenning identified a cartridge taken from the Monongahela River as being similar in make and date to empty shells found in Donohoe's car the night he was murdered, and to cartridges found in the home of Helen Hess.

The corroded cartridge had been removed from the magazine of a rust-encrusted .45-caliber automatic pistol fished from the river at Nemacolin Ferry on April 7 last after Fayette County Detective Tony Bell had declared in his confession that Bledsoe had thrown the revolver in the river.

EXPERT TO TESTIFY

Drenning was called today to pave the way for testimony by the state's ballistic expert later today.

A paper sack of gravel may play an important role for the defense in the trial of R. C. Bledsoe and Cosmo Stengoni, charged with the murder of Constable John F. Donohoe, it was indicated in cross-examination of state witnesses here today.

The gravel was taken from the cuffs of Donohoe's trousers and his shoes. Placed in a paper sack, according to John Fenton, undertaker, it was turned over to one of the police.

GRAVEL MISSING

Former County Detective A. A. Downing denies ever having seen it. Corp. J. R. Dodson, of the state police, testified it was not given to him. The whereabouts of the sack are still unknown.

Chief Defense Counsel E. J. McDaniel, in cross-examination, stressed the importance of the gravel, his contention being that if Donohoe were slain at the spot where his body was found and under the circumstances detailed in Anthony W. (Tony) Bell's confession, upon which the state pins its hopes for a conviction, there could have been no gravel in his shoes and cuffs.

Anthony W. (Tony) Bell, former county detective, and confessed participant in the gangster killing of Donohoe, will be called upon to relate once again his strange confession to the jury of eight men and four women today. It is upon his story that the state pins its hopes for a conviction.

Editorial Demands Smith for President

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP.)—Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, announced that all Scripps-Howard newspapers were publishing today an editorial entitled "Give Us Smith," in favor of Alfred E. Smith for president.

The editorial describes Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt as "another Hoover" and expresses the opinion that Roosevelt and Hoover "possess in common one dominating trait—faced in a pinch with political consequences, they yield."

Sharpsburg Robbers Get $200 in Store

While his confederate engaged John J. Murray, one of the proprietors of the Murray Furniture Company, 1024 North Canal street, Sharpsburg, in conversation today a robber rifled the cash register of $200, police were informed. The two disappeared.

DENIES WIFE'S DEBTS

MR. AND MRS. GILBERT W. KAHN

Following his younger brother, Roger's example, Gilbert W. Kahn, elder son of Otto Kahn, through newspapers advertisements disclaimed debts of the former Ann Whelan, cigar store heiress. They have one child. A few weeks ago Roger advertised against Hannah Williams Kahn. This is an International News picture.

DRY ATTACKED DOWNTOWN

A prohibition agent was punched on the jaw by a man who attacked him outside the Postoffice Building today.

The agent, B. F. Jackson, Negro, was on his way to Federal Court when two men approached him. One said:

"You 'got' a friend of mine on the South Side. What can you do for him?"

As Jackson replied he could do nothing, the second man struck him. Jackson grabbed him. The other man escaped in the downtown crowd.

Federal officers said the assailant was Wasyl Soroczak, 40. He said he lived in Michigan street, Mt. Washington. Government authorities said he would be charged with interfering with a government officer.

2,000 Unemployed Riot in Britain

BRISTOL, England, June 10. (INS.)—Rioting by 2,000 unemployed men and women appeared to be under police control today. Sixty persons were injured.

The demonstration began last night when a mob rushed upon St. Peter's Hospital, headquarters for the local relief committee, which had refused to give an audience to a deputation from the unemployed. Police then charged, on horse and afoot.

SENATE BEGINS RELIEF DEBATE

OPPOSE RED TAPE

When the question of whether the certification of the Governor was sufficient to issue to loan or whether a government official should pass on the Governor's certified request was raised by Senator Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, said:

"The Governor of a state is in a better position to know the needs of his state than some government official in Washington. It would result in almost endless investigation on the part of some special body in Washington."

Wagner warned:

"We have got to leave this question of distributing the relief money to the governors or else set up a bureau here in Washington, with all its red tape and bureaucracy, to pass upon the needs of the various localities."

AID FOR PENNA.

Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, raised the question of how states which had reached the maximum of indebtedness under their constitution could borrow money. He said:

"Take the position of Pennsylvania, where the constitution forbids the state from borrowing money unless two Legislatures approve it and the people have voted on it. Pennsylvania is typical of a dozen states."

Wagner replied:

"In such cases the money is not considered a loan, but an advance. The federal government assumes the responsibility and if the state fails to find a method of considering it as a loan between now and 1935, the government then deducts the money from the federal road grant."

Coxey Describes Plan for Relief

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP.)—Jacob S. Coxey, mayor of Massillon, O., unfolded to the House Banking Committee today a $25,000,000,000 plan for relief.

It would authorize states and municipalities to issue non-interest bearing bonds to this total, deposit them with the Treasury for an equal amount of cash and spend the money on all kinds of improvements to give employment.

GIBBONS FINDS PARTY PLANS UPSET

Headline Hunter Predicts Anything May Happen at Either Chicago Convention

By FLOYD GIBBONS
International News Service.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Hello, everybody!

Hop on board, boys and girls. We're off for that $350,000 pair of conventions in Chicago.

Well, that's a pretty cheap price tag to hang on them. But what I mean is that $350,000 is the initial cost. Not the upkeep.

You see the Republicans asked Chicago for $150,000 just to pitch their tent there. Democrats had a bigger deficit and thinking their show would be bigger and better asked $200,000.

Now it's up to Chicago to get the $350,000 back.

BIG NEWS POPPING

There's been big news popping lately. And out there on the lake front it will all simmer and then boil over and the broth ought to be the spiciest you ever tasted.

Of course, your Uncle Tom's prediction that the Republican convention will be short might come true. It may be short. It may break a record for brevity. But by history, it won't be both short and sweet.

And the Democratic pow-wow, well, everybody expects it to break the 1924 distance record. But time isn't going to be the main element in that either. There won't be much fun there—except to look at.

I did a little circulating down in Washington a few days ago. Mixed up with some of the boys who are supposed to rig up those conventions in advance.

Well, sir, I never did see so many Democrats and Republicans dreading presidential convention-time. Republicans admit they don't expect any surprises in candidates. That's just the trouble. They aren't at all sure whether the bosses carrying their money—they call them Herb and Charlie—can run as fast as they did in the derby four years ago.

Democrats down in Washington have a lot of worries, too. They don't know which man to nominate and on top of that they have troubles in common with the Republicans.

In 1928 the Republican chorus could sing "How Dry I am."

Now everybody will be asking Republicans and Democrats, "How wet are you?"

PROGRAMS UPSET

Yes sir. They used to tell you that everything at a presidential convention was cut and dried long before the keynoter sounded off the first day. Guess things were going on just about like that up until a few days ago.

That's what's got the big party-builders worried. Delegates to these two conventions were all set to carry the same old battle scarred party standards. Then along comes a Betsy Ross, with a brand new flag. Not one—a whole new set.

Those delegates got their instructions weeks ago. Looked then like party leaders would duck new issues in the old-fashioned way. Everything was peaceful.

And then—up jumped the doggondest set of sensations two political parties ever met up with.

Eight thousand hungry war veterans marched on Washington. Camped there. Paraded there. Filled the halls of Congress. Sa right down on the Potomac a said they'll stay there till t get the remainder of their b money.

That upset the applecart in Washington.

But now a wing of the bonus army is marching on Chicago and there's no telling what they'll do to those conventions.

That voice of hunger sounded a warning to "do-nothing" politicians.

Right on top of that, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., one of the greatest champions of prohibition, came out against it.

Maybe you think that didn't make the platform builders squirm.

Delegates—all instructed—will have to write home to the folks about that.

Boys and girls, the life of a delegate to these conventions won't be worth living.

Clark Feted as Delegate, Avoids Dry Law Stand

Seven hundred persons, prominent in Pittsburgh political life, bade farewell to Director James M. Clark of the Public Safety Department at a dinner in the El Tower Hotel last night.

The occasion was the departure of Clark for Chicago as a delegate to the Republican national convention. The public safety director was a speaker, but avoided making a definite pronouncement upon his stand on prohibition. He said:

"Since my election as a delegate I have been bombarded with propaganda for and against prohibition. I can't tell in advance what I shall do."

State Senator James J. Coyne, toastmaster, was lauded by Clark as:

"A smart and crafty political leader, who has placed Allegheny County in a most favorable position in state politics."

The dinner was given under the auspices of the Fourteenth Ward regular Republican organization. The speakers included Judges Harry H. Rowand and John P. Egan, Sheriff Frank T. Gollmar, Councilmen John S. Herron, Clifford B. Connelley and M. J. Mullooney, County Controller Robert G. Woodside, City Budget Director Robert J. Alderdice, City Controller J. P. Kerr, Patrick J. Casey, chairman of the Fourteenth Ward, State Senator James J. Coyne, Public Works Director Edward G. Lang, Public Health Director C. B. Mains, Representative Max J. Spann and Traffic Court Magistrate J. Scott Morgan, chairman of the Thirteenth Ward.

Chile, and the results, perhaps, as surprising.

EVERY COUNTRY, every enterprise needs A HEAD, somebody to run it. "Everybody in general" cannot run anything. That is why Providence put a brain in man's skull, and allows that brain to direct and control the hands, feet and all the rest of it. It may seem unjust to the feet, but that is the only way to run it.

ANOTHER "VERY important man" abandoning prohibition in its present form is John R. Mott, world head of the Young Men's Christian Association. He ought to know and says that results of prohibition have been deplorable.

In all these opinions nobody has anything much to say about individual rights.

SUPPOSE WELL-MEANING individuals should announce:

"Nobody shall drink tea. It contains a drug, bad for the health. Nobody shall drink coffee, caffeine is dangerous."

Tea drinkers and coffee drinkers would protest, saying:

"Have we no rights?"

If a workman wants a glass of beer, asks: "Have I no rights?" Everybody replies emphatically:

"CERTAINLY NOT."

COOLIDGE STAND STIRS DEBT PAYMENT DEMAND

CAPITAL CHIEFS FIRM AGAINST CANCELING

Story That Ex-President's Magazine Article Hits Dry Law Proves Baseless

Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A chorus of approval came from both houses of Congress today as result of the stern warning from former President Coolidge that foreign war debts owed to the United States must be paid.

With the attention of this country focused on the forthcoming Lausanne conference on reparations, Mr. Coolidge's viewpoint on settling the war debts, revealed in the July issue of Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan Magazine, was received with unusual interest.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, summarized the comment of dozens of members in this remark:

"The way to scale the debts down is to pay them down."

Senator Bingham (Dem.), of Connecticut, observed:

"This is sound New England common sense, exactly the thing you would expect of Calvin Coolidge."

OPPOSES COMMISSION

Representative Crisp (Dem.), of Georgia, a member of the War Debt Commission, said:

"I agree with Mr. Coolidge that the foreign debts should not be cancelled or scaled down, and I shall always so vote. I will object to any attempt to revive the War Debt Commission for the purpose."

Senator Robinson (Rep.), of Indiana, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said:

"International credit would be shaken to its very foundations if we scaled the debts down any further. If the European nations want to repudiate their obligations it is up to them. We should stand pat."

Aide Denies Coolidge Has Written Dry Law Attack

NEW YORK, June 10.—(Universal)—An article by Calvin Coolidge, the subject of a heated discussion yesterday in Congress, contains a reiteration of his stand, taken as President, against cancellation of war debts owed the United States by European powers. It appears in the July issue of Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan Magazine, which appears on the stands today.

Representative Emanuel Celler, of New York, precipitated the discussion when he informed the House he understood Coolidge, in the article, condemns prohibition. Later he corrected himself and said he did not mean the July issue, but a future issue that would go to press in July.

The article by Coolidge in the July issue contains no reference to prohibition, John Randolph Hearst, vice president of the International Magazine Company, which publishes the magazine, stated. He said he did not care to discuss the contents of future issues of the magazine.

DENIAL BY COOLIDGE AIDE

In Northampton, Mass., Harry Ross, secretary of Mr. Coolidge, said:

"There is no truth in the statement that Mr. Coolidge has written an article for Cosmopolitan, in which he comes out for prohibition repeal.

"In fact, Mr. Coolidge had written only one article for Cosmopolitan and that appears in the July issue. One can read this article and be easily satisfied that Mr. Coolidge does not declare himself in this article for prohibition repeal."

In the article in the July issue, the former President declared:

"I know we are not trying to over-reach anybody nor trying to drive a hard bargain. The money we furnished we had to borrow. Some one must pay it. It cannot be cancelled.

"If we do not collect it from Europe we must collect it from our own taxpayers."

that the party, as a party, take positive action on the prohibition issue. Under the circumstances, the confident prediction of the anti-drys that next week will see President Hoover renominated on a wet platform seemed more than justified. Apparently they have the votes to make good their prediction.

Administration spokesmen already on the ground in Chicago, among them Postmaster General Brown, James R. Garfield, chairman-designate of the platform committee, and Ray Benjamin, of California, are not having much luck in selling to the state leaders the Hoover-approved plank, which merely calls for resubmission on a "repeal, retention or revision" basis. The state leaders are talking repeal only, with no strings attached.

DRYS IN DESPAIR

The drys are in despair. Represented here by Senator Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican National Committee until a successor is chosen next week, and by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, the eloquent dry Portia of the 1928 campaign, they gloomily concede that the tide is running against them. For publication they will not be quoted; privately they are bemoaning what they call the "opportunism" of the convention leaders. Senator Fess said:

"I am a dry, personally and politically, but I shall have nothing to say now or in the future about prohibition. The convention will decide."

Mrs. Willebrandt, a delegate from California, said:

"I have made it a rule not to make statements on prohibition."

When such dry stalwarts as Senator Fess, for years the Anti-Saloon League spokesman on the floor of the Senate, and Mrs. Willebrandt, the dry flame of four years ago, decline to take up the cudgels for the cause, it is no wonder the drys feel blue.

WOMEN'S CLUB AT ODDS ON DRY ISSUE

20th Century Members Reverse Board, Vote to Stand by State Group

The prohibition issue today had caused a dissension among the women of Pittsburgh's aristocratic Twentieth Century Club, according to one of them—Mrs. J. Carroll Miller, an enthusiastic anti-dry and a former director of the club.

The drys and the anti-drys took to their respective sides in the vote on which the club refused to withdraw from the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, which is in favor of prohibition, Mrs. Miller asserted.

ACCUSES DRYS

Mrs. Miller declared:

"The drys packed the meeting. The resolution to withdraw had been approved unanimously by the board at a meeting in April, but at the meeting yesterday the vote was about 55 to 50 against withdrawal. I believe the real reason for the difference of opinion was prohibition."

The resolution which the members voted down gave economy as the reason for the proposed withdrawal. But this, Mrs. H. C. McElhowney, wife of the banker, said was an inadequate reason, pointing out that the club pays only $500 annually to the Federation from the $75,000 it collects from its hundreds of members. Mrs. McElhowney added:

"Sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of remaining in the Federation. The resolution was amicably disposed of. Mrs. John M. Phillips told of the good work of the Federation in pushing child welfare legislation, putting women on schoolboards and in other fields."

BLAMES CONTROVERSY

Mrs. Miller explained that she voted for the withdrawal because the Federation had been taking a part in controversial issues and she did not believe the club here was organized for any such purposes.

Mrs. Rose M. Payton, wife of the Rev. Jacob Simpson Payton, who had voted to withdraw when she was a member of the board, voted against the withdrawal yesterday. She said:

"I changed my mind. I feel the Federation is doing a good work."

Y. M. C. A. Official Here For Dry Resubmission

Confident, he says, that voters would support prohibition in a national referendum, J. E. Manley, general secretary of metropolitan headquarters here of the Y. M. C. A., today supported John R. Mott, president of the International Missionary Council and of the World's Alliance of the Y. M. C. A., who yesterday announced he favored resubmission of the liquor question in a dispatch from London.

Mr. Manley stipulated his agreement to resubmission on the same basis as stated by Mott, that politics be eliminated.

Citing that Kansas had prohibition 20 years before it became effective, Manley stated:

"I am not satisfied with the way prohibition is working now, but I believe conditions are better than they were under the open saloon and better than they would be if returned to the open saloon."

Repeal Plank Urged By Ohio Candidate

COLUMBUS, O., June 10.—(AP)—Challenging delegates to the Republican national convention to be "leaders and not mollycoddles," Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, of Ohio, Republican nominee for United States senator, today denounced a resubmission plank as falling short of a real stand on the prohibition question. He asserted:

"A plank calling merely for resubmission of the Eighteenth Amendment will not go far enough."

Virginia Democrats For Byrd, Dry Poll

RICHMOND, Va., June 10.—(AP)—Virginia's 24 votes at the national Democratic convention will be cast for Harry Flood Byrd and his plan for a prohibition referendum will be commended to the national gathering for favorable consideration.

The state convention yesterday expressed its approval of the candidacy of the former governor.

Fire in Wheeling Damages Two Stores

WHEELING, W. Va., June 10.—(AP)—A fire in the center of Wheeling brought out most of the city's fire fighting equipment and caused $4,000 damage to the K. and N. automobile accessory store today. The building is on Twelfth street. A wall paper store and a paint shop were damaged also.

VETS DEPART FROM CITY

Except for a few "stragglers" the Pittsburgh district today had been almost entirely evacuated by war veterans marching to Washington to demand full payment of the bonus.

The contingent of 120 Workers Ex-Servicemen's League members, an alleged Communistic organization, escorted through Pittsburgh yesterday morning from McKees Rocks in trucks, was reported to have boarded a garbage train at McKeesport early today, en route to Reduction, Pa.

Ten veterans were given lodgings at the Hazelwood Police Station, while at Washington, Pa., 20 Michigan marchers and five truck loads from Oklahoma were heading over the National Pike to the nation's capital.

A delegation of 150 veterans from East Pittsburgh, Rankin, Braddock, Swissvale and Turtle Creek, organized at a meeting last night in Rankin, was to leave today in trucks furnished by the business men of the district. Another contingent from the Monongahela and Youghiogheny river valleys was expected to leave shortly.

Man Hurt in Row Dies, Suspect Held

Raymond Ethridge, 337 Shaw avenue, McKeesport, was to be turned over to the Coroner by McKeesport police today, following the death of Dennis McCarthy, 140 South Twenty-third street, Pittsburgh, in the McKeesport Hospital.

Police said Ethridge admitted pushing McCarthy, who was found unconscious in Sixth street, McKeesport, during an argument last night.

Woman Sent to Jail On Dry Law Charge

Judge F. P. Schoonmaker today revoked a one-year probation term given Mrs. Mary Muntean, 45, of Short street, Erie, Pa., imposed March 23, when she pleaded guilty of the sale and possession of liquor. She was sentenced to serve six months in jail because prohibition agents found liquor in her possession and found men drinking beer in her home on May 10.

Accused of Murder In Ex-Wife's Death

MILTON, Fla., June 10.—(AP)—Guy Wyman, once a major in the United States Army, was held here today on a charge of slaying his former wife, and the present Mrs. Wyman said he shot to protect her.

A coroner's jury yesterday ordered Wyman held to await trial for second degree murder. The present Mrs. Wyman said her predecessor, whom Wyman married while he was serving with the A. E. F., in France, had often threatened her life and once had shot at her.

Timid Capital Loses Fear Bonus Vets Are Reds; 'Army' Gains Respect

By ELSIE ROBINSON

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Washington's puzzled.

And Washington is seldom puzzled. Being-sure-of-itself is the best thing Washington does. But this time something is giving Washington's well-known savoir-faire the jitters. And that something is the B. E. F.

First they had 'em figured out as bums.

But bums don't organize in military precision, form committees, wear their rags as though they were diplomatic broadcloth. Bums don't live for two weeks, hungry and cold, on the outskirts of a rich city and never commit one misdemeanor—never steal a loaf of bread or beg a blanket or insult a citizen.

Then if they weren't bums, they must be reds. Quick, Watson, the pop gun—the great Communistic menace is upon us!

So Washington armed itself, took out accident insurance, hid the family silver and waited for the bombs to start. But the bombs didn't start.

Instead, to the very obvious chagrin of the boys on the hill, the boys on the flats insisted on acting like disgusting patriots and drove even the palest pinks out of camp.

CHEERED ON MARCH

Stillness on Anacostia field—such stillness that, as those dragging, dead feet struck the flats, one heard the dust rise in a rushing cloud—

When it settled, those 8,000 men had formed and stood apart in two great files—

THERE, IN AN HONOR LANE THE EIGHT THOUSAND STOOD—SILENT, UNSEEING. THE EIGHT HUNDRED MARCHED BETWEEN!

Then, the silence broke with such a roar that, a mile away, breakfasting Washingtonians bounced like bunnies and scuttled for their hideouts. Now, at last, the dreadful end had come! But it was only the B. E. F. saluting, with cheer upon cheer, the men who had been called "the fighting terribles" back in 1917.

Once a nation had wept to read of the agony they endured—had thrilled to think of the heroism of those men who went through every hellish engagement of the war, experiencing all its horror, all its filth and brutality.

Once that same nation, cheering itself hoarse in gratitude, had welcomed those men home, pinned medals over their hearts, strewn their way with flowers, promised them all the riches, all the honors of the country they had saved.

And now—this!

ARMY DIGGING IN

Steadily the army digs itself in. Steadily the army grows. Ten thousand here—100,000 on the way, so they say. Thousands of men who have already known hell—hundreds of whom gave from three to six years of their life to this country, on battle field and hospital bed—now suffering a crueler agony than they ever knew in France. For then they fought with love behind them and glory before them. And now they fight, despised and outcast, treated like Pariahs.

THE SHAMEFUL FACT IS THAT WE ARE TREATING THESE MEN ABOMINABLY . . . THOUGH WE PAY THEM A HUNDRED BONUSES WE CAN NEVER ERASE FROM OUR RECORD THE SHAME OF THESE LAST TWO WEEKS . . . WE ARE ACTING LIKE COWARDS AND CHEATS TO THE MEN TO WHOM WE OWE ALL WE HAVE.

Instead of trying, as we have done, to heckle and humiliate these men by every cheap device . . . Instead of running away from them, or sneering at them, or treating them as criminals by trying to finger print them, or building preposterous propaganda against them, we could—if we had an ounce of gumption or self-respect—go to them like honest citizens and say:

"We have not forgotten what you did for us. We will never forget. We will hold you in everlasting honor and gratitude. But we are in a jam now just as you are in jam. So help us now as you helped us before, buddies. Help us to save this country, which is our common mother. Be patient—let us work together! Trust us as we trust you! This is our zero hour, but faith and love and gratitude know no zero hour! HOLD ON . . . WE YET WILL GO OVER THE TOP!"

We COULD say that. May God forgive us because we don't!

Families Ride Tops Of Cars for Bonus

CINCINNATI, O., June 10.—(AP)—Texas men, women and children came to Cincinnati atop box cars today on their way to Washington to seek payment of the soldiers' bonus.

They arrived from the South by way of Louisville, clinging perilously to the roofs of box cars of a Baltimore and Ohio freight train. The group numbered between 600 and 700.

Moore Signs Bill For N. J. Dry Vote

TRENTON, N. J., June 10.—(AP)—Gov. A. Harry Moore today signed a measure providing for a referendum for repeal of the state prohibition enforcement act.

The measure is to be submitted at the November election and should the voters approve, state enforcement activities will cease December 1.

BONUS MISSION SUCCESS, COX DECLARES

Priest Enthusiastic Over Reception in Capital; Vets Thankful for Aid

Enthusiastic over his trip to Washington, where he addressed the bonus expeditionary forces, the Rev. James R. Cox, of Old St. Patrick's Church, today declared his mission a success. The priest acted as the veterans' spokesman in presenting demands for immediate cash payment of the bonus to the House, the Senate and to President Hoover.

Father Cox was greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by Vice President Curtis, who promised to assist in every way possible.

MEETS CURTIS

With Father Cox when the priest conferred with Vice President Curtis in the latter's chambers, were Harold Foulkrod, of Philadelphia, chairman of the veteran's legislative committee, and W. E. Cox, of Portland, Ore., vice chairman of the committee.

Immediately upon arrival Father Cox went to Camp Camden where he stood atop a roof to address the men. It was estimated that more than 5,000 veterans were present. He said:

"There have been false impressions concerning what I am about to tell you. Some people believe I am going to tell you to go home. I want you to stay here until you get what you came after.

"You are entitled to your back pay, and paltry pay it is. But you will not do yourselves credit unless you act like the soldiers and citizens you are. Take some action and when you finish, then it is time to leave."

RESOLUTION CHEERED

Father Cox then read a resolution he had prepared which demanded that Congress provide for immediate cash payment of the bonus and provide jobs for the jobless by a loan of $5,000,000,000 to be used for public works. This resolution was received with shouts and applause.

One veteran stepped forward and urged the men to select Father Cox as their "mouthpiece." This was done with more applause.

The legislative group of the soldiers then went into session, selected Father Cox as a member of the committee and adopted his resolutions.

COX PILGRIMS BEGIN JOURNEY

Leading 60 Western Pennsylvanians, the Rev. James R. Cox, of Old St. Patrick's Church, today began his seventh annual pilgrimage to Lourdes, France, and Rome. This year's trip includes a six-day visit to the Eucharistic Congress which opens in Dublin, Ireland, June 20. A large crowd bade farewell to the priest as he left from the Pennsylvania station.

In the crowd were many members of the "Blue Shirt Army." A large basket of flowers from its first auxiliary unit was presented by Jesse Lopista and Mrs. Margaret McKeag, of Bloomfield.

The party sails from Montreal, and will stop at the Shrine of St. Anne De Beaupre, near Quebec, arriving in Dublin June 19. From the Euchristic Congress, the party will visit Paris, Rome, Bordeaux, Lourdes, Marseilles, Nice, Venice and other cities, returning August 1.

Boric Acid Well Blast Kills Cattle

LEGHORN, Italy, June 10.—(AP)—The deepest boric acid well ever drilled in Italy burst at a depth of 560 feet today and tossed four tons of steel tubing machinery high into the air.

It fell on the roofs of the little village of Gerrazzano and killed a number of cattle in the fields nearby. There was some property damage, but no person was injured.

'Missing' Edgewood Pastor Well, Brother Declares

The Rev. Victor A. Rule, pastor of the Edgewood Presbyterian Church, who resigned on Tuesday and disappeared on Saturday, is well and his whereabouts are known, his brother, the Rev. Andrew Rule, of Old Mission, Mich., told the Sun-Telegraph over the telephone today.

The brother said he had received a letter from the former Edgewood pastor yesterday, which had been mailed on Monday. The letter did not reveal the reason for his resignation, the brother declared.

He refused to disclose the whereabouts of the missing man, saying:

"I can reach him by letter if necessary, but I will not reveal his whereabouts until I am sure it will be to his best interest. I have not the slightest idea of what led to his resignation."

The former Edgewood minister, once voted the most useful man in Arizona, was reported by some of the church members as having been asked to resign and by others as having done so voluntarily.

Consumer Must Pay Tax On Electricity in Home

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—The new levy of 3 per cent on electrical energy in the $1,000,000,000 tax bill applies to domestic as well as commercial or industrial consumption.

The Treasury said today it is to be levied against the person paying for the electrical energy and will be collected by the vendor, who will in turn make the remittance to the government.

The tax on conveyances, effective June 21, is 50 cents on items of more than $100 and up to $500 and 50 cents for each additional $500 or fractional part thereof.

"Conveyances" are defined as follows: Deed, instrument, or writing, delivered on or after June 21, 1932, and before July 1, 1934 (unless deposited in escrow before April 1, 1932, whereby any lands, tenements or other realty sold shall be granted, assigned, transferred or otherwise conveyed to, or vested in, the purchaser or any other person.

This provision does not apply to any instrument or writing given to secure a debt.

The Treasury still is working on administration procedure for the tax bill and will make known its decisions as soon as possible.

BYRD TO MAKE NEW TRIP TO SOUTH POLE

Paul Siple, Erie Boy, to Again Accompany Party In Its Antarctic Voyage

BOSTON, June 10.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd plans a second Antarctic expedition—this one for the purpose of studying more closely the territory Marie Byrd Land and to elaborate on scientific data gained previously.

Nearly all the scientists that accompanied Admiral Byrd before will go with him again, Harold I. June will be senior pilot and Capt. Ashley M. Kelley will take charge of aerial survey. Paul Siple of Erie, Pa., who accompanied Byrd on the first Antarctic expedition as a Boy Scout observer, will also go. Siple is no longer a Scout.

The expedition would leave Boston early in the fall and would remain in the Antarctic the greater part of two years.

The tractor—something new in the way of Antarctic equipment—will take its place in the scheme of things alongside the sled dog and the airplane.

The expedition as planned is smaller than the first, experience having assisted Byrd in planning a more compact outfit. A larger number of sled dogs, about 150, will be carried, and two planes and several tractors have been included in the equipment.

One ship instead of two will be used to transport the equipment. The Bear, built in the '70's and used for years by the Coast Guard, has been obtained and is being fitted in Oakland, Cal.

Lincoln Ellsworth, Polar explorer, will probably be in the same region about the same time and has received permission to use the base at Little America. The two expeditions are dissimilar, however, Byrd's object being to further explore the territory named after Mrs. Byrd which he discovered on his previous trip.

Bomb Dropper

MISS ISABEL PATTERSON

To call attention to the drive for funds for the Salvation Army, Miss Patterson, former newspaperwoman, tomorrow will fly over Pittsburgh, dropping "bombs" asking aid for the Army work. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

BRIDE'S JEWELS LOST FOR $10

Mrs. Sophia McKulchick, 25, of 1907 Termon avenue, bride of one day, lost her claim to her diamond engagement ring, a wrist watch and gold band, gifts of her husband, Andrew, 33, before their marriage, at a hearing before Alderman Ray E. Schneider, 406 East Ohio street, today.

Mrs. McKulchick testified that when she lost her job recently she had borrowed $10 from Miss Myrtle Rayborn, 25, of 418 Pressley street, giving her jewels valued at $170 as security. When Miss Rayborn refused to give them up on proffer of the $10 the bride charged her with larceny. Miss Rayborn was discharged by Alderman Schneider after she had produced a receipt in support of her contention that it was a sale and not a loan.

MORE 'Y' CHIEFS FOR DRY POLL

NEW YORK, June 10.—(INS)—A number of officials of the Young Men's Christian Association today joined in the growing drive against prohibition following the statement in London of Dr. John R. Mott, president of the World's Alliance of the Young Men's Christian Association, that he favored a referendum on the question.

Walter T. Diack, general secretary of the New York Y. M. C. A., and Elmer Galloway, secretary of the organization's Bowery branch, both favored a change. The former favored resubmission of the prohibition question to the people, while the latter advocated legalizing beer and light wines.

A dissent from Dr. Mott's views was voiced by Mrs. Frederick M. Paist, president of the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association, who said she opposed resubmission.

GYPSIES JAILED PENDING PROBE

Six gypsies, including four women and a 9-month-old baby, were committed to County Jail today after arraignment in Oakland Police Court.

Police Inspector James N. Hoey asked Magistrate William J. O'Connor to hold the group until Monday, pending an investigation.

Police said the gypsies were arrested on suspicious person charges after two men swindled in a fortune telling scheme six months ago, told officers that they had recognized one of the women involved as a passenger in an automobile. The man gave police the license number of the auto and the five were arrested in it, police said, at Center avenue and Craig street last night.

They gave their names as George Evans, 19; Mary Evans, 20; Rose Evans, 22, who carried the baby, and Catherine Evans, brother and sisters, and Sally Mitchell, 28, all of Oklahoma City.

FLIER TO 'BOMB' CITY TOMORROW

Cyrus A. Davis, attorney, will make his second aerial "attack" to spread the Salvation Army's appeal for funds tomorrow. Davis spread milk bottle tops over the city two weeks ago in behalf of the campaign.

When Davis goes up tomorrow his "bomb thrower" will be Miss Isabel Patterson, a writer. Only a few "bombs" will be permitted to fall until Davis gives the signal for the full broadside, "at the heart of the city," as he expresses it.

The air "attack" is intended to signalize "Red Shield Day," concluding the Army's drive for $112,500 to maintain its charities for another year. Several hundred women and girls will sell seals on the streets.

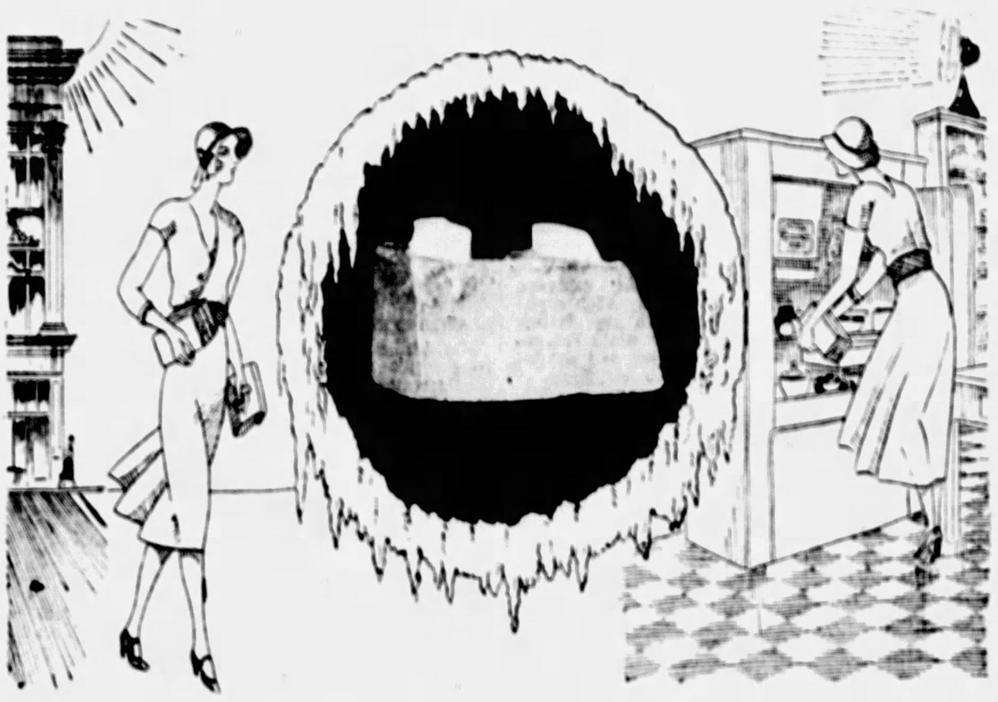
THE WONDER REFRIGERANT
114° Below Zero! 146° Colder than Ice

Works for Donahoe!
First With Ice Cream! Now With Butter!

SIX years ago, Donahoe's introduced Dry Ice—not only to Pittsburgh—but to the United States at large. Wherever the Pittsburgh newspapers went, carrying the Donahoe advertisements, there went the story of Dry Ice. Thousands of merchants in hundreds of cities had never heard of Dry Ice and we were kept busy telling them what it was, how much it cost and where to get it.

SIX years ago, Dry Ice was regarded by most of the few who knew about it as an interesting novelty—a scientific plaything—but Donahoe's, quickly visioning its adaptability for packing Ice Cream, were the first to put it to use in Pittsburgh and one of the very first in the entire country. Now, with their new, improved dry ice, under their own trademarked name, "Kold Aire", Donahoe's have found another—and wider use for it.



NOW—on the very hottest day—the kind of day that melts the butter you bought downtown almost to a liquid before you get it home—

You can buy your butter—the Finest Churned in America—at Donahoe's and—when you unwrap it, several hours afterward, to place it in your refrigerator—you will be agreeably surprised, you will be pleased to find—no melted, softened mess of butter—but you will find—neat, sweet, clean cut, absolutely hard chilled butter.

Donahoe's "Kold Aire," wrapped with your butter at no cost to you, has done marvelous cooling work

It is impossible for butter, wrapped in the ordinary manner, to remain hard or firm, if carried around, even for a short time, in hot weather.

Once butter is melted or softened, it is never again the same—even when rehardened.

Not only is there an alteration in its physical condition—the firm smooth texture, with its clean, sweet, golden appearance is gone—but also, and most important—that intangible something, that "imprisoned fairy gold from nature's richest storehouse," with which all fine butter is so richly endowed, the flavor, the aroma, the exquisite bouquet, is released and most of it disappears once butter has been softened and rehardened.

The softening and rehardening of fine butter does not spoil it—but, most assuredly, the softening and rehardening does take away the "bloom" from a piece of fine butter—it often leaves a flat taste.

Donahoe's Butter—the finest churned in America—is now under refrigeration from the churn to your refrigerator

When you leave Donahoe's Downtown Stores with a package of Donahoe's Butter—

You carry the most marvelous modern refrigeration right with you in the package—two small pieces of solidified "Kold Aire" weighing practically nothing. No big bulky package—it is easy to carry. The new, improved refrigerant, Donahoe's "Kold Aire" gives forth no moisture—it does not melt, it evaporates.

Take Home the BEST Butter in Pittsburgh—Package Refrigerated with "Kold Aire," No Extra Charge

P. S.—Small Extra Charge if you desire sufficient "Kold Aire" to keep butter hard chilled for more than two hours.

What "Kold Aire" Is—And What It Does

Donahoe's "Kold Aire" is nothing more nor less than your old friend carbon dioxide, which is used every day in the carbonated beverages you drink—soda water, etc., but "Kold Aire" is carbon dioxide compressed until it becomes solid. Then it resembles a mass of hard, white snow crust. There is no drip to "Kold Aire." It gives off a vapor-like, harmless, dry air which never condenses into moisture. This evaporation reduces the size of the cake of "Kold Aire" so slowly that the process is imperceptible. Nor does the Kold Aire "melt" in the ordinary sense, but gradually—very gradually—it diminishes, meanwhile radiating intense cold and leaving no trace. Touch "Kold Aire" and you get a start, because "Kold Aire" is 114 degrees below zero, 146 degrees Fahrenheit colder than ice.

PAROLE DENIED KIRKLAND

PENDLETON, Ind., June 10.—(AP.)—Virgil Kirkland, Gary (Ind.) youth, was refused a parole early today from the 1-to-10-year sentence he is serving in Indiana Reformatory for the death of Arlene Draves.

Kirkland's case came automatically before the reformatory trustees meeting as a parolee and parole board inasmuch as he has completed the minimum of one year.

The young man will spend nine more years in the reformatory unless the board later changes its attitude or unless a later board grants his freedom.

COX BEGINS HIS PILGRIMAGE

"Shantytown" will miss its benefactor and the hundreds in the daily breadline at Old St. Patrick's will miss the friendly smile and the cheery, encouraging greeting of the man who makes it possible for them to eat every day. The mothers, scores of whom come daily with their baskets for food, will miss the welcome from the "father of the jobless"—the inquiries about the health of the family, particularly the babies.

Father Cox

Father Cox today is on his way to Montreal and will sail tomorrow for the Eucharistic Congress at Dublin, Ireland with a party of approximately 50 Pittsburgh pilgrims.

In the meantime he is satisfied that none of his hundreds of poor will be neglected during his absence. He left instructions to all of his aides, particularly the "Blue Shirts" and the "Blue Smocks," to give the Father Cox-Sun-Telegraph Home Delivery Drive their undivided support because it is from this source he is expecting much help for the work among the hungry while he is gone.

For every subscription that comes in on the Sun-Telegraph special home delivery blank herewith printed and for every subscription otherwise secured through the efforts of the "father of the jobless" and his aides Father Cox gets a liberal commission in cash which is employed to furnish food and clothing to the army of destitute men, women and children. Here is your opportunity to help a more than worthy cause and at the same time bring a GOOD newspaper to your home.

CITY'S PENSION PLAN CALLED FAULTY

Chamber of Commerce Cites Great Liability, Lack of Reserve in Urging Reform

A recommendation to City Council that recognized pension authorities be named to make an investigation of rights and devise a pension plan that would be on a sound actuarial basis was made at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. "Under the present operating conditions of these funds the future liabilities of the city will amount to millions of dollars. From the preliminary figures which have been available this committee has arrived at the conclusion that all of the present pension funds of the City of Pittsburgh are unsound and without an adequate policy providing the reserves that should be set up with each current year of active service in order to accumulate the pension payable beginning at the retirement age.

"Under provisions of the Pension Fund of the City of Pittsburgh alone the city is obligated to the extent of approximately $750,000 to the employes for contributions made by them as a part of the pension cost and which money the city must refund on request in event of terminations that is by reason of death, leaving the service, etc., occurring before the retirement age and consequent eligibility for pension is reached for which contingent liability no reserve has been set up."

In 1926 payments made by the city to the three funds amounted to $360,000. This year it was estimated the payments will be $800,000.

Anti-Drys Lead In Florida Contests

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 10.—(AP.)—Democratic nominations for two of Florida's contested congressional seats have fallen to prohibition referendum candidates and a third to a repealist while a referendum advocate and a dry will fight it out for the fourth in a run-off.

Virtually complete returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary indicated victory for Mark Wilcox, West Palm Beach attorney who wants the Eighteenth Amendment repealed, in the Fourth District congressional race and the incumbent Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen conceded no nomination. She ran as a referendum candidate.

The "Sundown"

In Pastels or White

$5

This is our most popular broad-brimmed rough straw hat, because it is not too rough to go with "soft" frocks, not too floppy to wear with sports clothes, and looks well on most everybody. It sells so fast that we have difficulty keeping a full color range, but tomorrow will be a good day to find it in white, beige, pastel pink, blue and rose.

Grave of 1812 War Figure to Be Marked

Members of the Old Guard, Washington Infantry, and the Dolly Madison Chapter, Daughters of 1812, will place a marker on the grave of Capt. James R. Butler in Trinity Church yard, Sixth avenue, tomorrow afternoon. Capt. Butler was a member of the Pittsburgh Blues of the War of 1812, predecessors of the Washington Infantry.

McCready Testifies In Murder Case

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 10.—Tony Allissio of Monessen is in jail without bail here on a murder charge in the killing of Ralph Mosca at the latter's home in Monessen as the outcome of an alleged political feud. William P. McCready, Pittsburgh city detective and ballistics expert, testified at the hearing at which Allissio was held that Mosca was killed by a .38-caliber bullet fired through the window. A revolver of the same caliber was found in Allissio's home.

Mrs. Mersereau Dies; Former Noted Singer

RIDGEWOOD, N. J., June 10 (AP).—Mrs. Alice Mersereau, widely known 50 years ago when she sang soprano roles in Gilbert and Sullivan plays, was found dead at her home here. Police said she had committed suicide by inhaling gas. She was 77.

Her husband died a year ago and a son, Ross, died about two years ago in California. She was particularly well known in the theater for her work as Yum-Yum in "The Mikado."

130 Lepers Threaten March on Bucharest

VIENNA, June 10 (AP).—Dispatches from Bucharest said 130 lepers in a colony at Tichilesti had threatened to march on Bucharest unless they received better food.

The situation was said to have arisen because grocers and farmers with long overdue bills against the government have declined to deliver the normal quantity of supplies to the leper colony.

Father, Son Event At Soho Community

The third annual father and son banquet of the Soho Community House was held last night. Speakers were Ralph S. Hudson, director of the Woods Run Settlement House; Frank Colosimo, a member of the community house, and George Cooper, Sr., one of the fathers. Patrick Fitzpatrick was toastmaster. Joseph A. Raciappa, director of the boys' community house, was in charge of the program.

Boy Critically Hurt In Fall From Tree

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 10.—(AP.)—His curiosity may cost the life of Gerald Steven Quinn, 13, of Pine Bluff. Gerald is in a critical condition in a hospital here with his body partly paralyzed from a head injury suffered Tuesday evening when he fell from a tree into which he had climbed to see if a bird's nest had eggs in it.

Sharon Boys Claim Promptness Record

SHARON, Pa., June 10.—Five Sharon boys have gone to school 7,740 consecutive days without being tardy. And in doing so, it is believed the boys, all of whom completed their studies in the eighth grade this year, set a new record in cities of 30,000 population. They were the only ones of their class to have perfect attendance marks in the grade school.

Ezekiel Shank, who took 10 years to complete the work, has been on time 1,800 school mornings; Frank Paul hasn't missed in nine years, while James Baldwin, Oliver Morton and Marion Harriman have had perfect marks for eight years.

FLEISHER FACES MEANS ACCUSED LINDY GRILLING BY GUGGENHEIM

DETROIT, June 10 (AP). — Because New Jersey state police and federal officials want to question Harry Fleisher regarding the Lindbergh baby kidnaping case the gangster who surrendered yesterday to Detroit police will not be arraigned until Monday on a year-old murder charge.

Fleisher was to have been arraigned today as one of four men who killed three companions in the Collingwood Avenue Apartments last year.

The arraignment was postponed by Prosecutor Harry S. Toy to permit questioning regarding the gangster's knowledge of the Lindbergh case. Fleisher's attorney, Edward H. Kennedy, Jr., repeated he has denied his client had anything to do with the kidnaping.

Several persons were brought to headquarters today to view Fleisher. Their connection with the case was not revealed.

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP). — Testimony that Gaston B. Means had initiated negotiations with Col. M. Robert Guggenheim and promised to return the kidnaped Lindbergh baby was given by Guggenheim today in Means' trial on charges of swindling Mrs. Edward B. McLean out of $104,000 in an alleged ransom fraud.

Amid heated exchanges with T. Morris Wampler, counsel for the defense, Guggenheim testified in the District of Columbia Supreme Court that Means, a former Department of Justice agent, assured him on last March 5, four days after the baby was stolen, that the kidnapers were in league with one of Means' former Atlanta Penitentiary mates. Guggenheim, a friend of the Lindberghs, quoted Means as saying:

"What we want is somebody to keep the child for 48 or 72 hours without letting anybody know. I think we will probably be able to deliver the baby without any ransom. These people are anxious to get rid of it."

Means also said he felt Guggenheim continued, that if he could effect the return he would have more business than I can handle for the next 10 years.

SLEUTHS SEIZE SLOT MACHINES

County detectives yesterday visited 14 places on complaint that they were gambling and liquor resorts, but discovered violations in only two.

An information charging Mrs. Ethel Perkins with maintaining gambling devices was filed before Alderman Thomas M. Geary after a raid on a service station at Wildwood. Two slot machines and punchboards were reported seized.

Nick Saris, proprietor of a confectionery at 6408 Frankstown avenue, was held in $2,000 bail on a similar charge. The detectives reported seizing two slot machines.

Twelve places in Russellton were visited by the detectives, who returned with the report that complaints were unfounded.

NO. 166

AN ORDINANCE—Accepting the dedication of certain property in the Thirty-second Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, for public use for highway purposes, opening and naming the same "Odette street," and establishing the grade thereon.

WHEREAS—Emil Kittel and Anna Kittel, his wife, and Wm. P. Brodgesell, unmarried, owners of the property hereinafter described have executed and delivered to the City of Pittsburgh their certain deed of dedication, bearing date of May 18, 1932, now on file in the office of the Bureau of Engineering of said city, wherein they have conveyed said ground to said city for public use for highway purposes and have released said city from any liability for damages for or by reason of the physical grading of said public highway to the grade hereinafter established. Therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the said deed of dedication be and the same is hereby accepted and the Bureau of Engineering is hereby authorized and directed to place the same on record in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in and for the County of Allegheny.

SECTION 2. The ground as aforesaid conveyed to said city for public highway purposes shall be and the same is hereby appropriated and opened as a public highway in accordance with the terms of said deed of dedication and shall be known as "Odette street," the same being bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING on the southerly line of the Warren Plan of Lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 31, page 46, at the intersection of the easterly line of Odette street produced, at said Odette street (formerly Warren avenue), was laid out in the above mentioned plan of lots, thence extending southwardly along the easterly line of Odette street produced 169.59 feet to the northerly line of property now or late of Fred Kittel and wife; thence westwardly along the northerly line of the said property 30 feet to a point, thence northwardly, parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 30 feet west of the first above described course and along the westerly line of Odette street produced 169.59 feet to the southerly line of the above mentioned Warren Plan of Lots; thence eastwardly along the southerly line of the said plan of lots 30 feet to the place of beginning.

SECTION 3. The grade of the westerly line shall begin at the southerly line of the Warren Plan of Lots at an elevation of 331.67 feet, thence shall fall at the rate of 5.0 per cent for a distance of 169.59 feet to the northerly line of property now or late of Fred Kittel and wife to an elevation of 323.19 feet.

SECTION 4. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to enter upon, take possession of and appropriate the said described ground for a public highway in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 5. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

CUT IN DETROIT GAS RATE NETS HUGE SAVING

Yearly Cost to Users Down $850,000; Charges Here Higher by Big Margin

Detroit gas users today began piling up a savings estimated to total $850,000 a year the result of a voluntary rate cut by the Detroit City Gas Company.

The rate for boilers and furnaces in house heating plants is 55 cents per 1.00 cubic feet, with a minimum charge of 80 cents per bill. In Pittsburgh the minimum rate is $1, and 60 cents per thousand the rate charged householders.

The Detroit company also promised to import natural gas as soon as possible, because of its greater heat units.

The rate reduction was announced at the time John L. Lovett, manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, charged that a bloc in Council was delaying acceptance of the settlement in an effort to forestall importation of natural gas. The new schedule adopted ranges from 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for 10,000,000 cubic feet, to 77 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for 50,000 cubic feet.

At the offices of the Equitable Gas Company here it was said gas supplied in Pittsburgh contains more heat units than manufactured gas.

THE SPIRIT OF A

Thoroughbred

ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH has the dash, the fire, the spirit of a thoroughbred.

With this great super-fuel in your tank, the slightest touch on the throttle finds instant response in the wheels. Your car leaps ahead like a race-horse at the post. Swings easily over the steepest hills, as though they were level boulevards. Has flashing speed. Smooth, effortless power. Superb performance in every particular.

Today's new automobiles are sleek, brilliant . . . thoroughbreds all! Be sure to see them. Ride in them. Learn their new, sensational features. And when you buy one, give it a chance to show its class. Put it through its paces . . . go with ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH.

Better in a dozen ways

FLASHING PICK-UP
Your car leaps from 4 to 40 like a startled deer.

EXTRA POWER
Less gear-shifting . . . on steep hills and in congested traffic.

MAXIMUM MILEAGE
Takes figures off your gasoline bill and puts them on your speedometer.

ALWAYS UNIFORM
Wherever you buy it . . . city or country . . . the same supreme quality.

ALWAYS DEPENDABLE
Drivers find that their cars stall less often with this dependable motor fuel.

COOLER PERFORMANCE
No heavy, sluggish substances to overheat your engine.

QUICKER STARTING
A touch of the starter and you're away like a flash.

NO UNPLEASANT ODOR
No sulphurous or other fumes to spoil your motoring-pleasure.

ALL-ROUND ECONOMY
Fewer repair-bills; less battery-strain; a clean and powerful engine.

SCIENTIFIC FORMULA
Acknowledged to be one of the finest in the entire refining industry.

HIGH ANTI-KNOCK RATING
Few motor fuels at any price can equal its high rating.

CRYSTAL CLEAR
No artificial coloring to hide its natural purity.

Federation of Women's Clubs Opens Biennial

SEATTLE, June 10.—(AP.)—Delegates representing the home makers of the nation began the active business of the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs here today. With last night's gala opening session and colorful reception in the background, the business of hearing the reports of officers and committees was on the program.

Officially designated as "Junior Day," the junior program opened with a breakfast. Mrs. Edwin Bevens, of Helena, Ark., national chairman of the junior membership committee, was chairman, and national president, Mrs. John F. Sippel, of Baltimore, among the listed speakers.

Mayor John F. Dore last night urged delegates to give intelligent thought and consideration to three major problems—unemployment, the cost of government and prohibition.

Members of the Massachusetts delegation are wearing little hat ornaments shaped like clipper ships, while Ohio clubwomen are wearing real buckeyes. The Ohioans seek the election of Dr. Josephine L. Pierce, of Lima, to the second vice presidency.

AMERITA CLUB, DE LUXE HILL RESORT, RAIDED

M'KAY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CIVIC CLUB

Guthrie Chosen First Aide; Other Officers, Directors Named by Organization

Dr. Marion McKay, of the University of Pittsburgh, today was elected president of the Civic Club of Allegheny County at its annual meeting in the William Penn Hotel.

Five new members were named to the board of directors, including Mrs. Edgar W. Tait, newly-elected chairman of the Soho Bath Board, who was named third vice president.

Dr. McKay, who has been a professor of economics at Pitt for the past 12 years, was a member of the Pennsylvania Tax Commission during 1923-27. He was a member of the special committee on taxation in connection with President Hoover's conference on home building and home ownership.

ON SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Dr. McKay is a member of the taxation committee, Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, special taxation committee of Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, and of the State Committee on School Finance.

Francis S. Guthrie was named first vice president. Other officers elected were: Second vice president, Henry N. Muller; treasurer, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.; secretary, Miss H. Marie Dermitt.

New members of the board of directors, besides Mrs. Tait, were Eugene L. Connelly, Grant Curry, H. A. Nomer and Theodore F. Smith. Members re-elected were Horace Forbes Baker, Warren I. Bickford, Dr. Ralph S. Boots, George L. Collord, George R. Gibbons, Dr. T. W. Grayson, Charles W. Houston, Charles F. Lewis, B. U. McClintock, Mrs. H. A. Machesney, Carl L. Pierce, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth A. Pickering, William E. Quinby, Mrs. Enoch Rauh and Arthur M. Scully.

PROGRAM EXPLAINED

One-third of the board of directors of the Soho Bath House was re-elected for a three-year term, as follows: Mrs. Roderick M. Chester, Mrs. J. R. Dunn, Mrs. Julian Kennedy, Jr., Miss M. Marsh Rees, Mrs. Arthur Hall Smith and Mrs. Clarence Bishop Steffey.

Chairman Guthrie, of the finance committee, explained the club's program being carried out under the handicap of small funds.

GROUP OF VETS MEETS HERE TO FIGHT BONUS

Heads of Legion Posts Not Invited to Keystone Club Gathering, They Declare

At a quietly called meeting of about 75 ex-service men in the Keystone Athletic Club last night, to which the various Legion post commanders of the county apparently had not been invited, the Veterans' Equity League was formed and a resolution was adopted opposing the pending bonus bill.

William R. Scott was elected chairman of the league, though Carlton G. Ketchum had the meeting room engaged in his name. Other officers named were: Secretary, Levi Bird Duff; treasurer, Robert F. McClure, and executive committee, Ketchum, H. L. Cobb, John Heron and William B. McFall, Jr. Scott stated the league was not formed to supplant existing service groups.

In a statement of principle it was set forth that the organization favored utmost consideration for all disabled veterans, their dependents and the dependents of those who gave their lives in the service of their country, but held that, aside from payment of the adjusted compensation, when due, the nation was without financial obligation to men who were in good physical condition at the time of their mustering out.

Copies of a resolution opposing the $2,500,000,000 bonus bill in Congress, in support of which thousands of veterans have flocked to Washington, determined to await final action on the measure, were ordered sent to senators and congressmen.

A membership of 200 ex-service men was claimed in a statement issued today. Despite the fact that a canvass of 35 American Legion post commanders of the 45 posts in the county revealed none had any data regarding formation of such an organization, the group's written statement claimed members as "active legionnaires." It said:

"Many of those most prominent in the formation of this group have served as commanders of local posts of the Legion or Veterans of Foreign Wars or in ranking positions in the county organizations of those bodies."

Nineteen of the 35 commanders said their posts had taken action demanding payment of the bonus. Fourteen said their posts had accepted the indorsement of the bonus by the Allegheny County Legion executive committee as expressing their views. Two asserted opinion was divided and no vote had been taken.

The Pennsylvania State Executive Committee of the Legion, meeting here April 10, voted in favor of the bonus, remarks from the floor charging the national officers with "pussyfooting" on legislative matters.

AGENTS SEIZE RUM, HOLD TWO MEN

Delay to Trucks Foils the Removal of Furnishings; Rendezvous of Politicians

Two men, arrested by prohibition agents last night when they raided the luxuriously furnished Amerita Club, at 34 Fernando street, today were held for a United States Commissioner's hearing June 15 under $1,500 bond each.

The men gave their names as Michael Grande, 47, 918 Wylie avenue, and William Lazzerine, 22, of 122 Industry street. Giovanni Adamia, of 1210 Webster avenue, furnished their bonds.

The raiders reported seizing four barrels of beer, 19 cases of Canadian ale and 84 pints of whisky in the basement bar of the club, which has been a gathering place for the high and low of city and county politicians for many years.

FURNITURE SAVED

The furniture of the well-equipped clubrooms was not confiscated.

Prohibition officials today said that they had called a truck from the Williams Auto Parking Garage, which holds the contract for hauling and storing of seized furniture, but left the club when the machines had not arrived at 2 a. m.

Under the law, the officials said, that once they have left the building they cannot re-enter to take out the furniture.

They were taken to Central Police Station pending their hearing before the federal commissioners.

Although the dry agents said they found only eight men in the club, it has been, in the past, the scene of some of the most elaborate political banquets and gatherings in the city. One of the most notable, according to reports, was given to Mayor Charles H. Kline some years ago.

The Amerita Club is said to be sponsored by Alderman John J. Verona, one of the chief political powers of the Third Ward and Hill district.

Prohibition agents claimed the raid was made after one of them had gained admittance to the club and purchased a drink.

BAN ON RADIO ADS OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP.)—The Radio Commission notified the Senate yesterday that any plan to eliminate the use of radio facilities for advertising will "destroy the present system of broadcasting."

This was contained in a voluminous report presented in response to a resolution by Senator Couzens asking, among other things, for a summary of the extent of radio advertising and whether government operation of broadcasting would be desirable.

Explaining that broadcasting in the United States depends upon commercial receipts to finance the stations, the report said:

"Any plan, the purpose of which is to eliminate the use of radio facilities for commercial advertising purposes, will, if adopted, destroy the present system of broadcasting."

The report said there is no government-owned station in the United States, and that many problems would have to be taken into consideration, such as financing, state and sectional interests.

House Bars Cafeteria In Federal Building

An appropriation providing for a cafeteria in the new Federal Building, now under construction at Seventh avenue and Grant street, was killed in the House of Representatives at Washington late yesterday, according to press dispatches. The Pittsburgh office was one of 15 affected by the ban resulting from a House campaign against government competition with private business.

Auto Injures Actor Stopping Dog Fight

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—(AP.)—Struck by an automobile as he was crossing the street to stop a dog fight, Ben Bard, 38, former featured screen player, was in a hospital today in a critical condition.

Bard is the husband of Ruth Roland, former star of motion picture serials, and now a wealthy real estate operator.

Fountain Pen Gun Fatally Hurts Finder

MONTREAL, June 10.—(AP.)—Emile Vinet found what looked like a fountain pen in the street, but it wasn't a pen. It was a fountain pen gun and it killed him.

When he tried to see if it had any ink, it discharged a bullet into his thigh. Gangrene set in and he died last night.

Jap Claims Victory Over Mah's Rebels

TOKIO, June 10.—(AP.)—Maj. Gen. Hideo Hiramatsu, with his 27th Brigade of the 14th Japanese Army Division, claimed today to have smashed the Chinese insurgent forces under Gen. Mah Chan Shan in Northern Manchuria, according to a dispatch to the Rengo News Agency.

The dispatch said Hiramatsu reported that Gen. Mah's troops were driven from the Hulan-Hailun Railway sector and were retreating toward Heiho.

County Contracts For Steam Line

A new steam line to the Allegheny County jail will be paid for out of county labor funds, as the purchase of steam will eliminate four firemen, four engineers and four oilers from the county payroll. The contract for the line has been let to the Campbell-Huggins-Donat Company.

MAN INDICTED IN AD FRAUD

Joseph C. Cohen, proprietor of the Emergency Trunk and Bag Company, 623 Smithfield stret, today was facing a court trial for an alleged violation of a state law enacted in 1921 against deceptive advertising.

Cohen was indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on information from R. S. Gallagher, merchandise manager of the Better Business Bureau.

Gallagher charged that Cohen displayed over his stores a sign which read in small type:

"This is not a"

Then on a second line and in huge lettering:

"Bankrupt sale."

SQUIRREL HILL CHURCH MOVED

To make way for a new $85,000 brick and stone edifice which will be started next month, the frame building of St. John Chrysostom, Greek Catholic, Church, is being moved 100 feet from its old location, 506 Saline street, Squirrel Hill, to a vacant lot beside the parish house. When the new church is completed, the old building will be used for recreational activities, according to the Rev. Stephen Kozik, pastor. The building is being moved under the direction of Kress-Oravetz House Moving Company.

Marathon Dancers Near 100-Hour Mark

Pittsburgh's dance marathon in Motor Square Garden neared the 100-hour mark today with 25 couples and one male solo dancing for a $1,000 prize. Three couples dropped out last night. Mattie Lamar, of 1831 Fifth avenue, one of the contestants, celebrates his birthday today.

Politics of U. S. Is on Its Way To Stockyards

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

The nation is headed for the political stockyards in Chicago.

It will be Republican pork against Democratic beef.

There will be no change of routine in the twin conventions. Knowing that the best man never wins, they nominate the worst.

The strong silent men of the country will talk themselves silly, the delegates will stampede down the aisles and America will take on a new lease of life, subject to referendum and recall.

The Republicans would like to turn everything over to the Democrats on the same terms that the farmer telephoned the village livery man:

"I wrecked your buggy and killed your hoss. Come and git 'em."

In November the Republicans will walk joyfully away from the debris. And the Democrats will be fortunate if they salvage the harness and the whip.

Both conventions will run along on orthodox regulations. The only thing that worries the Democrats is that the Republicans get to Chicago first and may eat all the frankfurters.

Mine Locals Vote On Wage Agreement

A tentative agreement on the reopening of Mine No. 2, of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, in Castle Shannon, was reached last night by representatives of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, and James Brooks, general manager of the coal company, P. T. Fagan, president of the union, announced.

Brooks' proposition to reopen the mines under terms of the contract of February 1, 1932, was to be voted on today by the four locals of District No. 5. The contract provides that $4 a day be paid to day men, 40 cents a ton to machine miners and 54 cents a ton to pick workers.

CITY TO OPEN POOLS JUNE 18

Outdoor city swimming pools will be opened June 18, the Bureau of Recreation announced today. This includes the new Lake Carnegie pool in Highland Park, completed last summer, and the one in Schenley Park. River pools, it was said, will be opened shortly afterwards. All will remain open until Labor Day. Attendants reappointed from Civil Service lists will be in charge.

Communist Meeting Halted, 2 Arrested

Two men were arrested when city police halted a Communist meeting at Forty-sixth and Butler streets last night. One speaker was pulled from his stand by the police, who also reported seizing Communistic literature.

The two arrested gave their names as Louis Filetich, 49, of 4914 Plum street, and Emmett Cush, 65, of 5225 Kincaid street. Both were charged with being suspicious persons.

One Man Tag Day Brings Jail Term

George Schiller, 23, of 2828 Harcum way, admitted in South Side Police Court today that he had staked a one-man tag day for his own benefit. Magistrate James J. Sweeney fined him $25 or 30 days in jail. He went to jail.

Schiller was arrested yesterday selling flowers which he said were for a St. Basil's Catholic Church benefit. Fire Capt. Joseph Carlin caused his arrest.

Man Hurt in Fight, Police Hold Second

A man was in the McKeesport Hospital today and another was under arrest, following a fight in Sixth street, McKeesport.

Dennis McCarthy, 30, suffered a probable fracture of the skull. Raymond Ethridge, 26, of 332 Shaw avenue, Pittsburgh, was held in the McKeesport Police Station pending the outcome of McCarthy's injuries.

OFFICER JAILED; BEAT PRISONER

Leonard Kieszek, former coal and iron policeman and later chief of police in Coraopolis, today began serving three months in jail, after being found guilty of aggravated assault and battery on a prisoner from whom, it was testified, he had wrung a confession by brutal tactics. Visiting Judge T. F. Bailey, of Huntingdon County, who imposed the sentence, also fined Kieszek $50.

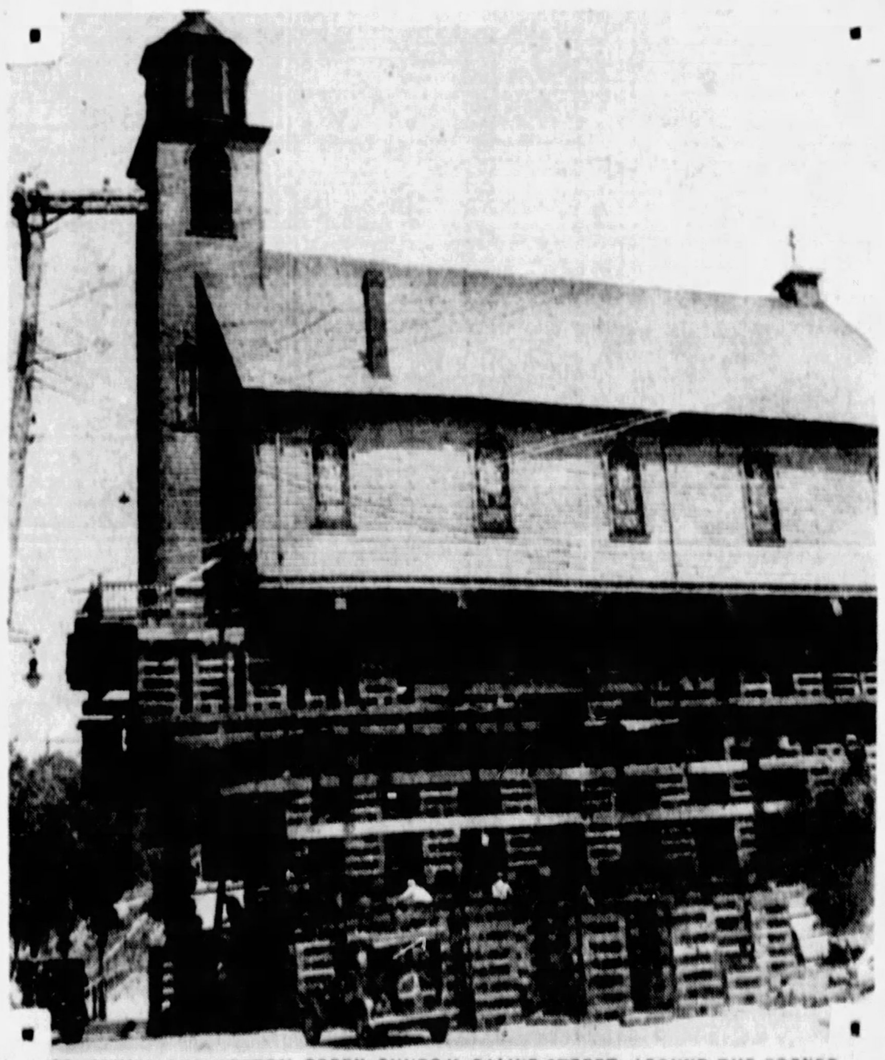
James McNurney, coal and iron policeman of Imperial, found guilty of simple assault and battery in connection with the case, was fined $25 and paroled six months by Judge Bailey.

Ship Seeks to Save 500 on Ice Floe

MOSCOW, June 10.—(AP.)—A dispatch from Irkutsk, Siberia, dated June 7, published here today, said 500 fishermen were carried away on a drifting ice floe in Lake Baikal May 28.

An airplane sent by the Eastern Siberian Air Fleet located the floe June 2 on the northern part of the lake, the dispatch said, after which a Soviet steamer was sent to the rescue. There was no indication whether the steamer reached them.

MOVING CHURCH ON 'TOOTHPICKS'



ST. JOHN'S CHRYSOSTOM GREEK CHURCH, SALINE STREET, AROUND THE CORNER

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 10.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

I tell you this country is upside down. Didn't Iowa nominate a radio announcer for Senator?

Will Rogers

Mr. McAdoo wisely says the Democratic platform should allow you to vote on the prohibition, or any other amendment you can think of.

Charley Dawes would make the best President of anybody in the whole country, but he wouldn't stay with it. The minute the new had worn off, and he had the thing on its feet, he would want to switch to being Sultan of Morocco. Yours,

WILL.

Paris Gown and Hair Modes Shorter, Countess Says

No women are wearing black in Paris this season, and all have their hair cut short, according to Countess Regoli, in Pittsburgh yesterday to show the latest things in fashion sports clothes to local women. She said:

"We all have short hair in Paris. Skirts for daytime are shorter, too, 13 inches from the ground for sports and from 10 to 11 inches for street. Evening dress continue to be long, however. The most popular coiffure is flat curls all over the head in the Queen Alexandria mode."

Countess Regoli, known as Vera Borea in the couture world, in less than a year has taken her place among the most famous designers in Paris. At Kaufmann's yesterday she said:

"Clothes are becoming more and more practical. Gone are the eccentric gadgets and whatnots women draped themselves in last year. Smart detail has replaced all superfluous frills."

White, off-white and yellow, she said, are the best sports colors this summer, while blue is best for street. A dove-breast gray, or pinky mauve is her favorite evening color. Shoes are quiet this year, in the same tone as the dress. Hats, shoes and bags should always match.

HOSPITAL HEADS SEE SLASH IN FREE WORK

State Aid Cut Threatens Closing of Dispensaries and Limited Patient Area

The Board of Directors of the West Penn Hospital at the monthly meeting yesterday viewed with concern the situation into which hospitals of the Pittsburgh district have been projected by the announced cut of 2% per cent in state aid.

In the year ending May 31 "free days" amounted to 31,34[illegible] costing [illegible] M. H. Fishel, laub superintendent informed the board. The state appropriation of $5,300 for the year left $160.48 of the free care to be financed by the institution, he said, adding that if the [illegible] amounting to $19,642 for one year is put into effect the hospital's total deficit for free work will be so great as to compel curtailment of free service and restriction of the area from which it originates.

WORK MENACED

He said:

"The private patient phase of hospital operation has shrunk greatly in revenue but this phase of hospital work has to pay its way and its service must be maintained. It is impossible to cut service here without demoralizing the work. If the state-aid appropriation cut stands we shall have no choice but to eliminate much of the free work now being done. We shall also be forced to curtail service of the dispensary which at present is operating at a new high peak without a penny of state aid."

Rural districts of Western Pennsylvania also will lose heavily if the neglect of their needy sick is [illegible] according to John F. Crawford, board member of the Eye and Ear Hospital.

MAY REDUCE AREA

He said:

"We're caring now for difficult cases from Oil City, Greensburg, Punxsutawney and scores of other towns where they maintain their own hospitals, simply because certain special hospitals have the necessary equipment to meet the needs of these people. We have never turned them away and don't want to. But if our operating deficit keeps growing we shall have to lay down drastic rules restricting the area from which we can admit patients."

Crawford said his hospital receives cases from all counties in Western Pennsylvania and has difficulty in avoiding cases from outside the state. As a special hospital employing nurses who must undergo specialized training and with costly equipment the institution's daily patient cost is much higher than in most hospitals while nearly all the work is free as far as patients are concerned.

Java 'Ape-Man' Declared Member Of Fair Sex

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP).—The fair sex scores again. The old Java ape man, pithecanthropus erectus, oldest known possible ancestor of the human race, has turned out to be a woman.

Study of the skull of the only specimen of this ancient prehuman creature which died in Java about 500,000 years ago, says Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, expert on bones and skeletons, shows undoubtedly it was a female. He would [illegible] in an announcement from the Smithsonian Institution yesterday.

[illegible] light on the sex of pithecanthropus is of special interest because he [illegible] missing link between modern man and his theoretical earlier ancestor.

Pithecanthropus was neither human nor ape, but her bones [illegible] Dr. Hrdlicka that she was well on the way toward human form.

New Plane Wrecked, Woman Ends Life

PARIS, June 10.—AP.—Newspapers today said Lena Bernstein, the woman flier who died at Biskra, Algeria, had committed suicide. The Paris Soir said she had been depressed by the destruction of her new airplane in a storm recently.

It developed that Miss Bernstein had left a day or so ago on a four-day trip to Southern Algeria without explaining her purpose in going there. Dispatches from Biskra said her body had been found at the race track there.

WAIVERS URGED TO AID BRIDGE PROJECT

Obstacle in Damage Claims Cited to Homestead Group Seeking High Level Plan

A delegation from Homestead and adjoining boroughs seeking to speed action on the proposed high level bridge to connect Pittsburgh and Homestead has been told by County Commissioners to get waivers or settlements of damages from the residents of Homestead and West Homestead whose properties may be damaged by the bridge approach.

The bridge was approved by Commissioners under the Armstrong administration. A design has been decided upon and test borings taken for the piers, but no actual work has been done in the last three months.

Burgess John J. Cavanaugh of Homestead and John M. Rice, engineer, represented the delegation yesterday. They were told the Commissioners consider the possible property damages a serious obstacle as the county has had to pay heavily in the past along similar improvements.

Four other groups were given hearings on road projects by the Commissioners. Other projects asked were roads to connect New England, Mifflin Township with State Route 885, improvement of the Williamsport road, Forward Township, improvement of Bower Hill road extension, and the widening of the Banksville road and complete construction of the Sawmill Run boulevard through the West End.

Rev. Poetker Heads Detroit University

DETROIT, June 10.—(AP).—The Rev. A. H. Poetker, S. J., acting president of the University of Detroit since last February 19, was appointed president for a six-year term yesterday by the Very Rev. Wlodimir Ledochowski, S. J., of Rome, general of the Society of Jesus throughout the world. Notification was cabled from Rome.

Father Poetker succeeds the late Rev. John P. McNichols, S. J., president of the university for more than 10 years, who died April 26.

Act to Extradite Rockview Fugitive

HARRISBURG, June 10.—(AP).—Pennsylvania's State Department had issued papers today to extradite Charles Ohls, alias John J. Roberts, from Alaska, to serve the remainder of his term in Western Penitentiary.

Ohls walked away from Rockview July 1, 1925, 19 days after he was transferred there from Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia. He was serving a 5 to 10-year term for robbing a Luzerne County store in 1921.

Boosts Store Sales To Increase Loot

SAN JOSE, Cal., June 10.—(AP).—When he failed to find a sufficient amount of money in the cash register of a suburban store, a robber remained for 20 minutes helping two clerks wait on customers.

When the cash on hand reached $40, the robber, with a gun ever hands, extinguished the lights, locked the store carefully, marched the two clerks half a mile down a railroad track and escaped.

Widow of Pullman Dies in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 10.—(AP).—Mrs. William C. Pullman, daughter of the famous Detective William A. Pinkerton and widow of George M. Pullman's nephew, died yesterday. She collapsed in the Illinois Woman's Athletic Club last Tuesday.

Mrs. Pullman was chairman of the club's board. Her husband, a railway supplies dealer, whose uncle founded the Pullman Company, died 35 years ago. She was about 60 years old.

The majority of these suites are two-piece groups. A large variety of styles, and in most cases just one of a kind. Remarkable values.

31 Suites Will Be Sold at . . . $50

In this group will be seen three as well as two-piece suites, and a few bed-davenport suites. A large choice of fine fabrics and colorings.

29 Suites Will Be Sold at . . . $65

Here are some of the most attractive groups we have shown this season, in two and three-piece ensembles. Quality through and through.

We do not mention either former prices or actual values . . . because we do not want to appear to exaggerate, and the truth in this case would sound like an exaggeration.

Open MONDAY WEDNESDAY SATURDAY Evenings

Ten days ago we had a sale of this kind! The suites were sold within twenty-four hours, and we have had repeated requests for more! To meet the demand, we duplicate the event for tomorrow! Not only do we include sample suites, display suites, and those which have been marred or scuffed, but we add thirty suites which we bought at a mighty concession from one of our regular manufacturers.

Notice that we haven't illustrated these suites. That's because there are so many, many styles that we find it impossible to choose illustrations to represent them adequately. However . . . you'll find the style you like, upholstered in the material you prefer, and in the color you'd like . . . provided you come in time.

HAWKS SHIFTS TO NAVY

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Exit "captain," enter "Lieut. Commander" Frank M. Hawks.

The speed flier, holder of more than 50 inter-city racing records in the United States and abroad, has forsaken the Army, which trained him, for enrollment in the United States Naval Reserve Aviation.

Enrollment was made the Navy Department announced because of his development work with high speed planes, his technical knowledge of aircraft engines and construction, and his knowledge of aviation conditions generally.

Hawks, who attained the rank of captain in the World War after leaving his sophomore classes at the University of California, resigned as captain in the Specialist Reserve, with assignment to the Air Corps.

After a crash, April 7, in Worcester, Mass., in which he was injured and his plane demolished, he is preparing for a speed comeback, with a new monoplane expected to be delivered in mid-September.

FARRELL, Pa., June 10.—Nineteen Polish societies of Farrell have joined to erect a large monument in Farrell Recreational Park to George Washington and Generals Pulaski and Kosciuszki, Polish national heroes.

Vegetation Abounds On African 'Desert'

JOHANNESBURG, June 10.—Deserts that are not deserts and lakes minus water are astonishing the map-makers. Exploding theories, Dr. Hubert Lang, explorer, said the so-called Kalahari Desert has rich vegetation. Lake Ngami, he said, is no lake but a large basin which may sometimes become flooded.

Women said:
YOU CAN'T USE ONE HOUSEHOLD SOAP FOR EVERYTHING

BUT they changed their minds when they used the New Oxydol

WHAT a pitiful story kitchen shelves tell of women's efforts to lighten the burden of housework—shelves crowded with soaps and powders supposed to make their work easier.

But there is one soap to do that now—the amazing New Oxydol does everything for you!

It's easy on hands, easy on clothes and wonderful for dishes. It does more work because it makes 50% more suds—richer, quicker, more lasting suds. Clean smelling suds that float dirt out of clothes and keep it out so clothes are snowy white—suds that cut grease on dishes so they rinse sparkling clean—suds that lighten all your housework.

Try this new soap. Use enough to make rich suds—it never balls up or leaves a scum—just thick foamy suds in hard water or soft water turned hard by dirty clothes or dishes. Ask your grocer today for a package of Oxydol.

CONTRACT BRIDGE -:- How to Play and How to Win -:- By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

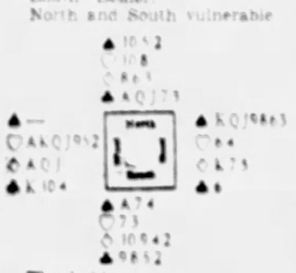
Players Must Guard Against Unmakable Slams

The bidding of a hand at contract is an effort to convey to partner a correct picture of the holdings. Good players do not open the bidding with forcing bids unless the hand held is so strong that partner cannot reasonably be expected to have the strength to respond and the opening bidder himself holds a hand which, even opposite a nearly blank hand, will produce game. There are even hands containing 5½ honor tricks, which should not be opened with a bid of two in a suit, a Forcing bid requiring that the bidding be kept open until a game contract is reached.

There is another type of very strong hand in which the strength is largely massed in a single suit and for the bidding of these hands another bid also a strength-showing bid has been devised. This is the Opening bid of three in a major or four in a minor suit. This bid is not a Forcing bid. Partner is not required to respond, but is expected to raise such a bid holding one plus honor or ruffing-trick. Inasmuch as a bid of this type guarantees the practical solidity of the trump suit a Raise may be given even when the Responding Hand does not hold adequate trump support.

The hand below, played at Tyrone, Pa., by Mr. H. C. Ray, who learned much of his Contract in the Congo regions of Africa through reading literature on the game, is an example of a good major suit bid of three and its correct bidding also illustrates another principle and that is refusing to bid a Slam unless the possibility of losing tricks to adversely held Aces has been eliminated.

South, Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.



♠ 10 5 2 ♡ 10 8 ♢ 8 6 3 ♣ A Q J 7 3

♠ — ♡ A K Q J 9 5 2 ♢ A Q J ♣ K 10 4

♠ K Q 9 8 6 3 ♡ 6 4 ♢ K 7 5 ♣ 6

♠ A 7 4 ♡ 7 3 ♢ 10 9 4 2 ♣ 9 8 5 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	3 ♡ (1)	Pass	3 ♠ (2)
Pass	4 ♡ (3)	Pass	5 ♡ (4)
Pass	Pass (5)	Pass

(1) West's hand is even stronger than required for the major suit bid of three. The trump suit is apparently solid and the hand contains 2 outside honor-tricks—½ more than the necessary 1½ for outside honors.

(2) East's response is clearly indicated. The bid of three spades is an indirect Raise for the heart bid.

(3) Void of spades, West, of course, now bids for game in hearts.

(4) East now visions the possibility of a Slam, if his partner feels the risk is justified. This bid warns of the dangers of a Slam try if the first round of clubs and diamonds is not controlled.

(5) West declines the invitation. Void of his partner's spade suit, he fears that he may lose tricks in clubs and possibly one in diamonds.

In the play North feeling that nothing could be lost by a trump lead, opened the 10 of hearts, and this lead justified West's caution. Had North instead chosen to lead the Ace of clubs, nothing could have prevented the making of 12 of the 13 tricks, but North's tenace holding in that suit, of course, made improbable the choice of that card as an opening lead. Even the choice of a diamond would still have made a Slam possible as West thereby could have established a second entry to the Dummy by once leading a club and ruffing the second round of that suit in the Dummy. The risks, however, were out of proportion to the possible gains and the Slam invitation was wisely refused. Due to the trump opening and the failure to find a fit in the hands, even five-odd could not be made.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Mrs. Culbertson will be glad to answer any specific question on bidding or play sent in by readers. Address her in care of this newspaper, inclosing a two-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S QUESTION

South, Dealer. North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	1 ♡	2 ♠	2 ♡
Pass	Pass	?

What should North bid, holding:

♠ Q J 9 6 ♡ 8 6 ♢ A 10 7 ♣ K 8 5 3

Answer: Two spades. This is a beautiful bid, entirely in accord with the principles of the Approach-Forcing System, and ripe with inferences. These inferences are: (1) The spade suit distinctly is not biddable (otherwise North would have bid it on the first round in preference to raising partner's minor suit) and partner must not raise spades unless he holds more than adequate support; (2) South without such spade support has a safe refuge in three clubs; (3) North holds Rebid strength and probably supressed a full or an optional raise on the first round.

Many Elopers Often Find That Their Real Loves Were Jilted, Says Fay King

By FAY KING

Many girls would not dream of coming between a man and his wife, yet they will break up an engaged couple without the least remorse.

Of course until one is actually married one is free to have a change of heart, and this should be the man's privilege as well as the girl's.

If the person newly met is the real love it is fairer to break the engagement than to go through with the marriage.

But too often long engagements become sort of matter of fact and the new person who attracts is not so serious as it seems.

A few have suddenly eloped with the new love to find that the one they were engaged to was their real love after all.

Tell It to Sally

By SALLY MARTIN

Do 'Happy Marriages' Exist Only in Story Books?

Are you married—and still happy—or do you think there "ain't no such animal" as a happy marriage?

"Disillusioned" is sure there ain't.

Why is she? Well, isn't she a Missus herself, and hasn't she a lotta friends who are also limping along in double harness, just as "disillusioned" as she is?

In fact, she insists she doesn't know even one joyful pair of teammates, so, according to her, love is just a trap, and marriage is the bunk.

Is that the way you feel? Or do you believe two people can travel in double harness and be happy comrades?

Gerty wanted to know in the first place. She'd seen some bad signs herself. We told her they were signs that there was something wrong with the married and not with marriage, but "Disillusioned" insists that notion is just a lotta hooey.

"Miss Sally Martin:

"After reading Gertrude's letter, and your answer, I would like to tell my experience, and to say that I do not agree with you. Your advice is usually good, but why do you judge people as you did Bob and Marie who, she says, quarrel so?

"Eight years ago I think Jerry and I were the happiest couple on earth, so much in love that we had to be together every minute. We were good friends for two years, then engaged for two years, and then, when I was 19 and Jerry 24, we got married. We were happy for just two months. In the first four years we had three babies, and by that time we weren't even speaking a decent word to each other.

"Before I was married I never called anyone a foul name, or used profane language, but since then I think I've said everything there is to him. I never kicked about having to work, or about living in cellars or attics, as we have had to do in the last four years. I took it, because we couldn't afford any better, and tried to make a home out of those places. I love housework and my babies, but I think I hate Jerry.

GIVES ADVICE

"We try to stick together on account of the children, but I know we will have to part before long, because we positively cannot get along. We just hate each other, and eight years ago we thought we couldn't live without each other.

"And that isn't all, for I can truthfully say that I do not know one married couple who can say they are happy—and I have a wide acquaintance. So don't try to make Trudy think that she and Jim will still be in love four or five years from now.

"My advice is to wait until you are 30 and see whom you're in love with then, Trudy. I love no one but my babies. I am willing to share any trouble or hardship, but we fight about anything and everything. I, in truthfully say I never nagged, but when two people can't get along, they simply can't. So think it over, Trudy. Get married if you must. But I'd like to hear from you a few years after you've taken the big step.

"What do you think about it, Miss Martin?

"DISILLUSIONED."

What do I think? Plenty, sister! In the first place there are plenty of married people who are happy. But they are not people who are so undisciplined and childish that they call each other "foul names" over differences of opinion.

Your brand of "love" probably made one of you want to make the other over—and make him or her believe and act the way you wanted, and when things didn't work out that way, you both got mad and began acting like a couple of cats in a sack.

And why did you do that? Because you're a couple of tired, discouraged people who grabbed off too big a burden in too short a time, and when your worried minds and weary bodies rebelled, you decided that marriage was to blame.

DIZZY CIRCLES

It wasn't honey. It was your blundering way of managing marriage that was to blame, that and your own lack of self-control and good sportsmanship. You say you don't complain about hardships, but every scene you pull, every foul name you call, is a complaint and nothing but.

You're not really hating Jerry. You're just running in dizzy circles.

Stop it, kid. Quiet down and cool off, and do a little fair thinking. Marriage is a job. You knew that before you married. And it is an uneven job. For the wife, the hardest pull comes in the first years, when the youngsters are small. But you'd be willing to take the hard with the easy, bad times with good, in any other business. Then why not with marriage?

As for Jerry—maybe if you'd stop being so sorry for yourself and consider his circumstances, you might not be so willing to call hard names; for life's no picnic for Jerry, either. Hustling for five people when you're not much more than a kid yourself isn't a joke, and if your partner puts up a constant whine, you're apt to go sour.

Ever think that maybe Jerry doesn't regard you as a perfect treat, Hon?

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Good Health Aids Child to Dispel Serious Disease

Bronchopneumonia, a disease extremely common in children, is not only a frequent sequel to bronchitis, influenza, measles or whooping cough but may also occur as a primary disease. Delicate children, especially those suffering from malnutrition or from rickets, are very susceptible to this infection.

Dr. Copeland.

Take for example a typical case of a child below par physically. For a few days the baby may show some bowel or stomach disturbance—a slight diarrhea, possibly vomiting. Then suddenly there is a fever, the pulse rate increases and the breathing is rapid and labored. In severe cases the skin shows a bluish tinge. There may be no cough or merely a cough of moderate severity.

Examination of the chest by X-ray or stethoscope reveals small patches of lung tissue through which the air cannot penetrate. As this condition extends to other parts of the lung, breathing becomes more rapid and an incessant cough develops. There may be no expectorations, as infants and very young children sometimes swallow the sputum.

The duration of bronchopneumonia depends upon the previous condition of the patient and the severity of the attack, but it is not safe to allow the child out of bed until at least a week after the acute symptoms have subsided.

Bronchopneumonia complicating bronchitis has a somewhat different onset, the child showing a rise of temperature and increased rapidity of breathing. There may be a bluish color of the face, and the breathing becomes labored.

Immediate and intelligent treatment is imperative because a system already weakened by bronchitis has but little ability to combat a new infection.

The outcome of this disease depends upon early recognition, proper medical treatment and skillful nursing, as well as on the constitution of the patient. Even cases of great severity may recover if the patient can take and assimilate food.

As soon as suspicious symptoms appear the child should be put to bed in a well-ventilated room, free from drafts, and nourishment given at regular intervals, since exhaustion is one of the most frequent causes of a fatal ending.

Certain cases of bronchopneumonia continue with but slight remission for several weeks, the temperature remaining high and the chest not normal, and this makes one apprehensive of tuberculosis, particularly in tubercular families. Yet when the general health of the little patient can be built up to par, even these critical cases make good recoveries.

Guard delicate children against colds, not by confining them in overheated rooms, but by building up their resistance and allowing them to play outdoors in suitable weather. The clothing should not be too warm, and the bowels should be regulated by diet. Pure cod-liver oil, especially during cold weather, is a measure of protection against colds.

Answers to Health Queries

P. B. Q. What can be done about a swelling around the ankles?

A.—This may be due to poor circulation, or kidney condition. It would be wise to have a urinalysis made.

* * *

W. R. Q.—Is it a good idea to stop eating meat entirely if so what good or bad does it do?

A.—A portion of meat should be included in the diet daily, unless advised otherwise by your doctor.

Household Hints

A little vinegar in the dried glue will make it fit for use again.

If your laundry bill is one of the items that must be cut down on the new 1932 budget try washing out the tea towels after each using. In the first place there are few things that will make an otherwise clean kitchen look illkept quite as quickley as a soiled towel. Then, too, it is amazing what a saving this will be on the weekly laundry bill. Wash them out in warm water and soap suds to which a little ammonia has been added.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The fiddle string neck needs anointing with lanolin or cocoa-butter and vigorous massage. Place finger tips of both hands in an up and down line in the middle of the throat, stroke upward firmly to the ears. Follow with a brisk slapping with the palms. Bind on a cold moist compress, cover with a dry one, say prayers and go to bed.

Simple tincture of benzoin serves as an astringent for the complexion that exudes too much oil. Get a half ounce bottle. Pour a few drops in a washbowl of cold water and use as a final rinsing after the face has been bathed with soap and warm water. Too much butter on the bread, too much rich gravy, too much fat meat excite the sebaceous ducts and throw over the complexion the oily film that is so maddening.

-:- Correct Manners -:-

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Second Marriage

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Is it proper for a young widow to continue to wear her wedding and engagement ring after becoming engaged to another man?

2. If the man does not give her an engagement ring, would it be proper to wear her first engagement ring after her second marriage?

WIDOW.

1. No. When a woman decides to marry for a second time she should at once cease wearing the engagement ring and the wedding ring that are associated with her first marriage. This delicacy of feeling would certainly be due to the man whom she is to marry.

2. No. Again delicacy of feeling would not permit her to do this. And I should think that any man would object to her doing this.

Tea Invitation

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Does a formal invitation to tea, to be given in a hotel, require an answer, and if so, what form would you advise using? The tea is to be given by my sister-in-law-to-be and her engagement is to be announced at that time. M.

A tea invitation usually does not require an acknowledgement. It does only when written on the invitation is a request for a reply: R. S. V. P., or "Please reply," or words to this effect.

If there is such a request for an answer, the form is the formal one in the third person:

Miss Mary Slade
Accepts with Pleasure

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Crazed about this new actress from the London show "Bow Be[lls]" . . . A fine half-page ad in the [Mirror] plugging her first Broadway appearance . . . "You a[re] indeed—when . . . [Coo]ed and was written on the [Mirror] . . . Well, she's a business . . . (On the [Geo]rge Raft [Sta]ble) . . . Dancers . . . Dan[ce] . . . Nine . . . is that . . . there . . . tives are . . .

Wh[o] . . . Camille and . . . a health . . . spectacle . . . needed . . . California . . . during the . . . Even the . . . spotlessly . . . Beverly Hills . . . others . . . They must . . . I spelled the first . . . the state . . . landers . . . Irrinstance . . . promised me . . . and Lig[ht] . . . change . . . sign at . . . fully.

Take an . . . Winchell . . . a baseball game . . . Yankee Stadium on the Sabbath and see a person named Babe Ruth make a home run in the initial inning . . . Go . . . what a thrill . . . That used to tell me that one could have a time . . . seeing the rest of New York—but I was always under the impression that everything happened between 42nd and Central Park South . . . As a matter of fact, very little actually happens along Broadway . . . But those of us who gather pabulum for the papers must make it appear glamorous, which it hasn't been for ever so long a spell now . . . Nowhere in the East is there so enchanting a rendezvous as the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles . . . Where the celebrated of the screen and even the lesser prominent sup and sup and stay up until almost 12:30 in the morning . . . Imagine . . .

It should please Tony, the best known of the speakeasy impresarios, to know that his hetters consider him one of the best of the literary and dramatic oracles . . . At any rate, so goes the chatter . . . Of course they mean he is not considered among those whose works he applauds . . . Wonder when Abbettina Rasch will quit using the now stale shake-hip routine . . . And which the newest of the expert caricaturists at Ramico's reopening will be eminenced? . . . If I were an immigrant who urged a local to direct me to the spots I would be delighted with knowing that Master Columbo is at the breezy Woodmansten Inn—that Mr. Ziegfeld's revival of Mr. Kern's "Show Boat" is at the Casino—and that the best entertaining spot is in a loge behind Jim Jam . . . What a shudder it must have been for those lassies that came up the steps out of a subway kiosk the other sundown . . . And one of them screamed hysterically because a man clutched at her form . . . Poor chap . . . He apologized as the gallants slugged him—not knowing that he was blind.

Among other things I mustn't forget to insert into the records is what really happened during the premiere at Grauman's Chinese temple of amusement in Hollywood . . . I mean the farce that failed to click with the premiere-goers—when Wallace Beery draped himself in rags and came out on stage after Will Rogers with a solemn face had announced that Miss Garbo was going to personally appear and make it a real event.

The Chinese Theater, f'instance, an elegant entertainment in itself, has a movie sidewalk and foyer . . . When the place opened it appears, Mr. Grauman, who reminds you of Morris Gest, found that the pavements had not yet dried . . . And so he urged such personages as Mr. Fairbanks and his wife, Harold Lloyd, the Talmadge girls, et al, to put their footprints, hands and their signatures into the wet asphalt—so that they would always be remembered, and so forth . . . Numerous other well knowns have been invited to do the same since the premiere night . . . But one of us refused when it was discovered that not all the stone blocks on the ground are permanent . . . Many of them are removable—and when your fame fades—that block of sidewalk is erased and you probably can't get into the theater without a ticket . . . Praise someone said, is satire in disguise . . . And one of the most difficult things in the world is to manage the temper of your friends when you first burst into public repute and leave them behind . . . The nicest thing about being ill is that it helps you find out which of your friends really are . . . And then remove 'em in . . .

Love, Murder In Fulton

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

The screen's "The Woman in Room 13" photoplays in the Fulton suggests melodrama with a dash of mystery and that is just what the picture is although it is also the police officers trying to pin a murder on somebody who are mistaken. There is murder aplenty and dirty work at the crossroads in "The Woman in Room 13," but in the end Ralph Bellamy, who plays dirty, pays a high price with it and Gilbert Roland, a tenor who preys on impressionable ladies, has been murdered, so everything is take.

The finale too finds Neil Hamilton and Elissa Landi, young man and wife who have been separated by circumstances aroused by suspicions that eventuate to involve both of them in the case, part of the picture remaining on a cot waiting outside the cell of a prison. Again everything is take.

The picture isn't as gripping as it might be with all the ingredients it has to make it so. Somewhere the maker has put in a little too much of this or left out a little too much of that because it doesn't exactly fit properly. The acting though is all right. Miss Landi is wholesome as an unhappy wife happily remarried. Neil Hamilton displays a boyish brand of he-manishness that is refreshing. Ralph Bellamy doesn't overact his vindictiveness as an "I-get-even" type and Gilbert Roland is natty and jaunty as a lonesome-ater. Myrna Loy is the woman of the title and rather colorless.

Jester

Harry Rose is seen in "Broadway Revue," opening today on the Penn's stage.

World Wide Buys New Wright Novel

The screen rights to Harold Bell Wright's latest novel, "The Devil's Highway," which the famous novelist wrote in collaboration with his son, who uses the pseudonym, John Lenar, have been purchased for World Wide's new crop of features. The story is a scientific thriller concerning a brilliant young physicist who falls under the influence of a strange powerful force, as the result of remarkable scientific experiments. The young man is released from the supernatural influence by the love of a girl.

New Pictures Billed

Carole Lombard and Chester Morris co-star in "Sinners in the Sun," opening today on the Penn screen. Broadway Revue with Harry Rose is the stage attraction.

"Pittsburgh on Parade," featuring local amateur actors, Joe Penner, Dick Powell, Sylvia Froos and Wells, Mordecai and Taylor, begins today in the Stanley. On the screen will be "Young America" with Spencer Tracy, Doris Kenyon and Ralph Bellamy.

"The Strange Love of Molly Louvain" with a new star, Ann Dvorak, in the lead, comes to the Warner screen today.

Coming to the Enright tomorrow is the film, "Amateur Daddy," headlining Warner Baxter and Marian Nixon.

"Careless Lady," a romantic comedy, begins today in the Davis. The picture has Joan Bennett and John Boles in the leads.

Jackie Cooper and Chic Sale will be on view tomorrow in the Sheridan Square in "When a Feller Needs a Friend."

The Avenue Cinema Monday will show "The Man Within," starring Fritz Kortner.

A film for women only, "Should a Doctor Tell?" will open Monday in the Harris. Basil Gill and Norah Baring head the cast.

NOW PLAYING AT THE STANLEY

Plays and Players

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

Although "The Animal Kingdom" will be minus the services of Leslie Howard after tomorrow night, the New York run which began immediately after the play left Pittsburgh will be continued with Henry Stephens in the role created by Mr. Howard, who goes at once to Hollywood. There he will be in the cast of "Smilin' Through" with Norma Shearer and Fredric March. The latter has been selected by Cecil B. DeMille for the leading male role in "The Sign of the Cross," that of Marcus Superbus, prefect of Rome of the time of Nero. Charles Laughton, British actor, will portray the fiddling emperor himself.

* * *

"Once In a Lifetime," movie version of the comedy spoofing the movies, will have Aline McMahon, the McKeesport girl who clicked so loudly in "The Mouthpiece," as the wise actress who becomes a Hollywood voice teacher. Jean Dixon played this role in the stage play opposite Hugh O'Connell, the nut-eating dumbell who became a movie director. The actor of the latter part in the film hasn't been announced.

* * *

Marian Nixon and James Dunn will be featured in "Walking Down Broadway." . . . Gary Cooper will play opposite Helen Hayes in the film of "Farewell to Arms" . . . George Jessel, who recently returned from a trip abroad, will go to work on a Chicago stage in another week . . . Willie and Eugene Howard, late stars of George White's "Scandals," are being sought for vaudeville . . . Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, composers of many musical comedy hits, plan to do a revue of their own in the fall.

Boyd Will Appear in 'After the Rain'

William Boyd, of stage reputation, is the latest addition to the cast of the forthcoming Fox production, "After The Rain." Boyd made his greatest success as Sergeant Quirt in the stage version of "What Price Glory." He has also acted in "The Sporting Thing To Do" and "The Lady Lies." John Blystone is directing "After The Rain" with Peggy Shannon portraying the leading feminine role.

By MARK HELLINGER

In Which the Customers Do the Work

SEVERAL WEEKS ago," writes Paul N. Flanary, of Nashville, Tenn., "I read a story in your column about a fellow who served 15 years in prison on circumstantial evidence for killing his wife. Later, according to your story, when he was released from prison, he actually did meet and kill her for allowing him to remain in jail those many years when a word from her would have set him free.

"You stated that the case had been the cause of plenty of argument among lawyers up your way because it was an open question whether the murderer could be tried twice for the same crime. I venture no opinion on that matter, but I do feel that your attorney pals shouldn't be permitted to rest too long. Just in case they need a new bone on which to chew, here's one that might do:

"As you would say, the young chap's name was Jones. The boy was highly ambitious and he had made up his mind to become one of the best lawyers in the nation or die in the attempt. His greatest difficulty rested in the fact that he had no money, and neither had his family. And if that's not a difficulty, Mark, what is?

"But this chap made the grade. By grabbing any spare time work that came his way and by passing up all the big time college whoopee schedule, he just about completed—with unusually high honors—the law course in one of our larger citadels of learning.

"There was but one fly in the legal ointment. He still owed a balance of $100 on his tuition. The $100 looked very large in his eyes, but was that going to stop him? I should say not. Being just as determined as he was ambitious, he set out immediately to raise the necessary funds that would enable him to graduate, pass his state bar examination and purchase a shiny new shingle.

"He met with many refusals but he never gave up hope. And finally, just when things looked blackest, he dug up a wealthy old gentleman who agreed to lend him the necessary funds. A contract was drawn up in short order, and young Jones agreed to pay back the loan as soon as he had won his first case. Remember that, Mark. As soon as he had won his first case.

"The old gentleman felt that he had done a good deed. He had aided a youngster in distress—and at no cost at all. He figured it would be no time at all before the brilliant youngster had won several cases and his money would be turned back to him.

"But alas! The elderly bird missed his guess in that particular direction. For, although Jones did get a few cases every now and then, an entire year went by and he still had his first one to win. His sponsor grew nervous and demanded his money. But Jones wouldn't pay. His excuse was that his fees were just barely enough to live on, and that he couldn't begin to pay off the loan.

"The old man fumed and threatened. But Jones refused to come across. Fed up with all this stalling, the old man finally sought redress in court. He sued Jones for the amount due him. And Jones, of course, elected to act as his own attorney. That's the way the case stands today—and here's the rub:

"If Jones wins the case, according to the jury's verdict, he will not have to pay the old man. But, according to his original agreement, he must pay up after winning his first case. So, if he wins, does he lose?

"On the other hand, if the jury decides that the old man is correct in his suit, Jones will be ordered to pay up. But he still holds the original agreement, which clearly states that he doesn't have to pay until he has won his first case. That hasn't happened yet. So, if he loses, does he win?

"That's the problem, Mark. Will you kindly ask a few of your New York attorneys to decide this one?"

I can't do that, Mr. Flanary. Your problem is not a case for an attorney. I'll do the next best thing, however. I'll call a consultation of brain specialists and see what they have to say about it . . .

* * *

"IF YOU" notice a great many public speakers swallowing their words these days," wires Al Schwartz, "it's not because they're nervous. They're just hungry!" . . .

This Budweiser Malt Title Contest is Open Until Midnight June 15, 1932

For Your Information!

Aside from the 75 years of quality leadership enjoyed by Anheuser-Busch, their products come from the largest and finest plant of its kind in the world. This plant comprises 110 individual buildings covering 142 acres—the equivalent of 70 city blocks. Into this plant go the very finest raw materials that can be bought. Out of it come products such as BUDWEISER, "The Nation's Favorite Brew," BUSCH EXTRA DRY "America's Finest Ginger Ale" and BUDWEISER MALT, "The Best Money Can Buy"—products which excel in purity, quality and goodness.

Remember there are 186 cash prizes to be awarded to those sending in the best titles in the opinion of the judges.

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE RULES GOVERNING THE CONTEST

1 You are not required to buy anything.

2 Write your title with your name and address plainly on one side of paper only, preferably on a sheet of paper the exact size of a Budweiser Malt Label.

3 You can use more than one word for your title.

4 Do not use the word "Teamwork" in connection with your entry.

5 No titles will be accepted that bear a postmark later than midnight June 15, 1932.

6 In case of ties, full amount of award will be paid to each of the tying contestants.

7 Do not enter more than two titles.

8 Suggestions must be mailed to: "Budweiser Malt Contest," Anheuser-Busch, Inc., St. Louis.

Important: If you send a Budweiser Malt can label with your entry you will receive an attractive Budweiser Malt novelty savings bank, regardless of whether or not you win one of the 186 prizes. These little banks will be sent to every contestant who sends a label. But remember, it is not necessary to send a label to enter the contest or to win a prize.

The opinion and decision of the judges will be final. No communications will be answered other than those selected by the judges. This contest is open to everybody except employes and executives of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., members of their families and their advertising agency.

Milk Is Said to Be Most Nearly Perfect Food

It is called a "complete food" because it contains carbohydrates, proteins and fats. It is also one of the best sources of minerals.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Formerly Health Commissioner, New York City.

It has long been recognized that milk and milk products are chief of our foods and highest in food value. Milk is accepted as the most nearly perfect food. Within recent years it has been carefully studied by many scientists. Its supply has been guarded to make this food a safe and healthful one.

"Safe Milk" is the phrase used to describe milk which has been of good value. They claim that produced and distributed under conditions which the most scrupulous mother would demand. Many of these elements are removed. Milk that is not clean, and is not handled in a way that does not pass rigid tests should be condemned. It may be that all of these tests never be used. It is a menace to health that so many suffer some public health [illegible] what is the point of the milk.

Many authorities claim that [illegible] milk is subjected to the process of [illegible]. It has been an idea that the loss pasteurization or other methods sustained in this process be half of destroying germs is not [illegible] supplementing pasteurized milk with orange juice or tomato juice. These juices supply the essential substances if they are lost when the milk is pasteurized. Bottle-fed infants thrive when they are given these juices as a supplementary feeding. Strained orange juice or tomato juice may be given to the infant as early as the fourth week of life.

GERMS DESTROYED

Pasteurized milk is milk that has been heated to 142 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes. The milk is then cooled. In this process all germs are destroyed.

Of course, dirty and contaminated milk should never be used. It cannot be made perfect by pasteurization or any other method of purification.

Milk is called a "complete food" for it contains carbohydrates, proteins and fats. In addition important mineral elements and vitamins are found in milk. Milk is one of the best sources of minerals.

A large amount of lime is found in milk. This mineral is exceedingly important for the growth and development of strong bone structure. One quart of milk supplies 22 grains of lime or calcium. In addition to calcium, milk contains valuable amounts of magnesium, potash, soda, chlorine and sulphur.

PROVIDES NOURISHMENT

Proper nourishment, growth and development of every young child are possible when milk is the chief part of the daily diet. Children who do not receive proper amounts of milk are undernourished and are readily susceptible to infectious diseases.

Milk is just as important for the adult. It should be included in the daily diet of every adult and child.

In these days of stress, when household budgets are limited, milk should not be omitted from the diet. Please remember that "safe milk" is the cheapest milk. Perfect health and safety for the babe, as well as the adult, can only be assured when clean and unadulterated milk is used.

For lunch

WHEN noon-time comes, why not fix yourself a delicious lunch — and one that's no trouble at all to prepare? A bowl of crisp Kellogg's Corn Flakes, and milk with a bit of fruit. Refreshing. Healthful. Convenient. Save time and money at any meal with Kellogg's. Quality guaranteed.

PRUDENCE PENNY'S RECIPES

CUCUMBER BOATS—Peel cucumbers and cut in halves lengthwise. Trim ends, boat-shape and cut off bottom flat enough to arrange easily on the lettuce. Scoop out center. Cut cucumber in small cubes. Slice one small Bermuda onion or any table onion very thin. Combine cucumber cubes and onion slices and season with salt, vinegar and pepper to taste. Fill cucumber boats and place in refrigerator to chill before serving. Serve on crisp lettuce with a dash of paprika. One cucumber will make two servings.

* * *

AVOCADO SALAD—One medium avocado, lettuce, French dressing.

One medium sized avocado will make four servings. Place avocado in refrigerator to chill before serving. Peel avocado and cut into fourths. Remove center, then cut each fourth in slices and arrange accordingly on crisp lettuce taken from refrigerator and serve with French dressing. A sprig of water cress can be used as a garnish. Care should be taken in securing the avocado, for oftimes they have been picked too green.

* * *

CRAB MEAT SALAD NO 2—1 small can crab meat, 1 cup mayonnaise, 4 hardboiled eggs, salt and pepper, lettuce.

Season flakes of crab meat with salt and pepper. Arrange meat and hard boiled eggs which have been cut in fourths, on crisp lettuce from the refrigerator. Add mayonnaise and a dash of paprika to each serving.

* * *

SHRIMP SALAD—1 small onion chopped, 1 cup chopped celery, ¼ cup pimento, small portion of chopped chives, ½ pound picked shrimp.

Toss ingredients together in a salad bowl and season with a little salt and pepper and small portion of Tarragon vinegar. Place in refrigerator to chill. Remove crisp lettuce from the refrigerator and arrange on individual plates. Remove salad from refrigerator and arrange the individual servings, garnishing each one with a small portion of mayonnaise and hard boiled eggs cut into fourths. Add a dash of paprika if desired.

* * *

PEAR SALAD—6 pear halves (dessert pears), ½ cup mayonnaise, lettuce.

Arrange crisp lettuce from the refrigerator on individual salad plates. Place each half pear on lettuce. Fill center of pear with mayonnaise. Pears should be chilled before preparing the salad.

* * *

CANNON BALL COCKTAIL—Melon balls, mint leaves, lime or lemon juice.

With a French vegetable cutter scoop out balls from watermelon, canteloupe, honeydew, cassaba or any melon in season. Arrange in cocktail glasses and squeeze over them the juice of fresh lime or melon. Chill thoroughly. Garnish each glass with sprig of mint.

* * *

ANGEL PARFAIT EN SURPRISE—½ cup sugar, 4 tablespoons water, 2 egg whites, ½ pint (1 cup) cream, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, candied pineapple or cherries, Rubyettes or Maraschino cherries, preserved ginger.

Stir sugar and water until sugar is melted. Boil, without stirring, until syrup spins a thread from tip of spoon. Add slowly to egg whites, beaten stiff. Continue beating until mixture is cool. Chill, then add cream, whipped, and vanilla. Fill small molds or paper parfait cups with this mixture. In the center of each put a teaspoonful of chopped candied fruit, preserved ginger, Maraschino cherries, Rubyettes, or a combination of these fruits. Sprinkle more chopped fruit over the top. Place molds in tray of refrigerator and allow two or three hours to freeze.

* * *

PINEAPPLE SALAD—Place pineapple slice on crisp lettuce leaf taken from the refrigerator. Spread pineapple with Philadelphia cream cheese, then add chopped nut meats. Add cream mayonnaise to which whipped cream has been added. Sprinkle lightly with paprika and place a cherry in the center for garnishing.

All ingredients for this salad should be properly chilled before making.

* * *

CUCUMBER SALAD—Three cucumbers, salt, lettuce, salad dressing.

Remove cucumbers from the refrigerator, peel and slice very thin. Add salt and a little water and let stand for approximately one-half hour. Several ice cubes added to the salted water will keep the cucumbers very cold. Pour off water, add vinegar and pepper or French dressing if desired. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves from the refrigerator or arrange on crisp lettuce cut in shreds.

One small Bermuda onion or any small table onion may be sliced very thin and added to cucumber just before serving if desired.

* * *

TOPAZ ICE—1 can apricots, 1 cup sugar, 2 cups water, 2 cups ginger ale, juice 2 lemons.

Rub apricots through a course sieve. Make a syrup of water and sugar, boil 10 minutes. Cool. Add other ingredients, pour in trays and freeze, garnish with candied orange peel if desired.

* * *

CHOCOLATE FROZEN CREAM—6 tablespoons cocoa, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful vanilla, 1 cup cream, 1 cup heavy cream.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Combine sugar, flour, cocoa and beaten egg yolks and beat well. Add to milk and cook until thick. Cool, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill, add cream, then fold in heavy cream which has been whipped. Pour into refrigerator trays.

* * *

APRICOT TAPIOCA ICE CREAM—2 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, 1 tea-

Save 2½¢ PER GLASS on your Strawberry Jam

The cheapest, most delicious strawberries of the year are crowding the local markets. So read below how you can make jam quicker and cheaper than ever this year . . . and then go to your grocer at once.

By Mrs. F. W. Bateman
ILLINOIS STATE JELLY CHAMPION

"I just hate to think of women still making jam and jelly the old-fashioned long-boil method. It's so costly. And so terribly tedious!

"I make all my prize-winning jellies and jams with Certo. And I would never think of doing it any other way.

"In the first place, Certo reduces boiling time for crushed strawberry jam, for instance, to one minute. And, of course, that is how it saves me so much money. For, with so little boiling needed, not one bit of the fruit juice has time to boil away. And as a result I usually get fully 5 more glasses from the same amount of fruit . . . and save as much as 2½¢ on every glass.

"Of course, this 1 minute of hard boiling also saves me lots of time, too. Indeed it takes me only 11 or 12 minutes from the time I put my fruit and sugar mixture on until the time my finished jam is cooling in the glasses.

"And with Certo you get much better tasting jam or jelly, too. Certainly the 37 prizes the State Fair Judges awarded my jams and jellies in the last two years testify to that!"

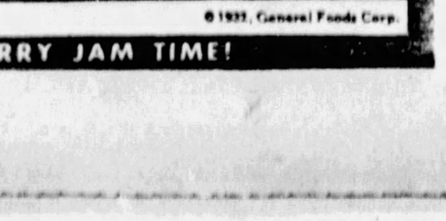
* * *

Why don't you do as Mrs. Bateman suggests and order a supply of Certo today—with your strawberries and other jelly making supplies? You will be delighted at the money and time it will save you!

And the extra flavor it will give your jams and jellies, too . . . if you will simply follow carefully the Certo recipes that come in the booklet attached to every Certo bottle.

So don't delay. In a few days this marvelous crop of berries may be on the wane.

Get your bottle of Certo from your grocer's today. It is a product of General Foods Corporation.



Mrs. Bateman is only one of the many State Fair jam and jelly prize winners who use Certo in making all their blue ribbon jams and jellies. Indeed, Certo gives such amazing results that today nearly half the jelly makers in America are using it. Why not try it yourself? It will save you lots of money!

Plump, Milk Fed

STEWING CHICKENS

There is quite a difference between milk fed chickens and ordinary chickens. Milk fed chickens are selected, first of all from only the very best flocks, then they are put on a scientifically balanced diet of cornmeal, oatmeal, bran and buttermilk fresh from the churn. On this diet the birds grow plump and evenly fatted, the flesh becomes delicate, white and juicy. Restricted exercise eliminates stringy tendons and forms the muscles into delicious sweet meat. Serve one of these fresh killed young birds in your favorite manner for Sunday dinner. Your nearby A&P market can supply you.

PUFF PASTE — 2 cups sifted flour, 2 tablespoons lard, ½ cup butter, 1 teaspoon salt, ice water.

Chill all ingredients and utensils thoroughly. Cut lard into flour then add just enough ice water to hold dough together. Place the dough on a lightly floured board and roll out. Dot with small pieces of butter, fold the two sides to the center, then fold at center so that there are four layers, then roll out. Dot with butter again, fold and roll. Continue in this way until all butter has been used. Chill 24 hours before baking.

RECIPE FOR TWO-COLOR MOUSSE — 1 quart whipping cream, 1 cup confectioner's sugar, 4 teaspoons vanilla, vegetable coloring.

Whip cream, sweeten and flavor. Divide into two equal portions and carefully color one portion. Pack in the two ends of double depth tray with division in center of tray to separate the two and to keep mousse piled to full height of tray while freezing. When frozen remove from tray. With a small round baking powder can remove centers from each of the halves. Slip the colored center into the plain mousse and the plain center into the colored mousse. Repack in tray, leave for several hours or over night. When ready to serve turn out and slice. The cream will have frozen solid again and the centers will be firm in place. Makes two ...

ICE CREAM FOR HOLIDAYS — ... ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup cream whipped, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, ½ teaspoon salt.

Scald milk in double boiler. Mix sugar, flour and salt. Add to milk and cook 15 minutes, then add beaten egg yolks and cook two minutes, stirring constantly. Add dissolved gelatine and mix thoroughly. Cool. Add vanilla and whipped cream. Be sure to mix the custard mixture and the cream thoroughly. This will be done the cream will not be seen in. Pour into refrigerator trays and freeze.

PINEAPPLE RASPBERRYADE — 1 cup water, 1 cup canned crushed pineapple, 1 cup canned raspberry juice, juice of 1 lemon.

Mix all ingredients together and keep in refrigerator until ready to serve. Serve in tall glasses with ginger ale cubes and fresh mint leaves.

RUSSIAN DRESSING — ½ cup chili sauce, 1 cup mayonnaise.

Drain chili sauce of its liquid and add thick part to mayonnaise dressing. Blend well together.

MAYONNAISE DRESSING — 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 pint salad oil.

Beat egg yolks and add few drops of vinegar. Drop oil drop by drop into egg mixture until one-fourth cup is used then gradually increase the amount of oil added, beating constantly. As mixture thickens add the rest of the vinegar, a little at a time. Add salt. Lemon juice may be used in place of vinegar, if preferred.

SHIMP COCKTAIL—If fresh shrimps are used, cook in boiling water for 15 minutes or until shrimps are red. Cool and remove shells. With a sharp knife cut out black line through center of back. Chill thoroughly. When ready to serve, arrange in sherbert or double cocktail glasses with a piece of lemon and with small cups of cocktail sauce in center of glasses. Or if this arrangement is not convenient pour two tablespoons of the sauce over the shrimps. When using canned shrimps, drain off liquid in can, remove black line and proceed as for fresh shrimps.

TEA PASTRIES — Roll out pastry to one-eighth inch thickness. Line fancy tart pans or fit pastry over back of muffin pans. Prick thoroughly with tines of a fork. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F.

New kind of soap flakes

DISSOLVES 5 TIMES FASTER

SHREDDED FOR SUPER-EFFICIENCY ... GOES FURTHER ... LASTS LONGER

● If you think all soap flakes are much alike, we ask that you try Werx an utterly new and different flake that comes to you in shredded form.

Shredding is a new and scientific soap-making principle that brings results as astonishing as the process itself.

First, the wafer-thin shreds of Werx dissolve 5 times faster—even in cool water and without pre-mixing. The rich, cleansing suds work like magic on the grimiest of clothes—get them clean without soaking, boiling, rubbing. Yet Werx is so pure you can safely use it for the daintiest of lingerie.

And because Werx is good for your clothes it's also good for your hands. Even continued use of Werx leaves them soft, smooth and young looking.

You'd expect a soap as good as this to be expensive. But Werx contains half again as much actual soap content. Thus less is required. It goes further—lasts longer—actually costs less to use.

If this is the kind of soap you've been looking for, call on your grocer tomorrow and buy a package or two of Werx. It will be the best soap buy you ever made.

FREE Clothespin Apron

Just buy two packages of Werx and get this handy and attractive apron absolutely free. Made of high-grade white duck with two large pockets. Regular 25 cent value. While they last you can get one without cost. See your grocer before his limited supply of these aprons is exhausted.

CHOCOLATE CAKE—1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup sugar, ¾ cup ground chocolate, 2 eggs, 1 cup scalded milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, about 24 lady fingers or sponge cake strips.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Scald milk in double boiler. Add to sugar, chocolate and egg yolks. Return to boiler and cook until thick, stirring occasionally. Remove from fire, add softened gelatine and stir until dissolved. Cool. When rather thick add vanilla, beat thoroughly and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Line a bread pan with waxed paper. Pour in a layer of the chocolate mixture, then place on a layer of the lady fingers, split in halves, or with thin slices of sponge cake cut in ¾-inch strips. Place in refrigerator for a few minutes, leaving balance of mixture at room temperature. Add a second layer of filling and the rest of the lady fingers or cake. When pan is filled, or all of the ingredients are used, set aside in refrigerator to become firm. Unmold, serve with sweetened whipped cream flavored with chopped maraschino cherries. Will serve six.

NEAPOLITAN CHARLOTTE RUSSE—Four teaspoons gelatin, 1 cup cold water, 1 cup boiling water, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Add salt and divide in 3 portions. To the first portion add ¾ cup raspberry syrup, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, sugar if necessary to sweeten, and red coloring if not bright enough. To the second portion add grated rind of 1 orange, 2-3 cup orange juice, 2-3 cup sugar, teaspoon lemon juice. To the third portion add 1½ squares melted chocolate mixed with 2-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup scalded cream added slowly, 2-3 cup chopped nuts. Beat 2 cups cream until stiff. As each portion of the mixture begins to stiffen fold in 1-3 of the cream. Put raspberry first into molds, cover smoothly with orange, then with chocolate. Chill, remove from molds, cut in slices and serve on a slice of sponge cake.

Ask to Pay Taxes By Work on Roads

WAYNESBURG, Pa., June 10.—Stating that they are unable to make enough from their land to pay taxes, members of the Taxpayers' League of Richhill Township passed a resolution at their annual meeting requesting township road supervisors to reduce wages on roads from 30 to 20 cents per hour and volunteered to work out their taxes at that rate.

Year In Federal Prison in Auto Case

Harry Thomas, 24, alias "Kid Kaufman," pleaded guilty in Federal Court yesterday to transporting a stolen automobile from New York to Erie January 2, and was sentenced by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker to serve one year in a government penitentiary.

The offense occurred while he was on a parole from the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, O., where he had been committed October 30, 1930, on an automobile theft charge, by the Federal Court in St. Louis.

TURN A TREAT INTO a Triumph

GLORIFY STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKES WITH CALUMET'S DOUBLE-ACTION!

TO-DAY—make the world's best strawberry shortcakes! The real old-fashioned kind—but with a tenderness, a lightness you've never known before. Fluffy puffs of deliciousness, rich and flaky—spread with butter and topped with juicy red berries. A triumph, indeed, to set on your table.

You'll treasure this recipe, once you've tried it. But this is important—follow each step exactly—and use Calumet Baking Powder. For it's Calumet's Double-Action that makes these shortcakes so gloriously perfect!

Calumet, you see, acts twice instead of once. That works a magic transformation. In the mixing bowl, Calumet's first action begins. It gets the leavening started right. Then, in the oven, the second action starts. It carries on the leavening. Up! . . . up! . . . it keeps raising the dough—holding each biscuit high and light, till it's beautifully browned—baked to perfection! And that's what happens to every cake or quick bread when you use Calumet. Two actions get on the job and carry your baking right through to a super-delicate, delicious finish!

Extra thrifty, too!—The simple tested recipe given here is a Calumet recipe—specially designed for the Calumet proportion—only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour. A splendid economy for you—thanks to the perfect efficiency of Calumet's Double-Action.

Be bargain-wise—try Calumet! Remember, Calumet brings to your baking superlative success—complete satisfaction—every time. It prevents costly failures. Added to that, Calumet is reasonably priced. That's why, from every angle, Calumet is a real baking powder bargain. Calumet is a product of General Foods Corporation.

INDIVIDUAL STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKES

3 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
3 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or other shortening
¾ cup milk (about)
2 quarts strawberries, washed and hulled

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll ¼ inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with 3-inch floured biscuit cutter. Place half of circles on baking sheet; brush with melted butter. Place remaining circles on top and butter tops well. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Crush strawberries and sweeten slightly. Reserve 8 whole berries for garnish. Separate halves of hot biscuits, spread bottom half with soft butter and sweetened strawberries. Place other half on top, crust-side down. Spread with butter and remaining berries. Garnish with whipped cream and whole berries. Serves 8. (All measurements are level.)

STOCKS DISPLAY STRONGER TONE

List Reflects Improved Financial Sentiment as Auburn Steals Spotlight

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP).—The stock market reflected a moderate but distinctive improvement in financial sentiment today.

A bullish government wheat crop report, checking the protracted decline in that commodity, indications of fairly early cessation of the outflow of gold and a somewhat more encouraging survey of general trade conditions appearing in the weekly mercantile reviews were probably the chief factors conducive to a better feeling.

Further skyrocketing of Auburn at the expense of the bears also had its effect. The advance was checked after publication of the unfilled Steel tonnage figures but the list maintained a good undertone. Advances of 1 to 2 points were common for a time. United States Steel and American Can lost early gains of a point, then came up slightly again. American Tobacco B, Liggett and Myers "B," Public Service of New Jersey, Union Pacific and Eastman lost about half of 2-point gains. Auburn shot up more than 15 points, then reacted 5. Case was firm in sympathy with wheat.

The upsurge in Auburn has been typical of this erractic issue. On Tuesday it sold slightly under 34 and today went momentarily above 60. Tangible developments to account for this upswing have been meager and apparently it reflected a scramble of an overcrowded bear interests to cover, when announcement of its price reductions failed to bring out the selling expected. There are but little more than 200,000 shares of this issue outstanding, so it is extremely sensitive. This compares with 43,500,000 shares of General Motors outstanding.

Indications that the outflow of gold may be drawing to a close had a distinctly favorable effect upon sentiment. In some quarters, it was expected that the Bank of France might complete repatriation of its balances here, probably around $200,000,000, within little more than a week, that the Swiss bank had about completed its withdrawals, and that Belgian and Dutch central banks had already done so. While the movement has not threatened to make serious inroads into our monetary base, a heavy outflow of the metal usually has an adverse psychological effect.

A clue to the liquidation of the first three days of the week appeared in the consolidated weekly condition statement of the New York City banks for the week ended Wednesday night, showing a drop of $78,000,000 in loans against security collateral including both the loans to brokers and dealers, and those to individuals. This was widely interpreted as indicating that the rally of late last week invited further liquidation of impaired loans.

GRAINS RENEW WEAK TONE

CHICAGO, June 10.—Bullish aspects of the United States government crop report led to higher prices for grains early today. The Canadian government report, however, made an opposite exhibit and was construed as bearish. Opening ⅝ to 1⅝ higher, wheat subsequently tended to sag. Corn started ¼ to ⅜ up and afterward reacted.

Advances here ran against free selling, and setbacks of more than a cent a bushel from early top wheat figures quickly ensued. Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Provisions reflected hog market upturns.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Rally Removes Depressing Market Factor

Acute weakness in the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit issues which had been one of the really depressing influences marketwise since the start of the week lost its weight as a factor at least temporarily yesterday. Pressure on those issues lifted sufficiently to permit a rather substantial rebound, though report would not down that some further selling remained to be completed. The preferred stock succeeded in recovering most of the abrupt loss sustained Wednesday and the common pushed ahead several points. Relief from pressure apparently was due in part to the comment in a statement by the head of the company published overnight.

"There are two reasons why I believe the rubber industry has turned the corner toward better conditions," says W. O'Neil, president of the General Tire and Rubber Company, now studying condition on the Pacific Coast. "For one thing, the international political influences which have depressed the price of crude rubber to about three cents a pound seem to have about run their course. Also, the vicious effects of price-cutting in some quarters of the tire business have made themselves so keenly felt that principals in the industry are now turning toward fairer pricing and better profits. Throughout the nation, there has been a definite improvement in the rubber industry in the past four weeks. Railroad men report that travel is much heavier today than for some months past. This means that salesmen are crawling out of their holes and are going after business, which is a healthy sign."

General liquidation in cotton futures, but coming mostly from commission houses, forced the cotton market down to new low ground yesterday. July cotton touched $4.96 on the first call and later sold at $4.92. Off 10 points. This is the lowest price for futures on the New York Cotton Exchange since it was organized in 1871. The previous low was $4.98 for November cotton made on November 4, 1898.

Directors of the Houdaille-Hershey Corporation decided to defer action on the class "A" stock dividend until the July meeting of the board. Officials said that while it was not considered necessary to pass the dividend, the management nevertheless believed it advisable to await further developments in view of the immediate business uncertainty.

The Ford Motor Company continues to step up its production program, planning under present schedules to produce 112,160 passenger cars and trucks during June in its plants throughout the world. While this still is considerably below the hoped for 6,000 daily output it shows a marked increase over the production during May which totaled 72,140 units. All the 32 domestic branches of the company in the United States are in production. Overseas plants are being put into production as rapidly as possible. All are expected to be in operation within the next week.

According to a report by R. W. Dyer and Company, sugar statistics of 12 European countries for the first seven months of their crop year, show the following results: Consumption is lower by 127,719 tons or 3 per cent compared with the same period of the previous year; production is behind last year by 2,372,495 tons, a decrease of 30.8 per cent; stocks on April 1, 1932, were 694,366 tons less than stocks on the same date last year.

WHY DID Owen D. Young announce he would not accept the nomination as Democratic presidential candidate if tendered him?

I've been mixing among electric men, friends of General Electric's chairman, and this is what I'm told:

Mr. Young was being importuned to undertake important public duties to render constructive services to accept leadership in certain economic-financial directions with a view to striving to push business off what he once called its "dead center."

B. C. Forbes

As a patriotic, public-spirited citizen, he felt he could do no other than respond to these appeals. He was, indeed, anxious to give the best in him.

But, he reasoned, if he did exercise anything resembling leadership if he did propose or sponsor any definite reconstructive action, if his actions did attract any public attention, the disposition would be, in many directions, to attribute his activities to political motives, to thinly-disguised electioneering.

So Young reasoned thus with himself as I get it, not of course, from him:

"I can render a maximum of service if I eliminate myself positively from consideration as a presidential candidate. Then my reconstruction efforts will not be misunderstood."

HENCE HIS uncompromising political declaration. No reasons were specified, only the statement that the motivating reasons were such as to permit of no argument.

Thus Owen D. Young could and did agree to head New York's Federal Reserve "prosperity" committee. Thus has he felt free to speak and act without fear of his motives being misinterpreted. More important, other influential men, no matter what their political affiliations, would not hesitate to cooperate.

Those who have the foregoing understanding of this business leader's course of action await the Democratic convention with peculiar interest. They recall and remind that the favorite candidate often has been cast aside after a prolonged deadlock and a "dark horse" named with acclamation.

History, they hint, may repeat.

I would add that it would take courage to voice any such sentiment to Owen Young face to face. He would, I rather think, regard any such intimation as an innuendo that he was a deep schemer, a trickster. And Young has never been accused of that.

What the convention delegates may or may not do is another matter.

HOW VERY little one hears of campaign talk when men of affairs chat among themselves. A few sentences may be exchanged as to the relative chances of Roosevelt, Smith, Garner, Baker, Ritchie, Hoover's prospects may be very briefly touched upon.

Then business invariably becomes the main topic. At the moment, prohibition is a popular theme.

The general attitude seems to be that the acceleration or retardation of prosperity's return is less dependent on November's voting than on other matters at home and abroad. Optimists are hopeful that the European uncertainties, admittedly serious, will be largely cleared up this summer and that sufficient reconstruction will be achieved here to revive confidence, stability, recovery appreciably by the beginning of fall.

Pessimists still proclaim "you haven't seen anything yet."

Haven't we seen enough? Haven't you? I have.

THE PLACING of orders for commodities and raw materials is the next objective of the most powerful "prosperity" committees organized in different Federal Reserve districts. Adequate credit will be made available to legitimate borrowers.

IF ONLY a tithe of the 1929 daring would reappear in high places now!

IN NEW YORK financial circles a very big new banking job is said to have been picked out for Gen. Dawes in Chicago.

National Steel Net To Cover Dividends For Second Quarter

—By GEORGE H. SNYDER—

NATIONAL STEEL Corporation will show its dividend requirements earned for the second quarter. Last year National was the only important producer of steel to cover dividend requirements. So far this year it has continued to hold this distinction. In addition it was the only steel producer to show a profit in the first quarter and probably will be the only one to show a profit for the second quarter.

In this summary of steel company results, the McKeesport Tin Plate Company has not been taken into consideration. McKeesport is not a steel company in a class with companies which make pig iron from ore and then convert the pig iron into steel. McKeesport Tin Plate buys semi-finished steel which it rolls into tin mill black plates and then coats them with tin.

National Steel Earned 27 Cents for Quarter

THE NATIONAL Steel Corporation reported net profit of $592,799 for the first quarter. This was equivalent to 27 cents a share on 2,156,832 shares of stock. The stock is on a $1 annual dividend basis so that the quarterly requirements of 25 cents a share were covered. Results for the present quarter will closely approximate this figure.

For the full year of 1931 National earned $4,443,323 or $2.06 a share. During that year the stock was on a $2 annual dividend basis. This rate was covered by earnings. Early this year the rate was reduced to $1 in line with the continued reduction in the volume of steel demand. The current rate, however, is being earned.

* * *

Bond Requirements Covered 3.34 Times

THE COMPANY HAD a funded debt of $43,033,333 at the close of 1931. This consisted principally of an issue of $40,000,000 of first collateral sinking fund gold 5s due in 1956. Interest requirements were earned 3.34 times in 1931. Earnings this year have not been as great as last year, but interest requirements are still being earned more then twice even though the steel industry is passing through the most trying period of the depression.

The first 5s 1956 sold yesterday at 68¼. At this price the $40,000,000 issue had a market value of $27,300,000. At the end of 1931 net current assets amounted to $27,884,466 and exceeded the market value of this issue.

The issue is subject to a sinking fund of $1,000,000 annually, beginning October 1, 1932. Bonds to meet this requirement are held by the company.

BREWING DOWN, MAIN LIST QUIET

Prices on Local Market Hold Near Yesterday's Levels; Volume Light

Trading was quiet and prices were rather irregular on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. Outside interest in the market continued at low ebb and such business as was handled was largely a professional character.

Pittsburgh Brewing, which had a substantial rise on the prohibition furore which swept over the country following the Rockefeller indorsement of the repeal movement, fell back today and sold under 4 as against yesterday's high of 5¼. However, there was no noticeable pressure on the stock and the recession was attributed mainly to lack of public interest.

The fuels were very quiet and remained at or near the quotations prevailing on the close yesterday. Industrials were dull. Armstrong Cork rallied fractionally from its previous price, recorded at the start of the week.

STEEL BACKLOG AT NEW LOW

NEW YORK, June 10.—(INS.)—Unfilled orders of United States Steel went to a new record low in May, it was revealed today, the corporation's backlog dropping 149,764 tons for the month to 2,177,162 tons on June 1.

This is the fourteenth consecutive decrease in Steel's orders. A decline had been freely predicted in the financial district, with estimates running around 100,000 tons or better. The drop was thus somewhat larger than anticipated.

The decrease in United States Steel's orders came in the face of low operations in the industry as a whole, with the average rate for May under 25 per cent of capacity. Last week the industry was running at only about 20 per cent of capacity.

Steel tonnage on April 30 was 2,326,926 tons. On May 31, 1931, unfilled orders were 3,620,452 tons.

CORPORATE EARNINGS

Imperial Oil, Ltd., reports for the year ended December 31, 1931, consolidated net income of $18,226,891, after income taxes, etc., equal to 76 cents a share on 21,557,496 no par shares of capital stock, compared to net of $19,020,360, or 71 cents a share in 1930.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Raw sugar was firm early today, with refiners continuing to show interest at last-paid prices of 2.65 for spots, with nothing firmly offered below 2.66. Futures opened 1 to 4 points higher and later showed net gains of 3 to 4 points on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement and increased covering. July contracts sold up to .70 and December to .54, but around these figure which represented advances of 6 to 8 points from the low levels of yesterday morning, offerings increased a little and there were partial setbacks under realizing. The list at midday was 2 to 3 points above the previous close. Refined sugar was unchanged at 3.70 for fine granulated, with a better inquiry reported.

BANKERS' POOL WILL EXTEND ACTIVITY

Banks Outside New York Will Be Invited to Join; Expands Buying Power.

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, June 10.—One of the important accomplishments of the Young committee of six bankers and six industrial executives in New York was in bringing to fruition the bankers' bond pool, which had been under consideration since last October.

The idea was originally pushed by George L. Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, but was kept on the shelf until now because until recently it lacked unanimous support from the leading banks. Now that the corporation is functioning, the next move will be to invite leading out of town banks to participate. The setup would also in due course permit participation by individual investors, but some of the influential leaders prefer to restrict participation to the banks. This is because the purchase of a bond by banks entails a creation of a credit, resulting in a deposit for an individual who has sold a bond.

Mr. Rukeyser

ENCOURAGES ACTION

The bond pool is one means of getting the excess reserves, created through the open market operation of the Federal Reserve System, into the hands of individuals who can use such funds as purchasing power. It is thought that individuals will not want to hold unprofitable deposits indefinitely, but may be moved to spend the proceeds for the building of a home or for other job creating purposes.

The Young committee, which meets every two days, has been deluged with suggestions from the outside of avenues for making use of bank credit. The large corporations, with huge deposits, are in no need of banking accommodations. Moreover, those who are richest in cash also find that their plant facilities are adequate and are up-to-date. Accordingly, they are disinclined to embark on large capital expenditures. Neither is there much sentiment in favor of a collective movement to put in larger inventories. More than a year ago, leading companies, including the Western Electric Company, General Electric and others, laid in advance supplies of copper, but such a maneuver did not prevent a continued decline in the price of the metal.

R. F. C. AID PLANNED

After canvassing the possibilities, managers of some of the great corporations, which are rich in liquid reserves, have decided that they can help most toward economic recuperation by using their cash to extend extra long terms to buyers of their products. One of the great electric companies, which deals with public utility operating companies, has already made known its new credit policy, and reports some constructive results. It is understood that the Young committee will encourage concerted action in this direction.

As for inventory, it is thought that companies will add to their supply of raw materials as soon as they are satisfied that a bottom has been reached. Plans are under way for getting the cooperation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to assure what in effect would be minimum prices for cotton and other great agricultural staples.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, June 10.—Erratic tendencies prevailed in the bond market today, with trading volume relatively small. United States government list displayed a steady tone although there was no unusual activity in this department. German government obligations steadied along with those of Japan, Austria and Great Britain. French loans continued soft.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and third seconds of dollars):

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Pirate Chiefs on Alert. • Mack Misses McGraw.
Showmanship of Ruth Inaction Hurts Runner.
Terry Looks Far Ahead. Use Toledo Bell Again.

READY TO CLAIM PLAYERS FOR BUCS

THE CONTINUED FINE work of the Pirates, who have lost only seven of their last 24 games and are just three games removed from first place, has not blinded the management to the need for some additional strength in one or two departments. President W. E. Benswanger, before leaving last night to join the Bucs for the remainder of the Eastern trip, admitted that the Pittsburgh club was facing the last few days of the trading season with an open mind, ready to consider any proposition that might give promise of bolstering the Picaroons.

W. E. Benswanger

Benswanger and Gibson also are prepared to discard a player or two at short notice in order to get below the limit of 23 and make room for any desirable timber that some other club may be forced to let go. It is said that only this week claims were put in for four players on whom other clubs asked waivers. In every instance, however, the waiver request was immediately withdrawn. Before midnight next Wednesday those players or some others may have to be dropped, and then the Pirates will have a chance to pick up one or more of them. Among other players, the Bucs could use another left-hand pitcher to take at least the relief burden off the shoulders of Larry French, who, in saving yesterday's game, was making his seventeenth slab appearance in the club's 46 games, meaning that he has worked in no less than 37 per cent of the Pirates' contest.

IT IS NOT only because he is a great ball player, but also because he is a great showman, that Babe Ruth can demand twice as much money as ever was paid to any other diamond performer. Attention has been drawn again to that side of Ruth's makeup during a discussion of his habit of swinging at bad balls.

Babe could get many more bases on balls each year if he did not keep on swinging at poor pitches. But it isn't a batting weakness or a failing eye that makes him do that. It's showmanship. He often swings on balls that other batters would ignore, simply because he aims to please the crowd.

AN AMERICAN LEAGUE pitcher relates that he often wondered why Ruth at times swung on balls pitched a foot outside or inside the plate, putting himself in a hole which he could have avoided with average judgment.

So he asked Ruth about it one day, and the Babe replied: "Well, they come out to see me swing, and why shouldn't I swing?" That's why Ruth will continue to be the game's greatest drawing card as long as he is able to go up to the plate with a bat. He knows what the fans want, and it won't be his fault if they don't get it.

FAR FROM HAVING any doubt of his ability to make a showing with the Giants this season that will lead to his being reappointed manager for next year, Bill Terry is so sure of himself that he is already shaping plans for the spring training trip in 1933. The New York club will again train in Los Angeles, and Terry will suggest the adoption of the Pirates' system, with a view to improving the Giants' schedule for the return trip. Instead of cutting back across the country through Kansas City, Springfield, Ill., and Detroit, he favors swinging South to Texas towns and New Orleans and then up through Tennessee, his home state.

Connie Mack

IN PAYING A tribute to John McGraw, Connie Mack goes back almost 40 years to tell of an incident that occurred while Connie was manager of the Pittsburgh club. He says that even as a player McGraw was a genius, and recalls when McGraw and Willie Keeler first worked the hit-and-run play for the old Baltimore Orioles.

"They pulled it for the first time against John Ward's New York Giants," Mack says. "I was manager of the Pittsburgh club at the time. The directors of the Pirate club called a meeting and wanted to know why our team couldn't play the kind of baseball the Orioles played. I told them that we had no McGraw.

"M'GRAW'S RETIREMENT MAKES me feel lonely," added Connie, who is now the lone survivor of the Old Guard, except for Kid Gleason. "I can hardly believe it. Why, baseball will not be baseball without McGraw.

"But I suppose he is tired. He doesn't like jumping around from city to city, while his club is making trips. As for myself, I'd be lost without it. I don't mind traveling. As a matter of fact, I think it helps to keep me young."

ANY TYPE OF athlete must keep working at his trade to remain fit. The latest to have the truth of this impressed on him is Percy Williams, Canadian sprinter, who won both the 100-meter and 200-meter dash in the Olympic Games of 1928 in Amsterdam. He is working out in Seattle, under the direction of Hec Edmundson, University of Washington track coach, in an effort to come back for the 1932 Olympics, but there is no assurance that he will be able to make it. Williams' home town of Vancouver is said to have innocently ruined him, because it idolized him, feted him, and made a continuous fuss over him, but gave him no chance for the competition he needed to retain his edge.

ONLY AT THE time Tolan, Wykoff, Bracey, Simpson and others were imported for invitation meets did Williams get any real tests. As a result, the muscles that carried him to victory in 1928 have gone back on him. He has not been able to make even a reasonably close approach to his old form.

Last year in a special race at Los Angeles, the Canadian star was beaten out by three men. Even a Washington freshman took his measure. So now, with another Olympic carnival approaching, there is doubt that Percy can regain his stride for the events in which he was the champion four years ago.

ONE OF AMERICA'S best prospects in the Olympics is likely to be Jim Bausch, Kansas giant, who in practice has been throwing the discus consistently between 160 and 170 feet. The world record is 163 feet 8⅝ inches.

Tex Rickard

Paul Jessup bettered the world record last year with a heave of 167 feet, but this year the former Washington star has not been able to come anywhere near the mark. His best throw to date was 150 feet.

A RELIC OF the days when the late Tex Rickard was staging heavyweight championship fights will play a part in the Schmeling-Sharkey title debate. It's to be hoped that it does a better job than it did in its debut, for it's nothing less than the famous bell that failed to sound at the end of the first round of the Dempsey-Willard affair in Toledo 13 years ago, causing Referee Ollie Pecord to count Willard out before he learned that the round had expired. The bell has not been used since the first Tunney-Dempsey fight in Philadelphia. It is now the property of A. L. Runyon, and has been kept in a Philadelphia exhibition hall as a Marine trophy. Runyon says he will permit the winner of the coming fight to name the museum where the bell shall go on exhibition. Schmeling will be allowed to send it to Germany if he wins. Sharkey has already decided to put it in the Museum of the City of New York if he has the say.

another United States pro who had 288 alone in second place.

Tommy Armour, the defending champion from Detroit, faded back on the final round and finished with an 81 for a 72-hole total of 300.

WALES IN GALLERY

The Prince of Wales was in the gallery of 2,000 that saw Sarazen play his final round.

The prince wore a light gray flannel suit and a large panama hat.

When he finished his round, Sarazen took tea at the home of Lady Astor, near the course. But the strain of waiting was too much for her and his hostess tramped out to the course to join the gallery watching Havers at the fourteenth.

The Prince of Wales strolled up and joined the party congratulating Sarazen on his certain victory. The prince said with a smile:

"I'm afraid our man can't make it."

Those closest to the pacemakers and their scores were: Percy Alliss, Charles Whitcombe and A. H. Padgham, all of Great Britain, 292; W. H. Davies and Arthur Lacey, both of Great Britain, 293; Fred Robson, Great Britain, 294; Henry Cotton, Abe Mitchell and Archie Compston, all of Great Britain, 295.

Sarazen's fine score bettered not only the British record, but was three strokes better than the best winning total in the American Open. Charles (Chick) Evans' 286 at Minneapolis in 1916.

First prize in the British Open is £100, about $360 at the current rate of exchange and not enough even to pay Sarazen's steamer fare, but the prestige that goes with the title probably will mean at least $50,000 to the American professional.

With appropriate ceremonies, the trophy was presented to Sarazen in the clubhouse by Sir Harry Mallaby-Deely, captain of Prince's.

Gene clearly showed the nervous strain under which he was laboring at the start of the final round.

UNDER NERVOUS STRAIN

With victory seemingly in his grasp, he lifted his head on his Mashie-Niblick shot at the first hole, the ball falling woefully short of the green. He ran up dead to the pin, however, for a 4.

Sarazen played calmer golf from then on, however, but a badly pulled tee-shot which was wide and short of the fifth green was followed by a short approach—a loss of two strokes. He three-putted the seventh green, failing to hole a five-yarder, but a 10-yard putt at the eighth restored his confidence.

Sarazen rounded the turn in 35. At this point somebody told him that Havers had broken the record with a 68 on his third round and the bad news seemed to affect the American.

All his tee shots were off line on the way home, and a missed four-foot putt at the twelfth suggested a possible disastrous crackup. Sarazen made a perfect recovery, however, after being twice off the line at the thirteenth, taking a 4 and holed a 12-yard putt for a 2 at the short fourteenth.

SMILES AT FINISH

Gene finished out with a birdie 4 on the last hole, just missing a seven-yard putt for an eagle 3.

A broad grin broke over Sarazen's face as the ball rolled into the cup—the first sign of a smile visible since he rounded the turn.

As he pushed his way through the crowds he said:

"There it is. Let them shoot at it."

His final round card:

Out 4 4 3 4 5 4 5 4 4—37
In 4 4 4 3 5 4 5 4 4—36—73—283

Mac Smith had the heartbreaking experience of scoring a 288 for a total good enough to have won all but the current British championship and the 1927 event. Smith, a native of Carnoustie, Scotland, has been striving for years to win the British title and, although always up in the running, has always been just a little shy of championship play.

Armour couldn't do anything right on his final round, even his irons failing him, and his 300 cut him away from the leaders.

The third and fourth round cards of Sarazen, Smith and Havers follow:

There is a possibility of some radical changes taking place in the City League standings after this evening's games are over. Books, classed as the logical contender for the crown now held by Dormont, clashes with the Stowe Geislers at the Stowe High School field. There is more than a chance that Dave Wickline and Curly Semler will be able to send a pitcher to the mound that will give the Olympic Park contenders plenty of trouble.

While the Books are trying to overcome the Stowe resistance, Dormont will be having trouble of its own with the Frank Ferris club. The hitting power of the Pleasant Valley entry was on display in the North Sider game, and Billy Fuchs will have to send one of his aces to the mound to curtail the bludgeons of the Ferris sluggers.

MARTINS FACE BUILDERS

In the West Penn League, the Martins will have the Turtle Creek Community Builders for the attraction at Garfield Park.

The Lawrenceville American Legion team will meet the Pittsburgh Cardinals at Greenlee Field Sunday afternoon in a benefit game for the poor of the First and Sixth wards. A number of the Homestead Aces will perform for the Legion team. It is quite possible that Miller, the Aces' star pitcher, will hurl.

U. S. Parade In British Open Play

Gene Sarazen's victory in the British open golf championship tournament at Sandwich today marks the eleventh time in the last 12 years that the cup has been won by an American player.

Arthur G. Havers, in 1923, was the lone Britton to break the string of American conquests.

The American champions:
Jock Hutchinson, 1921.
Walter Hagen, 1922-24-28-29.
Bobby Jones, 1926-27-30.
Jim Barnes, 1925.
Tommy Armour, 1931.

JACOBS BOYS SCORE WINS

BALTIMORE, June 10.—(AP)—Edward Jacobs, of Baltimore, former Pitt star, and Karl Kamrath, of Texas, seeded Nos. 1 and 2 respectively, won in straight sets in the Maryland mens' open tennis quarter finals yesterday.

Jacobs turned back Martin Buxby, of the University of Texas, 6-2, 6-1, and Kamrath, also of the University of Texas, eliminated Robert Elliott, of Baltimore, 6-3, 6-2.

William Jacobs, of Baltimore, a Pitt varsity star, put out Bernard Welsh, of Duke University, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Mrs. Jessup Meets Miss Hilleary Today

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—(AP)—The two finalists who battled it out last year for the women's Pennsylvania and Eastern States tennis championship face each other today for the same title.

Mrs. John B. Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., No. 4 in the national ranking, last year's champion, encounters the determined onslaught of the 1931 runnerup, Miss Virginia Hilleary, rising young Philadelphia star who ranks No. 9 nationally.

Mrs. Jessup reached the finals by defeating Anne Townsend, of Philadelphia, yesterday while Miss Hilleary was eliminating Alice Francis, of Orange, N. J.

COMMY TO CUBS TRADE LOOMS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 10.—Baseball fans of the Wilkes-Barre section were excited today over a report that Adam Comorosky, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder, whose home is in Swoyersville, near here, is to be traded to the Chicago Cubs.

The Chicago club is in need of a dependable outfielder, and Comorosky has lost his left field berth on the Pittsburgh club to Dave Barbee and Gus Dugas, owing to a batting slump. The Pittsburgh club is said to be eager to deal for a good lefthand pitcher. Trades between clubs must be made before midnight, June 15. President William E. Benswanger, of the Pirates, has joined his club in Philadelphia.

GIBBY MAKES DENIAL

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Denial was made here today by George Gibson, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, that a deal was on involving Outfielder Adam Comorosky.

U. S. NET STARS SCORE SWEEP

WIMBLEDON, June 10.—(AP)—The United States team of women tennis stars today made a clean sweep of the first three matches of the series with Great Britain for the Weightman Cup, with Helen Jacobs figuring in two of the triumphs.

Miss Jacobs paired with Mrs. Anna Harper to defeat the British doubles combination of Dorothy Round and Mrs. L. R. C. Michell, 6-4, 6-1, after taking the measure of Miss Round in the singles, 6-4, 6-3.

The American champion, Helen Wills Moody, accounted for the other victory by making a sensational finish to beat Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, 6-2, 6-4.

The American team thus needed to capture only one of the remaining four matches, scheduled tomorrow, to keep possession of the international team trophy.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Thanks to the courageous relief pitching of Larry French, the Pirates this morning are but three games removed from the honor position in the National League. The aggressive young lefthander from California was put on the spot in the battle with the Phillies yesterday, but instead of going for a nice, French turned the tables on Burt Shotton's gunmen. His mersy display in the eight and ninth innings enabled Steve Swetonic to record his sixth consecutive victory as the Bucos copped, 4 to 3.

Manager Gibson of the invading club this morning indicated that Heinie Meine would face the Phillies this afternoon in the fourth and final game of the series. Meine pitched a full game against the Cubs in Pittsburgh Saturday and came out of it with colors flying. He is likely to be opposed by Ace Elliott, the right-handed Elliott of the home hurling staff.

BUCS PRESS LEADERS

By winning yesterday the Buccos improved their position in several ways. The worst they can get in Philadelphia now is an even break, and if Meine is as good as he was Saturday, the Freebooters may make it three out of four. The slight margin that separates them from first or second place could easily be reduced were the Pittsburgh boys to open another winning streak.

Swetonic had to have a sprinkling of breaks to cop the verdict in his joust with Ed Holley. When Steve left the game for Pinch-hitter Howdy Groskloss in the eighth, he was trailing by a run, but the Waner act went over with some support from Vaughan, the upshot being two runs, which provided the victory tonic in view of the subsequent relief work of French.

Swetonic and Holley engaged in a merry battle. L. Waner started the game with a double, and he scored later on Vaughn's infield hit. Dick Bartell nicked Steve for a single in the home half, and Dick registered with two out on Hurst's double.

The Pirates took the lead in the fourth after Vaughan had walked. The rookie swiped second and Capt. Traynor weighed in with a single to put his team in the lead.

DAVIS HITS HOMER

Catcher Virgil Davis pulled his club back in the game in the fifth when he clicked a homer over the short fence to force a deadlock. One was out in the sixth when Bad News Klein tripled. Hurst followed with a single to put his club out in front.

Groskloss batted for Swetonic in the eighth and fanned. L. Waner singled and Brother Paul came through with his thirty-first double of the season to score the younger lad with the tying run. P. Waner went over when Vaughan came through with a single.

With Brame pitching for the Buccos in the eighth, Klein and Hurst singled in succession. Klein reached third on the second hit. But French, who rushed to the rescue, kept the enemy away from the plate. His was a fine bit of pitching.

MACFAYDEN BEATEN IN DEBUT AS YANKEE

DODGERS BEAT CUBS; CARDS, GIANTS WIN

Associated Press.

Danny MacFayden, the pride of Somerville, Mass., and the man for whom the Yankees made an important outlay of players and money last week, begins to shape up as the prize puzzle of the 1932 campaign.

He won 16 games and lost only 12 last season for the sixth-place Boston Red Sox and came to be recognized as one of the game's best pitchers. Then he turned right around this year and lost 10 of his first efforts for the Sox.

The popular theory was that it didn't count, that MacFayden's defeats were chargeable to the offensive impotence and fielding weaknesses of his teammates.

MACFAYDEN BEATEN

But the transaction had an entirely different complexion today and there was even some doubt the Yankees had driven such a shrewd bargain after all.

MacFayden made his maiden appearance in a New York uniform yesterday against the Detroit Tigers and lasted only six innings as the Tigers scored a 5-to-4 victory. They pounded MacFayden for 11 hits and scored all their runs before he was relieved.

The loss reduced the Yankees' lead over Washington to five games, the Senators grasping the opportunity to defeat Chicago, 6 to 5, largely on errors by Red Kress and Bill Sullivan.

Following the game, the Yankees announced the release on option of Jack Saltzgaver to Newark of the International League. Saltzgaver, an infielder, was obtained from St. Paul of the American Association this year.

Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 9 to 8, in a slugging match and knocked the Athletics from third place in the American League standing down to fifth.

George Blaeholder, of the St. Louis Browns, chalked up his seventh victory of the year as the Browns took their third straight from Boston, 2 to 1.

WILSON BEATS CUBS

Hack Wilson was the day's fair-haired one in the National League as he clubbed Brooklyn to a 5-to-2 triumph over his former compatriots, the Chicago Cubs. His home run with the bases loaded and a single drove in all the Dodger runs.

The loss did not deprive Chicago of the leadership, however, as Boston was dropping its second in a row to the onrushing St. Louis Cardinals, 2 to 1.

Melvin Ott's two home runs provided the Giants with another victory over Cincinnati, 3 to 2, and Pittsburgh bunched its blows to squeeze out a 4-to-3 decision over Philadelphia.

Sarazen Former Pro At Highland Here

By TOM BIRKS

Gene Sarazen, the new British Open golf champion, is a former professional at the Highland Country Club. Sarazen was born and started out as a cadide at Titusville, Pa., later became professional for the club.

During the winter of 1921 he toured the South and played in major winter tournaments, winning the Southern Open at Miami. E. A. Hertzell, president of the Highland Club, in March signed Sarazen as the professional, and he reported here early in April of 1922.

Gene played in the Pennsylvania State Open tournament held at the Allegheny Country Club. Emil Loeffler, of Oakmont won the tourney with a score of 138. Sarazen having a 145.

Early in June, before the playing of the National open, he went to Skokie with Emil Loeffler and played two practice rounds, and one week later won the national open tournament from Bobby Jones with 293. He came back to Pittsburgh the following morning in company with James Francis Burke and Bob Harlow.

President Hertsell, of Highland, at Sarazen's request, released him from his contract with the club. He signed a contract to tour the country with Walter Hagen under Harlow's management, and left the club the same day.

He came back to Pittsburgh for the qualifying round of the P. G. A. tournament at the Field Club. Emil Loeffler again winning, beating Sarazen by a stroke. Sarazen, however, won the P. G. A. at Oakmont in the fall of that year, beating Emmett French, then of Youngstown, O., in the final round.

STARS ADVANCE AT MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 10—(AP)—Cliff Sutter, of New Orleans' Tulane star, Bryan Grant of Atlanta, and Berkeley Bell, New York, marched into the semi-finals of the National Clay courts tournament yesterday, the latter two over opponents who stubbornly contested every inch of ground.

The graceful Sutter delighted one of the largest galleries ever in attendance at a tennis tourney here by the seeming ease with which he defeated Robert (Lefty) Bryan, Chattanooga, Tennessee state champion, in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

The going was harder for the other favorites. Bell defeated John McDiarmid, of Fort Worth, in one of the longest matches of the day. After dropping the first set, 2-6, the New Yorker took the next two, 6-1, 6-3, and was forced into a tie when McDiarmid took the fourth, 6-3. Bell drew upon his reserve strength to win the fifth and deciding set, 6-1.

The diminutive Grant lost his second set, 2-6, to Billy Hughes, Memphis City champion, but was never in any real danger, although the Memphian fought furiously all through the match. Grant won, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Amateur bouts under auspices of Fire Department No. 1, New Kensington, Pa.: Buddy MacArthur vs. Tom McCafferty, 10 rounds, Fairmont, W. Va.

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

A small crowd sat chilled through the third boxing show within four nights in the Pittsburgh district as the week's program was completed at Hickey Park, Millvale, last night. In fact, so sparse was the attendance that Paulie Walker, of New York, highly-rated welterweight, balked at going through with his windup engagement with Davy Grove, of the North Side, and had to be forced into line by the boxing commission's officials, according to word drifting down to the ringside from the dressing quarters.

And that wasn't the worst of it from Walker's standpoint. He won the fight, but had to be satisfied with a draw decision from the referee after the judges had split, L. K. Meininger voting for Walker and Frank Ferris for Grove. It was a close affair, with Grove getting off to a big lead in the first five rounds during which he boxed well and also scored cleanly to the body, but wilting thereafter as the more rugged Walker came on to force the going. Walker wiped out the edge and had one of his own at the final bell.

BAXTER BEATS DEAN

Charley Baxter, of McKees Rocks, whipped Jimmy Dean, Erie Negro lightweight, in the six-round semi-final. Fritzie Zivic, of Lawrenceville, laced Young Lowstetter, of McKeesport, in the second bout, scoring two knockdowns for counts of nine in the third round, and Eddie Zivic bested Charley Blosevich, of St. Michaels, Pa., in the six-round opener.

Red Robinson refereed all of the bouts and stood up under two good punches accidently landed by Baxter. He had to shake his head vigorously to rid himself of the effects of the first one. It was announced another show will be held in the same arena next Thursday night.

Between Rounds

A series of amateur boxing bouts will feature a fish fry at Dilan Gentle at Turner Para, West View, tomorrow afternoon.

The rip is out that the scheduling Sharkey bout may be postponed again because of lack of interest. Also that Schmeling is booking with favor upon a bout with Mickey Walker in Los Angeles before the end of the year.

From Chicago comes the news that Jackie Fields is now in the hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for his eyes tomorrow and after resting up a few weeks will resume training and will come here to box Ted Yarosz before going through with his title match with Young Corbett in California.

Local talent comes into its own again at the big local club that week when the Meyers Bowl will feature home-grown boxers in the preliminary card to go to Ted Yarosz-Young Jackson main event. Monday night. Mona Burns meets Babe Collins in the eight rounds semi-final. Steve Resnick of Homestead will oppose Frisco Zivic of Lawrenceville, in the second bout, and Max Eisley, of the Hill, will go against Packy McFarland, recent importation from Ohio, in the opener.

Matchmaker Jules Bock is at work on the preliminary card for his Billy Petrolle-Tommy Grogan show at Greenlee Field next Wednesday night.

Jimmy Gilligan is back in town from Ohio and anxious to meet any of the bantamweights. He defeated Sammy Aste and Young Ketchel in recent bouts.

Pat Miller, who faced Johnny Datto at Greenlee Field last Wednesday night, is back under the management of Joe Glaser, of Chicago, after an absence of several years and is getting his way to winning form again. He will return here soon for a match as a result of his showing against Datto.

Tommy Grogan defeated Lloyd Smith and Johnny Lamar in California before being knocked out by Goldie Hess there recently. He explains the Hess defeat by saying he was hurt by Hess' first punch and did not recover, being stopped in 31 seconds.

Jack Sharkey is getting quite a kick out of the fact that Ernie Schaaf, of whom he is part-manager, is finding it difficult to stop his opponents, recent starts showing, was saying Ernie really could beat Sharkey.

Lewis Beats Shikat In Bowl Opener

NEW YORK, June 10—(AP.)—Calmly, almost apathetically, a herd of wrestlers, headed by Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the ancient caveman of Kentucky, and "Ruthless" Richard Shikat, of Germany opened Madison Square Garden's new outdoor bowl on Long Island last night.

That portion of the crowd of about 35,000 that came to see the wrestling watched Lewis, old and fat, throw Shikat, young and powerful, in 1 hour 6 minutes 7 seconds with a head lock.

About the time the friendly folk had seen all there was of the place, those who came only for the wrestling were booing gently. As the curfew hour of 11 p. m. impended, Lewis came suddenly to life, beat the youthful Shikat brutally about the body with both fists, threw him violently to the mat, and pinned him, to the great surprise of all.

Wood and Mangin Win Doubles Match

EASTBOURNE, England, June 10—(AP.)—Sidney B. Wood, Jr., and Gregory Mangin, representing the United States in an informal tennis series with a British team, forged to the front today by winning the doubles from Ian Collins and J. C. Gregory, 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 10-8.

WESTMORELAND WINS SECTION II TITLE

By TOM BIRKS

The Westmoreland Country Club women's golf team clinched the championship of Section II in the women's team competition of Western Pennsylvania today when it defeated the Country Club of Pittsburgh representatives 5 to 2 over the Shannopin Country Club layout. The victory gave the Westmoreland women a total of 31 points for the season, assuring them of highest honors. The summary:

Westmoreland 5, Country Club 2.

Mrs. Louis A. Friedman and Mrs. Chester Lehman, 2 points; Miss Wood, Trafton and Mrs. [illegible], no points.

Mrs. Hugh Scanlon and Mrs. Verner Coleman, no points; Mrs. George Kinnear, Jr., and Mrs. J. E. Jackson, 2 points.

Mrs. J. Waterman and Mrs. F. Reed Bell, 2 points; Miss Louise Adams and Mrs. George Mason, 0 points.

Ken Witherow will be in charge tonight as the draw is made for the sectional qualifying round for the half dozen places allotted the district in the national public links championship tournament to be held this year at Louisville. The local test will be staged at Schenley next Tuesday, with a field of some 50 golfers expected.

ROGERS WINS SCHOOL MEET

The boy and girl track and field stars of the Rogers School captured top honors in the annual championship meet of seventh and eighth grade teams of Pittsburgh elementary schools, held on the Schenley High School field yesterday.

Thirty-nine schools were represented by some 1,000 athletes in one of the most colorful and closely contested affairs ever staged by local schools.

The Rogers athletes finished in front with 41 points, with Lemington second with 28, Beltzhoover third with 24, Forbes fourth with 23, Bechwood fifth with 12, Allen with 11, Morningside with 9, Fort Pitt, Friendship and Greenfield with 7 each, Frick, Fulton and O'Hara with 6, Garfield and McCleary with 4, McNaugher with 2 and Lawrence, Logan and Westlake with 1 each, trailing the leaders.

In feature races Dietz, of Allen, captured the 50-yard dash in 80-pound class in 6.5, Rapetta, of Friendship, won the unlimited 75-yard sprint in 8.4, and E. Sherman, of Holmes, equaled this mark in the 115-pound class dash.

Nick Altrock Baseball's Humorist Says:

CHICAGO, June 10.—There are only two things that stand between our Washington club and the pennant and those are two pitchers we ain't got. The guy that wanted to swap his kingdom for a hoss made only a mild offer compared to what Griff would give for a brace of Grade A hurlers.

Nick Altrock

The Yankees got MacFayden from the Red Sox which sets the Yanks very pretty and doesn't damage the Red Sox any as they can still blow ball games on no-hit pitching.

Well, I've been in Chicago three days now and things are swell. The King of the Beer Runners may be in Atlanta, but his crown princes seem to be right on the job.

A. L. PLAYOFF DATES SET

CHICAGO, June 10—(AP.)—The American League has issued the following revised recapitulation of all dates on which postponed games will be played off.

U. S. CUP STARS BLANK BRAZIL IN SINGLES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., June 10—(AP.)—The United States Davis Cup squad got away to a commanding lead in its series with Brazil yesterday by sweeping the opening singles matches with the loss of only one set and practically assured its participation in the interzone finals at Paris later in the month.

Frank Shields, the country's third ranking player, subdued Ricardo Pernambuco, a hard-fighting Brazilian, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6, in the opening match of the series. Wilmer Allison followed his lead by overwhelming Nelson Cruz champion of the visiting squad, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

SHIELDS PRESSED

Shields was given a run for his money before he finally vanquished Pernambuco, who suffered one and all on the excellence of his play, but Allison had little difficulty downing his opponent. Cruz made a game fight in the initial set, but fell heavily on his right elbow at the outset of the second and thereafter was able to offer but little opposition for the Texan.

The two victories made it possible for the United States to clinch the series in today's doubles match, provided Allison and his partner, Johnny Van Ryn, are winners over the Brazilian combination.

There was some doubt as to what pair would carry on for the invaders. Ivo Simoni was a fixture on the South American doubles team, but they had not decided whether Pernambuco or Carlos Aranha would play with him.

ESTER BRITISH PLAY

NEW YORK, June 10—(AP.)—Not only Ellsworth Vines, but all the other members of the American Davis Cup team will compete in the British tennis championships at Wimbledon, it became known today.

Frank Shields, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, it was understood, have booked passage on the Europa, leaving here next Tuesday, and will arrive in England just before the championships open Monday, June 20.

"What's in a name?" said SHAKESPEARE

"EVERYTHING" say RICHMAN BROTHERS

Take clothes, for example. The name Richman in a suit means that it was made of the finest fabrics woven in the United States . . . tailored by experts in the world's largest and finest tailoring shops.

The signature of Richman Brothers on a garment means that it was made by people who are loyal to their standards of quality. It means that you buy direct from factory and save the middleman's profit.

It means that you get more quality, smarter style, better fit and a larger selection . . . and that 20 is the limit.

Movie Stars and Gov. Rolph In Shrine Song Contest Program on WCAE

A unique broadcast featuring three screen stars, two orchestras and Gov. James Rolph, Jr., of California, will be heard over WCAE and the NBC network from 11 p. m. until midnight during the Shrine convention which opens in San Francisco on June 11. The winner of a five hundred dollar prize for the best song submitted in the Shrine song contest will be chosen by a committee of judges, including Irving Berlin, composer, who will direct the NBC's New York orchestra.

Walter Huston, Ruth Chatterton and Ann Harding will participate in the ceremonies and Conrad Thibault, baritone, will sing the prize song. Gov. Rolph will deliver an address of greeting. The orchestras will be those of Meredith Willson, Temple and the Irvin Aaronson band.

Jointly conducting his own famous band and Nat Shilkret's Salon Orchestra, Edwin Franko Goldman presents one of his first summer concerts as guest artist on the Kodak Week-end Hour on WJAS tonight at 8. The noted bandmaster directs the massed members of both groups in Sousa's stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever," his own composition "On the Mall" and Ravel's "Bolero."

The Associated Glee Clubs of America, singing from the Auditorium of Westchester County Center, White Plains, N. Y., are presented in a special network broadcast heard over WCAE tonight from 10 to 11.

* * *

Program Pointers

Edna Kellogg, soprano, is heard in another of her song groups when she is featured with Roy Shield's Orchestra and a male quartet on KDKA tonight at 9:30. Included on the program are "An Orange Grove in California" and "Lady of the Evening" from the Berlin Music Box Revue. . . . On WCAE tonight at 8, Jessica Dragonette, soprano, the Cavaliers Quartet and an orchestra directed by Rosario Bourdon are heard in a varied program of light classical and popular selections.

Miss Kellogg

The a capella choir of Peabody High School, comprised of 110 students, presents its annual broadcast from KDKA today at 4:45.

Little Jack Little's "In a Shanty in Old Shanty Town" is featured by Leo Reisman and his orchestra on WCAE at 9:30.

Portions of the sesqui-centennial celebration and commencement exercises of Washington College, Chestertown, Md., will be heard over an NBC network including WCAE tomorrow from 12 noon to 1 p. m. The broadcast also will be short-waved to Germany.

Speakers during the celebration which will be conducted on the college campus include Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland; Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, and Count von Prittwitz, German ambassador to the United States.

Lewis Mumford, baritone, who recently joined the WJAS announcing staff, gives his second broadcast from the studios of WJAS at 10:45 tonight. His program consists of old and new favorites.

* * *

Fan Fare

Miss Lewis, one of the best liked singers in the Pittsburgh radio family, every morning except Sunday, she turns out early to chat with the radio audience on WJAS from 8 to 8:30. She is a Pittsburgh girl—dramatic actress, continuity and radio drama writer, musician and singer and has been on the stage. Gordon Lewis, whose first name in boyhood was made from an old cigar box, presented the first of a new weekly series of concerts over an NBC network including WCAE today at 10:30 a. m. as the "Sterling Pioneer."

Miss Lewis

Regal signs of summer: NBC announcers are wearing white flannel outfits to replace the customary tuxedos during evening broadcasts.

Walter O'Keefe, the new master of ceremonies for the cigaret dance hour beginning Tuesday, went to school at Wimbledon, England, when he was 12 but was graduated from Notre Dame after coming to this country.

Frank Parker, Gypsy tenor, is taking lessons in piloting an autogiro. Larry Abbott, saxophonist with the Gypsies, has survived three airplane crashes. David Guion is bashful but knows all the tricks of riding a bucking horse.

Schenley High Band On WCAE

William Smith, zoology instructor at Schenley High School and the Schenley High Band are heard during the Sun-Telegraph Family broadcast from WCAE today from 4:45 to 5:15.

James J. Long, sports columnist of the Sun-Telegraph, comments on activities and news in the world of sport during his weekly review from WCAE tonight at 7.

Estella Tuite and Robert Topping, vocal soloists are featured with David Levins orchestra and Herb McGee, master of ceremonies, in the Nite Club on WCAE tonight. The program is given in two sections, from 11 to 11:30 and from 12 to 12:30 a. m.

Marshall Hamilton, graduate of the Philadelphia Naval School, is guest speaker during the Sun-Telegraph Boys' Club on WCAE tomorrow morning at 11:45 with Jim Hays, director.

Due to a network program on WCAE tomorrow from 12 noon to 1 p. m., the usual 12:15 p. m. news broadcast by Louis J. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, will be omitted. He will be heard as usual at 9:05 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Grain Corporation Seeks Sales Pact

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—Directors of the government financed Farmers' National Grain Corporation met in closed session today to consider approval of sales agreements among Southwest co-operatives with the aim of facilitating the handling of millions of bushels of the new wheat crop.

No official announcement was made following the meeting which was to be resumed tomorrow, but the Tribune said it has learned drastic steps were taken to mold into a single force all the farmers co-operative marketing groups that have joined the Farm Board setup.

SUN-TELEGRAPH WANT-AD

MOVIE LOVERS CONTEST

—CLUES—

Distributed throughout the classified advertising in this and contiguous pages of today's Sun-Telegraph you will find the titles of several popular motion picture plays. One of the titles is the correct answer for Movie Lovers Contest Picture No. 5, herewith printed. Which is the correct title? Find it and write the name below the contest picture. Do not submit any pictures until the end of the contest.

CONTEST PICTURE NO. 5

The correct title of this picture is:

Important Notice—
You Can Start Today

For the benefit of readers who failed to get the first four Contest Pictures they will be reprinted in next Sunday's Sun-Telegraph. You have No. 5 herewith, No. 6 will be printed tomorrow and with the first four reprinted next Sunday you will have the complete set to date.

You Have An Opportunity to Win as High as $500.00 in One Prize—148 Prizes in All

Open to everyone—men and women, boys and girls, living in Pittsburgh or within 100 miles of Pittsburgh. You must, however, register to enter. It isn't too late to send in your name on the blank below or on a copy of this blank. Bear in mind you cannot win unless you try, and these liberal prizes are more than worth trying for in these days of widespread depression.

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES—READ THE PRIZE LISTS

(1) The Movie Lovers contest will consist of a series of 40 cartoons to appear in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph one each day for 40 consecutive publication days—starting Monday, June 6th. The contestants are to find the correct title for each picture from a list of motion picture titles that will be printed every day, scattered among the WANT ADS every day throughout the life of this contest. More lists of answers will not be accepted as an entry. The answers must be accompanied by the pictures you think and answers represent. Do not submit any pictures or answers until the entire set of 40 has been printed. Entrants are advised against an elaborate arrangement in submitting entries. Remember, the awards will be made for correctness of identity of the pictures, correct spelling of titles in your entry and neatness. Misspelled titles in your entry will be counted as total error.

(2) The contest is open to everyone living in Pittsburgh or within 100 miles of Pittsburgh, with the exception of employees of the Sun-Telegraph and of WCAE, Incorporated, or any member of their families.

(3) As explained in the list of prizes herewith printed there are three divisions or classes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to the Sun-Telegraph to compete for one of the Class A prizes. The Class B prizes are open to entrants

Lynn's New Admirer Is More Interested in Radio Than Banking

CHAPTER III

Lynn, unaware of that fleeting scrutiny, said: "You were awfully sure of me, weren't you?"

Tom denied it, laughing. "No, your error. Awfully sure of myself; of what I want. I couldn't wait till breakfast. Look here, you don't dislike me or anything, do you? I mean, we were introduced properly—and all that."

"Even if you didn't remember?"

"Check," he admitted imperturbably. "And I—don't spare my feelings—am I the sort of fellow no nice girl ever goes out to dinner with?"

"Don't be ridiculous," she ordered, reddening.

Now they were hurrying through the doors; now they were out on the street. Tom signaled a taxi.

Lynn asked thrilled: "Can't we walk or take a bus?"

"Oh, Lord, a practical woman!" He helped her into the cab and settled himself beside her. He said: "This is an occasion. After you get to know me better I'll permit you to save me money."

His voice was grave, his eyes danced. She felt suddenly self-conscious. What an idiot he must think her. No he did not think her an idiot. He thought her a very pretty girl, and she knew it. He said so immediately. He said something he had been thinking ever since he had seen her at the cafeteria counter.

"It's a shrieking shame that pretty girls have to work."

"What about homely ones?" asked Lynn, delighted.

LIKES HER TYPE

He liked her. He liked her a lot. His kind of girl; cute as a trick, a regular honey, intelligent as the devil, a sense of humor. He liked her the better for not exclaiming: "Oh, Mr. Shepard, do you really think I'm pretty?" or something equally inane. He answered, lighting a cigaret and offering her his case.

"Have a fag." Homely girls—well, I'm sorry for them, but I don't give a hoot whether they work or not."

"No, thanks. I don't smoke much. After coffee perhaps."

"That's good." He put the case away.

She asked curiously: "You don't mean to say that you object?"

"Well, no, why should I." Personally, I don't like stained fingers," he admitted. "I meant that girls who have to have their cigarets in taxis and in theater lobbies are so expensive! You see, even if they smoke your brand," he confided, "they always feel it their duty to order another kind."

"You haven't much use for girls?"

"Not any more. In the plural," said Tom.

"Do you know where you're going?" asked the driver suddenly.

They regarded him blankly. Tom remembered that when the driver had inquired "Where to?" he had merely waved a vague hand in the downtown direction.

Laughter in the taxi. The driver grinned. He knew how it was.

REACH DESTINATION

Tom said: "I know a little place in the Village. Leaning forward, he gave the address.

One agreed the driver.

Off Fifth avenue, the little place. Up a flight of brownstone steps. Small tables, dim light, a radio, a fat proprietor in a morning coat. Haven't seen you for a long time, Mr. Shepard.

Cocktails. They're very good, promised Tom. Right off the boat. Fishing smack, Staten Island ferryboat, passage to Welfare Island. Who knows."

When the small frosted glasses came Tom raised his and looked at Lynn over the rim. "Here's mud in your eye," he said. "And now I'll let Mike there order. It's less trouble. You like veal don't you? Well, if you don't you'll learn to. Broccoli? I thought so. And some of that fluffy stuff in glasses with a kick in it. And coffee. Large. I hope." He regarded her anxiously.

She confessed to a liking for large coffee with hot milk and cream.

"Swell," said her host in great contentment. "Now that's done. Tell me all about yourself, so I can reciprocate. I promise to curb my impatience while you spin your yarn. Then I'll tell one."

"There isn't much," she told him laughing and spoke briefly of home and her people, of her boredom at the university, of her sense that she was wasting time. And of her arrival in New York, Sarah Dennet's protegee.

EXPLAINS ABOUT CLUB

"Do you live with her?" Tom asked, attacking the antipasto.

"No, I live in a business club for girls."

"Sounds awful," commented Tom. "Henhouse or chicken coop?"

"Chicken coop, I fancy. They throw you out when you're 30."

Tom was silent, visualizing thousands of women of 30 hurtling down the steps of the club, fleeing homeless into the night. "Hard luck," he said, "but you have about 18 years to go, haven't you."

She replied primly: "I'm 22."

"I'm 23," said Tom, in a reflective manner.

They viewed each other across the table. Forty-five years between them. The waiter removed the antipasto and brought on the minestrone.

It looks like such a lot," said Lynn.

Elegant soup," praised Tom. "When I'm broke I order minestrone and it stays by me all day."

He wanted to know all about the club. Lynn told him, selfishly. Yes they had meals there, breakfast, cafeteria style, and dinner. Dinner was chicken Sundays and hashed chicken Mondays, and lamb on Tuesdays and lamb hash on Wednesdays.

"Don't tell me any more," begged Tom. "You poor kid."

But she went on laughing a little. "We've a radio. And a phonograph. We have to be in at 11:30 or do a lot of expert explaining. We've a parlor where we can receive gentlemen visitors. She looked at him, her head on one side, gray eyes shining through black lashes. "The visitors have to meet the directress and there's an awful rush to see who gets the couch in the corner, if more than one girl is entertaining. It's great fun," she added, remembering young Wilkins and one or two others.

INTERESTED IN RADIO

"Let's," said Tom, sighing. "Well, we'll spend our time at the movies then. Do you skate? That's one of you. Well, skate. Bus ride. Now and then we'll see a good show. Oh," mourned Tom, quickly—oh, for the good old days when every girl had a back parlor for her personal use and the family could sit in the kitchen."

This was skimming over surfaces and they contemplated each other briefly, confronted so soon by the changing standards and living conditions for young people who at 22 and 23 like each other very much and do not possess back parlors and complaisant parents.

"Your turn," Lynn reminded him.

"No, not yet. What about this bank business? You don't really like it, do you," he asked.

"I'm crazy about it."

He said a little self-consciously: "I didn't listen. I'm afraid when your department was first explained to me, so I asked old Gunboat about it."

"Gunboat?"

"Norton. Did you ever look at his shoes?" I asked him today. He was tickled silly. He thought I was beginning to take an interest in the organization in a way he was right. Do you mean to tell me that you expect to sit at a desk for the next 40 years looking up the annual rates of cribs and things?" he demanded.

Of course I don't expect to," she told him. "There are other jobs. Better ones. I'm mad about the work. I'm going to start courses at Columbia nights in February, going to learn all I can. I like the whole atmosphere of the place."

That's more than I do. Oh, well, what's the use of beating my gums? I couldn't go on with what I wanted to do and that's that. Only he glittered at her.

I've been taking night courses, too."

Oh, Tom!" She regarded him, delighted. She did not know that she had called him Tom. If she had known she would not have cared, about to call him anything else.

Banking?"

No radio at the Y. M. C. A.

Radio.

It comes natural to me," he confessed. "Gee I'm nuts about it. I could eat it up! I started to get my M. E. degree at Sheff. You know. Radio Girl. I've a set I built myself at my rooms that will get anything from here to Heaven and sometimes when the static is bad a bit of the other place, too. You'll have to come and listen to it."

She said, instantly: "I'd love to. I suppose you're always tearing it to pieces. Father has one. It's his only hobby. It never works because he's always doing something to it."

I know a guy up in the U. B. C. control room," Tom told her. "I sneak up there a lot, and gosh it's great stuff." His eyes were suddenly wistful. "Well such is life. It's always the way. Rising young banker longs to be a radio service man."

She argued with animation. "But banking! That's constructive, marvelous, necessary. A grand job. I think. Your finger on the pulse of the world."

Like a ticker tape," he demanded. "Not for mine! Radio—ish! that constructive, too? Gee Lynn, they don't know the half of it yet. They're only just beginning. It has such unlimited possibilities."

His eyes were blazing with enthusiasm. He ruffled his hair so that it stood in crests and waves, untidy, attractive.

Synopsis

Lynn Harding 22 and beautiful is ambitious for a career in the Seacoast Bank and Trust Company. She lives at a girl's club but its institutional atmosphere annoys her. Breakfasting one morning, she meets Tom Shepard, confidential secretary to the vice president of the trust department. That evening she finds Tom waiting for her. He insists upon taking her to dinner.

Now Go On

Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Has Trying Session With Mother Graham

We came to the balustrade of the balcony and my mother-in-law pointed a dramatic tube-finger toward the pasture land opposite the barn.

There they go!" she elucidated. "Call them at once!"

I'm sorry, mother," I said, knowing that the protest was useless but wishing to gain all the time possible, "but I'm sure it would be futile for anyone except a radio announcer with a microphone before him to attempt to make them hear now. They are too far off."

UNSUCCESSFUL

"I am not aware, Margaret," my mother-in-law retorted in her best Vere-de-Vere manner, "that I asked you for any comment upon the distance the children have traveled. I simply wished you to call them as loudly as you can for, as I told you, my voice is not strong enough to reach them."

Oh! I'll try, of course, mother," I said mentally estimating that Dicky and the boys were getting a step farther away with every word I uttered, and then I gave an apparently involuntary little cough and cleared my throat after it before calling in a voice apparently loud but which I knew had no carrying power.

"Junior! Roderick! Dicky!"

They don't hear me!" I turned to my mother-in-law in simulated astonishment.

I am not stone blind yet," she said caustically, "and I do not need any information upon that point. You would much better save your breath to call again, and put some force into it the next time. Call again!"

Her voice was imperative and I obediently let mine out in a shrill scream of the three names.

TELLS ABOUT MESSAGE

Don't do any more of that caterwauling!" she exclaimed sharply. "I can see that it doesn't do a bit of good, and it certainly will split the ears of anybody close by. They're gone beyond recall, thanks to your foolishness. You can settle Richard quickly enough if it's anything that you don't want to have happen. But if it's a case of my wishes, that's something different."

I knew better than to protest, and in the present instance I felt guiltily that it would be hypocritical to do so. Indeed, instead of consulting her wishes, I had taken particular pains to see that they were not obeyed, and now I waited meekly for whatever oral castigation she might see fit to give me. But it was her lofty, not her truculent manner which the next deployed against me.

As you cannot reach them, and as we can do nothing now except watch what happens, I wonder if it is against your principles to tell me what this is all about."

No indeed, mother," I said. "Do you see that white something on the fence across the pasture?"

She shaded her eyes and looked from underneath her hand in the direction I had indicated.

Yes, I do," she said. "What about it?"

It's a message of some kind from the Chinese, we think," I said. "It was not there when Henry and William"—I deferred to Mother Graham's well-known penchant for using full names instead of diminutives—"went into the barn a few minutes ago and five minutes later when they came out again it was plainly in sight."

SUDDEN FRIGHT

What were those loafers doing, the ones your father's paying out good money to for guarding the place?" she demanded. "It's a pretty how-do-you-do if those devils can get near enough to the farm to put anything up like that."

I forbore to remind her that it would take a company of militia constantly to guard the large borderline which was being patrolled by the men my father had ordered sent down from the city. All I could do was to remind her that an iron cordon was thrown around the farm house.

And yet, when I remembered the imitation call of the whippoorwill, with Chinese sounds mingled with its notes, which had sounded just outside the library window in a message to the wounded Chinese, I was not as sure that the iron cordon did not contain a large alloy of weaker metal.

But she was not listening to me. She suddenly clutched my arm with such vehemence that my flesh bore the marks of her fingers for hours afterwards.

Look!" she said affrightedly. "Look out at the other end of the field!"

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Today marks the opening of "Pittsburgh on Parade" at the Stanley Theater. This lavish revue is made up of Pittsburghers, with more than 150 people in the cast, nearly 100 of whom are little boys and girls who have at one time or another entertained the members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club.

In fact, more than 75 of the youngsters are members of this organization, and while, from time to time, we have told you about all of the many talents, not until they were all assembled into one big revue, working with a large orchestra, able direction and various lighting effects, was it possible for the average person to really judge the amazing way that these boys and girls perform. A complete review of "Pittsburgh on Parade" will be found in Sunday's Sun-Telegraph.

Tomorrow at the Cameraphone Theater meeting of the Komic Club a board of judges will select the boy who will act as the official Cameraphone Chapter Junior Komic Club Clown. The boy selected will have an official part in the regular meetings every week.

If you are not a member of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club send your name and address, name of your parents, school you attend, date and year of your birth to the Secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card and button will be mailed you. Or you may join at the Warner theaters listed below.

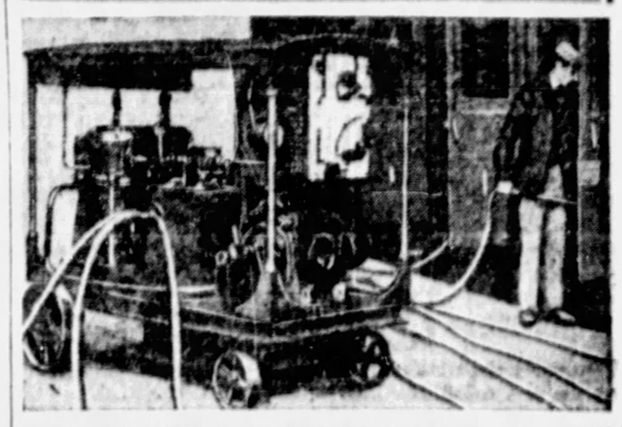
You Can't Think Clean Thoughts in a Dirty Phone Booth



Health officials declare that Public Telephone Booths are full of germs—not to mention bolts, rusty nails, chewing gum and guys who keep talking for hours. This is an unhealthy situation with which inventors have little or no patience. In fact they have perfected the Busy Bee Handy Portable Telephone Booth Cleaner Outer, shown above, and if you are any kind of a citizen you will carry one with you when you go to the drug store or the depot to phone. Your druggist will gladly provide you with cyanide, in five-gallon containers, to deal with any particularly obnoxious germ who occupies the booth for an unreasonable length of time.

Dear Sympathetic Aunt Bella—

What is the meaning of the term "and-or?" —Anxious.

Ans.—The term is frequently used in deeds and other papers to indicate that the purchaser may take all of the property described, or any part of it, or he may take the whole or any part of it, as he may elect. Webster is authority for this definition.

Payroll Padding

Some Tangible Evidence Is Produced in Support of a Charge That Has Long Been Heard.

The investigators who are delving into charges of waste and corruption by county officials under the old regime have struck what gives promise of being a rich vein of "pay dirt" in the testimony adduced yesterday to the effect that 22 men never observed working drew pay from the county regularly at one of the branch offices of the road department.

One of the commonest charges against the machine that formerly controlled the county government was that it padded the payroll with drones who took the taxpayers' money but gave no service in return. Gossip had it that county jobs requiring no work were habitually given to henchmen of the machine as a reward for political services.

There were some charges made by Commissioners C. C. McGovern and C. M. Barr during the campaign last year that will bear investigation in this connection.

Barr said that William Direr, campaign manager for the late County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, and his chief clerk for years, drew $150,000 a month, or $1,800,000 every year, from the county treasury and placed the amount to his own private account in a bank. Out of this he paid the employes of the county department of public works.

McGovern asserted that the payroll books that were supposed to be signed by the employes drawing this money were a mass of fraud and forgery, showing the payment of thousands upon thousands of dollars upon different signatures, but all in the same handwriting.

An opportunity now is offered to go into this and other campaign charges equally serious.

District Attorney Park was reproached during the campaign for his lack of interest in the charges.

He is no longer showing lack of interest; he or one of his assistants is now in frequent attendance at the hearings conducted by the official investigators.

The grand jury seems certain to take cognizance of the plundering of the taxpayers.

Extra Session Needed

Condition of the State's Finances in Itself Justifies a Meeting of the Legislature.

Rural members of the Legislature, meeting in Harrisburg, have questioned the need for another special session of the Legislature.

They are no doubt influenced in raising the question by the fact that farmers are not suffering from the depression to the same extent as city dwellers.

What a pity that the rural legislators cannot take a broader view and be willing to help the unemployed even though they do live in the cities!

The subordination of narrow selfish interests to the general good was never more desirable.

Apart from the desirability of granting unemployment relief, there is need for another special session in the bad condition of the state's finances.

The commonwealth's revenues have fallen off alarmingly, and something must be done about it at once.

Whether the corrective action takes the form of abolition of some of the bureaus at Harrisburg and reduction of the salaries of state employes, or of the imposition of new taxes, or of a judicious blending of both plans, it is incumbent on the Legislature to act.

Liquidating of Banks

The Delay in Distribution of Assets of Closed Institutions Ultimately Will Benefit Depositors

There has been a good deal of criticism of the State Banking Department for its slowness in distributing the assets of closed local banks among depositors. The delay in receiving their money has been a hardship to the depositors, and they cannot be blamed for complaining.

An explanation for the delay has now come from an authentic source. It offers some justification for the slowness with which the closed banks are being liquidated.

The Secretary of Banking, it is stated, has found it extremely difficult to collect many of the loans made by the banks. Of course, if mortgaged land or other collateral were to be sold at give-away prices it would be possible quickly to wind up the banks and pay the depositors. As it is, the delay, while unfortunate, will ultimately redound to the benefit of the depositors by permitting larger dividends than could be distributed if the banks' assets were to be summarily sold for what they would bring, regardless of how little it should be.

This is the explanation that is offered for the delay.

It is a pity that the State Banking Department does not take the public more fully into its confidence in respect to this business.

Depositors would be reassured if frequent statements were issued concerning the progress of the liquidation, and criticism of the department would be less bitter.

Engelsberg's Good Work

Hill District Politician's Interest in the Welfare of Prisoners Has Not Waned.

Joseph Engelsberg, formerly a Republican ward chairman in the Hill district, served six months in jail recently for an offense against prohibition. On being released he said he intended to forget all about the jail and his prison sentence, to blot it from his life and his memory.

The Sun-Telegraph had heard that Engelsberg, while in jail, had interested himself in the welfare of the prisoners. He brought books from his home as the nucleus of a library, directed the reading of the men who were interested, and gave them helpful advice on the improvement of their education.

We suggested, accordingly, that Engelsberg try to overcome his natural repugnance against having anything more whatever to do with the jail and keep up his good work. It is a pleasure to learn that he has done so.

Three weeks after his release Engelsberg visited the jail to find out what use was being made of his library, now grown to 2,000 volumes, and to offer some suggestions.

Well done.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Man's Fear-Complex

One of the strangest and most inexplicable things about many a big he-man is his fear of women.

* * *

The average man is always living in terror of some woman—his wife, his secretary, or the woman who is trying to marry him.

* * *

At the altar, it is not the bride, but the bridegroom, who trembles, stutters and goes weak in the knees. And requires a bracer and four ushers to get him to the church.

After marriage, a man's fear sometimes develops into a positive complex. If the average good, devoted husband bore an Indian name, it probably would be "Big-Chief-Afraid-of-His-Wife."

* * *

Why do married men creep up the stairs when they come home late? Why do they chew cloves and "breath-killers," when they've taken a drink? Why do they invent alibis and "sick friends" and "conferences?"

* * *

"Men were deceivers ever!" But men do not set out deliberately and cold-bloodedly to deceive women. They are simply AFRAID to tell any woman the plain, unvarnished truth, unless it is something that she wants to hear!

* * *

The worst woman on earth will hesitate to lie to the man she loves. But the best of men will lie to the woman he loves, sooner than to anybody else on earth!

Simply because it is easier to lie to a woman than to tell her that you no longer love her, or that you never did love her, or that you've lost all your money in a foolish deal or that you forgot to mail her letter or left your umbrella at the office or took the new stenographer out to lunch.

* * *

It is easier to promise to marry a girl and then sneak off somewhere out of reach, than to tell her that you are already married or that you wouldn't marry her on a bet.

* * *

Funny, but among the younger generation, where men understand women better, they seem to have less fear and awe of the female-of-the-species. It was the "sweet, old-fashioned" woman, who had men buffaloed. The stronger and wiser women become, the less men seem to be afraid of them. But, a small boy still flees from women for fear they will kiss him—and a grown man still flees from them for fear they will marry him!

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 10.—Thoughts while strolling Park avenue's 10 a. m. stir: The drift to beauty parlors. Style scouts. Ronka Dolly. And her new husband, "T." Netcher's brother, Irving. Flappers giving the new Cafe de la Paix a play. That glamorous wanness of the synthetically slim.

Peter B. Kyne's owl-like solemnity. One of my favorite people—Irene Castle. That lad, Glenway Westcott, spreads a mean quill. Overheard: "Capital is picking at the covers." Charles B. Driscoll, a Wichita (Kan.) boy, who made good in the city. A long time since Broadway has seen Willie Collier.

A lady with bright-carmined ear lobes. Believe I'll give my hair a middle part and bust out in a puff tie. Editor Keats Speed—descendant of the poet Keats. And what a dignified imprint poetry left on the venerable Edwin Markham. Lupe Velez's shadow, Bertram Taylor. Once afire for Gertrude Lawrence.

Fannie Hurst and Charles G. Norris have the same sort of haircuts. Intimates of Mayor Walker do not call him Jimmy. They call him Jim. O, yes. Charlie Norris and Lawrence Tibbett could swap mustaches and no one would know. The first and second Mrs. Lawrence Tibbetts look alike, too.

Soft languorous days such as this make me think of Valley Stream, L. I., for no reason at all. Lyda Roberti's pulled taffy hair. It's about time they were starring Madge Evans. She's running away with every role. Everywhere you go, you see the Frank Vance Storrs. Ubiquitous is the word.

Anyone want to join my Hiss League to razz news shots of jumping races? Where is the S. P. C. A. anyway? Jimmy Cunningham, the pro swimmer, who stands near old Rector's every dusk—wind, rain or snow. Appleton, Wisconsin's pride—Edna Ferber. Overheard: "She has the frozen purity of an Arctic night."

Sign: "All the orange juice you can drink—10 cents." Let's fill Frank McIntyre to the brim and pass him around! Whatever became of La Belle Titcomb and her white horse? J. Harold Murray's merry twinkle. Cheap burlesque picking at the coverlets. Envoi! But the flea circus goes on forever.

Comic opera seems to brew, like Ponce de Leon's fabled spring, a potent elixir of longevity. In an era 30 years ago the field was dominated by four male stars—Francis Wilson, DeWolf Hopper, Jefferson DeAngelis and Frank Daniels. All are alive today—in excellent shape physically and mentally and, unlike most improvident stage folk, financially. The combined ages of these four veterans must be more than 300 years. Wilson and Hopper have added cheerful notes to my dossier now and then, revealing a sprightly interest in topics of the day.

Returning an hour later, he exclaimed: "Great Jehosophat! The kid weighs 52 pounds."

The fad in fish pets for the moment is the tropical Goopy—from Trinidad and Jamaica—dubbed the "goofy." The female is about half the size of a child's finger and the male is half that size. Every six weeks the female spawns from four to 10 young, the size of a quarter of a pin. They must be taken from the bowl, or the canabalistic mothers eat them. The Goopy dies in fresh water. Mature, they are pretty, lively and a rainbow of color, thriving best in tepid water. Many families keep them in bowls on radiators. Water is changed only when murky. Department stores, as well as fish stores, sell them at 50 cents each.

A standing rule on the old Herald—a pronunciamento from Bennett in Paris—that there should be a dog story on Page One every Monday. The rule was disobeyed but once when a big ship disaster crowded everything else off the page. The city editor, an honor graduate of Oxford with a pedantically pointed beard, found his dereliction the proverbial banana peel for the heel of a savant, tossing him for the loss of a $150 a week job.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

I wonder if idle women can be good women.

I wonder if all these loafing ladies I see loitering around are really worth the upkeep some man's paying.

Mind you, I'm not saying they can't or aren't. I'm just wondering. And that's reasonable, for idle women are a new phenomenon to me. Matter of fact, they're a fairly new phenomenon to the world.

Back in the 80's and 90's, when I took off, females were still supposed to qualify as useful citizens. Of course some of the girls were tramps. Some of the girls have always been tramps. But the majority of 'em held down jobs, just as men did.

If you were a youngster you played around, but you also got ready to dig in! You learned how to sew and cook and keep house, and having learned, you were expected to get busy and to put on a regular performance as wife and mother. Which most of us did.

Some of us, naturally, had an easier time than others. Some of us could afford maids to help in the home; some of us couldn't. But, regardless of wealth or social status, I can't remember a young woman of my acquaintance who couldn't or didn't stir up a cake, or starch a shirtwaist, or mind her own baby whenever needed.

Nor did that mean that we were shackled to drudgery. Ladies were people, even before they had votes, and they managed to flit and flutter considerably between domestic chores. But an absolutely idle female, married or unmarried, was practically unheard of.

Femmes who just gadded about were either shiftless or—Sh-h! Sh-h!

In short, an idle woman had exactly the same rating as an idle man, which was only one grade removed from that of a common hoss thief.

But nowadays—lady loafers are as common as woodticks in May, and, I suspect, just about as big a blight on the body politic. Every apartment house, every hotel lobby, every department store or movie is jammed with them, lollygagging around, killing time, trying to start a little amusement for themselves, or dig up a thrill.

In fact, if you're a smart girl, you're supposed to be idle and stay that way. "Only saps work" has become the smart feminine slogan of 1932. Girls were born to "be glorified," not to fill jobs, and any poor thing who has to earn a living, either by working in an office or in her husband's home, is regarded with big moans of pity both by herself and the rest of the female sex.

Which, of course, we might have expected. Look at our films! Read our popular magazines! Do you behold our beautiful heroine at the gas range, the kitchen sink, the sewing machine, the market counter? No, you don't. Unless she's a nitwit, Mazie, the Beautiful Cloak Girl, invariably ends by loafing around in a penthouse negligee or a Miami fig leaf.

So bright gals in 1932 do nothing—and do it all the time. Wherefore I'm moved to ponder—just where do they go from here? What happens to the female sex if you turn it into a tramp?

I know what happens to a man if he is idle. He goes to the dogs. I know what would happen to me if I were idle. I would raise Cain.

So—what's the answer?

Can a woman be a play girl, and still know the value of work; know the meaning of patience, courage, self sacrifice, loyalty, cooperation?

Can females be loafers, and still be self-respecting citizens, reliable wives, real mothers?

ARE IDLE WOMEN WORTH THEIR UPKEEP, OR ARE THEY COMMON TRAMPS?

Text for Today And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.—James, v:15.

Trying to Compromise With Necessity

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The merits of their demand aside, there is questionable wisdom in the action of the "bonus army" in marching on the capital with a threat. Whenever government succumbs to a threat, government abdicates. And real statesmen, who may be convinced by reasonable methods, will not tolerate a demand. The danger in such marches lies in the fact that however careful the sponsors may be, they collect all sorts and conditions of men. Thus Communists, calling themselves veterans, are marching on Washington ostensibly to demand the "bonus," but really to cause trouble.

The merits of the bonus and the demerits are well known. They have been thoroughly canvassed. Nothing will be added to the sum total of knowledge by the camping of from five to ten thousand unfortunate men outside the city. Infinite damage may be done. That is the reason that the leaders of the bonus fight in Congress are greatly distressed because of the "march."

The marchers move on Washington to demand a "bonus" because they are out of work; if all who are out of work moved, there would be close to ten million. And that would amount to revolution.

Unless government has abdicated, Congress will act upon the bonus on its judgment without fear from threats. The veterans have done their cause more harm than good by the methods of some of the marchers.

* * *

Others Lead—The President Follows

The restoration of prosperity depends on finding work for all the men who are jobless, whether they are veterans or not. The interest of the veterans is tied up with that of all the rest. We are in favor of an adequate prosperity loan, but we are not in favor of the jobless marching on Washington in an attempt to intimidate.

Public sentiment has done enough to make certain the adoption of some method of unemployment relief without any physical demonstration. The facts have done the marching. These facts are marching still—the line lengthening. The demands of welfare organizations have been more impressive than lobbying.

This week the Garner bill has passed in the House—providing a bond issue to create work, and the Wagner bill in the Senate may also pass this week. It is because of the certainty of the passage of these measures that Mr. Hoover has finally evolved a plan of his own. Others lead—he follows. But he follows in this instance for the purpose of making the relief plans to be adopted as bromidic as possible.

* * *

Depression Is Not Stationary

The administration still believes in "business as usual"—and the trouble is that there is scarcely any business at all. There is no business because there is no purchasing power in the thirty-six million people involved in unemployment. There will be no purchasing power, and consequently little business, until these men get work. And depression is not stationary—it either begins to lift or to deepen. It is deepening, because nothing has been done by the national government to stimulate employment.

Mr. Hoover proposes to give no work, however desirable it may be, or however necessary to meet the necessities, unless the work pays in money. This cuts out road building, which offers the best field for employment on a large scale. And he does not have enough confidence in the future of America to bond a loan. He cannot understand that we are in more peril now than during any war.

Think of it!—in days of peace the taxes, just levied, are heavier than when we were in the War of the World. This is a greater war than we ever waged; but our rulers imagine we can win this war without resorting to any of the drastic methods necessary in the less serious wars of battlefields.

* * *

The Hoover Plan Will Not Pass

But the President has concluded that money may be loaned to prevent starvation—provided it is paid back to the national government by states and municipalities. It is possible that states and municipalities, up against the same deficits as the federal government, may be no more inclined to assume the burden than the nation's government at Washington. The welfare organizations have been utterly swamped. Unless there is governmental aid of some sort the people will starve. The hungry are not much impressed by the passing of the buck between governmental units.

Organized society, represented by the federal government, is now put to the test, in the minds of millions. If Congress adjourns with nothing done, we are afraid there will be more marching on the capital. We don't want that to happen.

The Hoover plan will not pass Congress. The Garner bill has passed the House; the Wagner bill will pass the Senate; and in conference a compromise may be reached. The bill that reaches the President will be better than his own. If he vetoes the measure passed, the responsibility will rest on him—and it will be a heavy burden.

* * *

What Was Lacking!

Mr. Hoover has been pushed on the unemployment problem. He pulls backward as he steps forward.

And so, too, with the prohibition question, which is causing more immediate concern to the White House than unemployment.

Only a short while ago Mr. Hoover was still as dry as the Anti-Saloon League. Four months ago he was wildly cheered at a meeting of that organization.

But in the meanwhile the facts have marched—and the line has lengthened all the while. The President cannot hope for the electoral votes of such states as New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Rhode Island on an Anti-Saloon League platform. That is the reason for the conferences of the platform makers. The strategy of these platform makers is to frame a plank that will seem wet and yet be dry.

But Mr. Hoover has passed his opportunity.

When the tax bill was pending, and the administration was exploring every avenue to revenue, the most promising of all was utterly ignored. In looking for new things to tax, it forgot the old thing to which other nations resort for a goodly portion of their revenue.

Mr. Hoover could have gone before Congress personally with a message setting forth the extreme seriousness of the situation, the necessity for balancing the budget, the enormous tax drain on business enterprise and individuals to raise the money. He could have admitted that prohibition, as it is, has not prohibited. He could have stated what he knows—that it cannot be enforced. And he could have proposed the legalization of light wines and beer for revenue purposes that would have brought in hundreds of millions in revenue and given employment to hundreds of thousands of the jobless.

Had he had the courage, the leadership, to have pursued this course Congress would have acted, and the tax burden on the people next year would have been greatly lightened.

Was it courage that was lacking? Or leadership? Or is Mr. Hoover at heart a prohibitionist of the Anti-Saloon League variety still?

* * *

Millions Will Remember Where He Failed

The vote in the House on this very plan was so close that the change of 22 votes would have put it through. Had Herbert Hoover merely stated the bare unescapable facts in a message, with a recommendation, more than 22, who are looking for an excuse to shift, would have shifted.

Whatever is put in the platform on which the President runs this fall, millions will remember where he failed, and in failing rendered no real service to the taxpayers of the country.
